CAS-special recognition- awards

Friday 19 January 2024 15:40 (20 minutes)

Collaboration among institutes has been a central part of CAS courses. The school has been very fortunate to have dedicated lecturers who have continuously worked towards spreading knowledge of accelerator science.

CAS lecturers form an open community, and we are proud to have a growing number of lecturers from other institutes. Their contribution to the school is significant and highly appreciated. That is why we wanted to thank lecturers who have been strongly involved with CAS during the last years.
