

University of California San Francisco-- Achieving Institutional Culture Change to Create a Diverse, Equitable and Inclusive Learning Environment

Through our Differences Matter initiative, we created programs to support diversity, equity and belonging across the institution with the purpose of making the University of California San Francisco (UCSF) School of Medicine a destination where innovative minds from any background can thrive as we tackle healthcare's most challenging problems. We will share our most effective strategies to create culture change through accountability and transparency at a large institution.

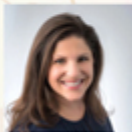

Katherine Julian, MD

She/her/hers
Professor of Medicine
Associate Dean for Graduate Medical Education
Designated Institutional Official
UCSF School of Medicine

Michelle Guy, MD

She/her/ella
Clinical Professor of Medicine
Director of Diversity for Graduate Medical Education
Diplomate American Board of Obesity Medicine
University of California San Francisco

Kristina Sullivan, MD

She/her/hers
Clinical Professor of Anesthesia
Director of Education and Assessment, GME
University of California San Francisco

