

Muhammad ASADUZZAMAN

His name is Muhammad Asaduzzaman and he is from Bangladesh. Muhammad is currently studying a Master's Degree in Dhaka University.

This summer he has been working for the ALICE experiment in the Section Physics Analysis and Performance (PH-AIP-PAP). His project focuses on analysing the jet shape and fragmentation function in different energy range.

His main goal after his internship at CERN is getting involved in High-Energy Physics research (HEP).