

Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity

REPORT ON ACTIVITIES OF THE SECRETARIAT ON THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE WORK PROGRAMME OF THE CONVENTION ON BIOLOGICAL DIVERSITY AND ITS CARTAGENA PROTOCOL ON BIOSAFETY

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The present report provides a summary of the main activities undertaken by the Secretariat from January to December 2008 in the implementation of the work programme of the Convention.

2. During the reporting period, the Secretariat organized a total of 67 meetings (see annex I). A total of 338 pre-session and information documents were prepared, amounting to 6,540 pages. The Secretariat serviced six major inter-sessional meetings, under the Convention and its Protocol, which gathered 7,448 participants, with 484 delegates sponsored under the Convention, including representatives from the indigenous and local communities. These meetings include:

- The sixth meeting of the Ad Hoc Open-ended Working Group on Access and Benefit Sharing, held in Geneva;
- The second meeting of the Ad Hoc Open-ended Working on Protected Areas, back-to-back with the thirteenth meeting of the Subsidiary Body on Scientific, Technical and Technological Advice held in Rome;
- The fifth meeting of the Open-ended Ad Hoc Working Group of Legal and Technical Experts on Liability and Redress in the context of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety, which took place in Cartagena, Colombia;
- The fourth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention serving as the meeting of the Parties to the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety, held in Bonn back-to-back with the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity.

3. In addition to its daily meetings during relevant meetings, five meetings of the Bureau of the Conference of the Parties were convened. They took place on: 20 January in Geneva; 10 February in Rome; 18 May in Bonn, 4-5 October in Barcelona; and 26-27 November in Berlin. Moreover, the Bureau of the Conference of the Parties serving as the meeting of the Parties to the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety held four meetings, and the Bureau of the Subsidiary Body on Scientific, Technical and Technological Advice (SBSTTA) held three formal meetings. For the first time, a joint meeting of the Bureau of the Conference of the Parties and the SBSTTA Bureau was also held.

II. ENHANCING PARTNERSHIP AND COLLABORATION

4. During the reporting period, the Executive Secretary met with senior staff from the United Nations, as well as with relevant partner organizations, with the aim of further enhancing collaboration. Meetings were also held to establish partnership with other organizations and institutions, which resulted to the signature of a number of memoranda of agreements/cooperation. A list of meetings with heads of agencies/organizations and other events attended by the Secretariat is available in annex II below. A list of agreements signed by the Secretariat in 2008 is available in annex III. A full list of current memoranda of cooperation is available on the Secretariat website (<http://www.cbd.int/cooperation/mou-moc.shtml>).

A. Partnership with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) as the host organization

5. As of the end of November 2008, the Executive Secretary sent 146 memoranda to the Executive Director of UNEP to brief him on the activities being carried out by the Secretariat. UNEP continues to provide support staff to the work of the Convention, in particular for promoting the biodiversity agenda in Europe, by providing a part-time Liaison Officer based in Europe, as well as provide financial support for the Joint Liaison Officer with the United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD) in New York.

6. The Secretariat participated in the UNEP and UNEP MEA Staff Opinion Survey conducted in April 2008. A number of staff gathered in the main conference room in the offices of the Secretariat to watch the Town Hall meeting through live webcast from Nairobi on the results of the survey. The Managing Director of MANNET, the company that conducted the survey, also visited the Secretariat to discuss the staff survey in more detail. A follow-up survey is expected in 2009.

7. In April 2008, the Executive Secretary participated in the first UNEP Executive Management Retreat, with the participation of all Divisional and Regional Directors and multilateral environmental agreements (MEAs). The Executive Secretary made a presentation on the environmental challenges in a changing world, and also chaired the session on capacity building. Meetings were held with the UNEP Executive Director, UNEP Deputy Executive Director and all UNEP regional directors. A briefing on preparations for the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention was held with the UNEP Committee of Permanent Representatives. A joint television interview with the UNEP Executive Director concerning the Conference of the Parties was conducted by a German journalist who is preparing a movie for the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. The Executive Secretary also participated via teleconference in the second MEA Management Team meeting in August 2008.

8. All of The Green Wave trees planted on 22 May were entered as pledges under the UNEP Plant for the Planet – Billion Tree Campaign.¹

9. In June 2008, the Secretariat participated actively in the Tunza International Children's Conference on the Environment, in Stavanger Norway. The Executive Secretary addressed the participants in a video message. A Secretariat staff member delivered the keynote address on biodiversity and supported UNEP and Young Agenda 21 organizers throughout the conference.

10. Also in June 2008, the Secretariat hosted the second meeting of the 2010 Biodiversity Indicators Partnership (BIP). The meeting was crucial in determining the progress of the Partnership, as well as clarifying the expectations vis-à-vis the Partnership over the next two years in the run up to the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity (COP 10). Holding the meeting at the Secretariat also provided an opportunity for partner organizations working on the individual indicators adopted by the Convention to get a clearer understanding of the links between the BIP and the preparations of the third edition of Global Biodiversity Outlook.

11. Following the BIP 2010 meeting, the Head of the Protected Areas Programme at UNEP-WCMC, met with the Secretariat staff and delivered a presentation on the advances made on the World Database on Protected Areas. In August, CBD staff met with relevant UNEP-WCMC staff to discuss collaboration on Programme of Work on protected areas, WDPA and CHM-related matters. In October, UNEP-WCMC provided a report on the implementation of the joint work programme between the CBD and UNEP-WCMC, as per the agreement signed in March 2006. Based on the positive outcome of their collaborative work, relevant staff members from the two institutions are in discussion on the development of a new joint programme of work, in particular on the decisions adopted at COP-9.

12. The Executive Secretary also attended the awards ceremony of UNEP's first Baobab Staff Awards in Nairobi. The Secretariat staff were finalists in the: Managerial Service Award category, given to the Executive Secretary, and Team Award category, in recognition of the work of CBD's Programme of Work on Protected Areas (POWPA) Friends Team.

13. In the margins of the Annual Ministerial Review of the United Nations Economic and Social Council (AMR-ECOSOC) held in July 2008, the Executive Secretary met with the Executive Director of UNEP in the margins of the AMR-ECOSOC to discuss the implementation of the decisions of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention and the preparations for its tenth meeting.

14. In September 2008, the Executive Secretary had an opportunity to meet the new Director of UNEP Environment Management Group, and the possibility of establishing a system-wide issue management group on the 2010 biodiversity target was discussed.

15. An internal agreement was signed between the Secretariat and the UNEP Division of Environmental Policy Implementation (UNEP-DEPI), aimed to strengthen the cooperation with UNEP-DEPI marine programme on the protection and conservation of marine biodiversity and the Convention's programme of work on marine, through the provision of assistance by UNEP-DEPI in conducting the in-depth review of its marine programme of work and the related Jakarta Mandate, as well as implement the request made by the Conference of the Parties at its ninth meeting.

16. The Secretariat took part in the UNEP Online Expert for a Day, a feature on the UNEP website that allows the wider public interactive-online access to environmental experts (within UNEP and the conventions) through an automated, real-time question-and-answer format. Relevant Secretariat staff members participated on the following issues: marine and coastal biological diversity (10 January), innovative environmental financing – clean development mechanism (19 June), business and biological diversity (27 June), engaging children and youth in biological diversity issues (6 July), the fifth anniversary of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety (9 September), CBD Programme of work on Protected Areas (3 December), impacts of climate change on species and ecosystems (4 December), and forests and climate change (5 December).

17. The Secretariat provided input to the review by UNEP of the concept note outlining the need and modalities for an Intergovernmental Science-policy Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services (IPBES). In the margins of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, the Secretariat took part in the side-event organized by the UNEP World Conservation Monitoring Centre and IUCN on "Intermediate Results of UNEP's Initiative on International Payments for Ecosystem Services". The Secretariat also participated in the ad hoc intergovernmental and multi-stakeholder meeting on an Intergovernmental Science-Policy Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services (IPBES), which took place in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia in November 2008. It should be noted that, in recognizing the significance of IPBES, the Conference of the Parties adopted decision IX/15 on the Follow-up to the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment, in which Parties welcomed the decision of the UNEP Executive Director to convene the Ad hoc Intergovernmental and Multi-Stakeholder Meeting on an IPBES, and requested the CBD Ad hoc Working Group on Review of Implementation of the Convention to consider the outcomes at its third meeting, to be held in May 2010.

18. The Secretariat took part in the UNEP Workshop on Knowledge Management among biodiversity-related multilateral environmental agreements in March 2008. The meeting provided an opportunity to discuss the work of UNEP in the field of knowledge management, taking stock on activities completed, and also analyse gaps and discuss possible ways to improve its knowledge management programme. The Secretariat also took part in the Second International Review Meeting for the Trade and Biodiversity Projects, held in Geneva in July 2008.

19. As a further demonstration of UNEP as the host organization for the implementation of COP 9 decision, the Executive Director informed the President of the COP 9 of its offer to host the ninth meeting of the Ad hoc Open-Ended Working Group on Access and Benefit-Sharing (WGABS 9), the fourteenth meeting of the Subsidiary Body on Scientific, Technical and Technological Advice (SBSTTA 14) and the third meeting of the Ad hoc Open-Ended Working Group on the Review of Implementation of the Convention (WGRI 3). UNEP will contribute the amount of USD $250,000 towards hosting and supporting the three meetings in Nairobi, as well as provide in-kind support for the preparations and conduct of the meetings. In addition, the Executive Director confirmed the continued support of UNEP during the biennium to the implementation of major activities on issues related to the implementation of the Convention on Biological Diversity as well as the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety. The third meeting of the COP Bureau will also be hosted by UNEP, in conjunction with the 25th session of the Governing Council/Global Ministerial Environment Forum of the United Nations Environment Programme in Nairobi in February 2009.

20. Apart from those previously mentioned, meetings were also held with senior officials from UNEP, including: the Director of UNEP-DGEF, and the Manager of the UNDP/UNEP Poverty and Environment Facility, among others.

B. Enhancing partnership with the United Nations Headquarters

21. The Executive Secretary was invited by the Ambassador of Norway to the United Nations as a panellist at the event on "The Arctic: A barometer for Global Climate Change". The meeting, which took place in June 2008, was organized by the Permanent Mission of Norway to the United Nations and by the Conference of Parliamentarians of the Arctic Region, at the occasion of the International Polar Year. Prior to the event, a meeting was held with the panellists at the Norwegian Permanent Mission. Meetings were also held with: Ambassador of Norway, the United Nations Chief of the Treaty Section, with the UNDP Director of the Bureau of Environment, the Chair and the Executive Secretary of the Group of 77, and the President of the United Nations General Assembly.

22. In July, the Executive Secretary participated in the Annual Ministerial Review of the High-Level Segment of the 2008 substantive session of the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) in New York. He also took part as a panel member and addressed the participants during the High-Level Roundtable on "The Role of Ecosystem Services in Sustainable Development". While in New York, meetings were held with: the United Nations Chief of Staff, the newly appointed Coordinator of the United Nations Climate Change Support Team. A meeting was also held with the United Nations Under-

Secretary-General for Safety and Security where the security of the Secretariat staff and premises was raised.

23. A meeting was also held with the Director of UN Division of Public Information on collaboration with regard to the celebration of the International Year of Biodiversity in 2010. It was agreed that the 65th session of the DPI/NGO Forum in September 2010, as well as the UN Model with the universities in 2010, will be devoted to biodiversity.

24. The Executive Secretary attended and delivered a statement at the seventh meeting of the United Nations Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues in April 2008, and also presented the report of the inter-agency task force on indigenous issues chaired by the Secretariat, and took part in a press conference with the Chair of the Permanent Forum.

25. The Executive Secretary attended the book launch of “Sustaining Life” on 23 April in New York, with the participation of the United Nations Deputy Secretary General and Professor Jeffrey Sachs. While in New York, meetings were held with: the United Nations Assistant Secretary General on Policy Planning, the Officer-in-charge of the Secretariat of the United Nations Forum on Forests, the Secretary of ECOSOC, and the Permanent Representative of Andorra to the United Nations in New York.

26. In May, at the invitation of the Under-Secretary General for Communication and Public Information, the Executive Secretary was a guest speaker at the United Nations seminar focusing on Art as a Vehicle for Changing Attitudes Toward the Environment. Meetings took place with the following: Deputy Director of UNEP Regional Office for North America, Director of the Bureau of Environment of UNDP, the UNESCO representative in New York in charge of culture, and the Executive Director of the Natural World Museum. The Executive Secretary also held discussions with the artists attending the meeting, with the view of inviting them to contribute to the International Year of Biodiversity and the CBD Museum of Nature and Culture.

27. In August, the Executive Secretary met with the United Nations Secretary General, with the participation of the United Nations Chief of Staff, the Coordinator of the United Nations Climate Change Team, and the CCD-CBD Liaison Officer in New York. The meeting provided an opportunity to brief the Secretary-General on the outcome of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties and on the challenges facing the tenth meeting. Preparations for the high-level segment of the United Nations General Assembly in 2010 and the celebration of the International Year of Biodiversity were discussed.

28. The Executive Secretary also met with the Under-Secretary-General for Economic and Social Affairs, who expressed full support in assisting in the implementation of the decisions of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. Meetings were also held with: the officer-in-charge of the United Nations Division of Sustainable Development, the Executive Secretary of the Doha Review Conference and the UNICEF Director of Programmes.

29. In September 2008, the Secretariat joined the newly-launched initiative of the United Nations Programme on Youth (UNPY) to formalize existing informal interagency collaboration in the area of youth development. The United Nations Youth Development Network (YDNet) aims to mainstream and streamline the United Nations approach to youth development, and strengthen the attention paid to youth in national policies and development initiatives. Through participation in YDNet, the CBD can contribute a biodiversity perspective to the development of the World Youth Report, themes for International Youth Day, and to other youth-focused, UN-representative publications, observances and events, thereby advancing the youth component of the CEPA programme of work.

30. In October 2008, the Secretariat welcomed the visit of the representatives from the United Nations Ombudsman's Office. The visit provided the staff with more knowledge about the work and mandate of the Ombudsman. Staff members from the Multilateral Fund Secretariat were also present at the briefing.

31. The Secretariat participated in the annual meeting of the United Nations Inter-agency Support Group (UN-IASG) on indigenous peoples' issues, which was held at the UNESCO Headquarters in Paris. The meeting provided an opportunity to discuss ways and means to advance issues of concern to indigenous peoples and reinforce collaboration among United Nations agencies. The meeting was opened by the Director General of UNESCO, who is the Chair of the UN-IASG for 2008-2009.

32. The Secretariat took part in the Security Management meeting in February 2008, as well as in the training workshop on climate neutrality in September 2008, both which took place at the United Nations headquarters.

C. Partnership with the host country

33. During 2008, meetings were held with authorities from both the Canadian and Quebec Governments, as well as with the municipal authorities, with a view of enhancing the support of the host country to the Convention on Biological Diversity.

34. The Secretariat took part in the "A billion trees for the planet" event organized by the City of Montreal in January 2008. The Executive Secretary attended in February 2008 an event organized by the Société de verdissement du Montréal métropolitain (SOVERDI). During the meeting, SOVERDI and its partners, the City of Montréal and TELUS, presented a joint report on their 2007 plantation activities. This report assesses the planting of 12,000 trees and 10,000 shrubs. In March 2008, the Executive Secretary was the guest speaker at the Gala organized by La Fondation québécoise en environnement. A meeting was held with the Mayor of Montreal in June 2008, to provide a briefing on the outcome of the COP-9 meeting as well explore ways to further enhance collaboration for the implementation of the Convention. On the same day, the Executive Secretary attended a luncheon meeting, hosted by the Premier of the Province of Quebec. In October 2008, at the kind invitation of the Quebec Premier, the Executive Secretary attended the opening of the XII^e Sommet de la Francophonie.

35. A meeting was held the Deputy Assistant Minister on Global Affairs at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Canada, as well as other senior Canadian officials during his mission to Ottawa in March 2008.

36. In May 2008, the Mayor of Montreal attended the Mayors Conference in Bonn, with the participation of the Executive Secretary. At their meeting in July 2008 in Montreal, the Executive Secretary briefed the Mayor on the outcome of the COP-9 meeting as well as ways to further enhance relations with the City of Montreal.

37. On the occasion of the World Environment Day, the Secretariat organized an event, which was attended by, among others, the representatives from the City of Montreal, the Museums Nature Montreal, and the diplomatic corps in Montreal. Following the special event, the members of the Steering Committee of the Canadian universities and research institutions held its third planning meeting at the Secretariat headquarters. The objective of the meeting was to present the partnership agreement and the proposed activities for 2008-2009, as well as to further strengthen communication between the Canadian universities and institutions and the Secretariat on biodiversity-related issues.

38. During his mission to Quebec City in June 2008, the Executive Secretary had an opportunity to meet with senior representatives of the Ministère du Développement Durable, de l'Environnement et des Parcs du Québec, to discuss the results of the biodiversity meetings held the previous month in Bonn and ways to provide further assistance to the work of the Convention.

39. In August 2008, the Executive Secretary met with some members of the Informal Host Country Committee, a group established in June 2007 to promote dialogue and enhance relations with the Host Country and relevant host country institutions and organizations. Separate meetings were held with the following: Minister of the Ministère du Développement Durable, de l'Environnement et des Parcs du Québec, with the participation of the Directeur du cabinet and the Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister; the President/CEO and Vice-President (International Organizations) of the Montreal International; and with senior officials from the Ministère des relations internationales du Québec. Issues raised in the respective meetings were the difficulties being faced by the Secretariat regarding its operations, related mainly to security and office space, among others.

40. The Secretariat also welcomed the visit of the following: the Chair of Canada Research, Ethnecology, the Director at the Institut Hydro-Québec en environnement, développement et société, Université de Laval, senior officials from the Canadian Department of Fisheries and Oceans, senior staff from the Ministère des relations internationales du Québec, and the President of AQPERE.

41. Following the successful completion of the agreement signed in 2007, the Canadian Forest Service had renewed its support in 2008 to provide the Secretariat with a part-time staff member to assist on the implementation of the forest programme of work. Further to this, a similar agreement for the period of 2009 had been recently signed between the CBD and the Canadian Forest Service.

42. A number of CBD staff took part in the Earth Day 2008 event, organized by the Montreal Children's Library. Interactive kiosk on biodiversity was set-up by the Secretariat, in which publications and other outreach materials were made available to the general public.

43. In the context of its education and public awareness programme, the Secretariat delivered presentations and workshops on biodiversity and The Green Wave for 25 Montreal-area schools and colleges, and four conferences for students and educators.

44. At the request of the Canadian Environmental Network (RCEN), the Secretariat provided support and information resources to the planning, execution and follow-up of events held in seven Canadian cities for the International Day for Biological Diversity. Several SCBD staff volunteered at the Montreal event.

45. During the reporting period, the Secretariat participated in a number of events held in Montreal, including: the Canadian-Jewish United Nations Model luncheon, the ACNU-Grand Montréal Forum sur les opportunités d'emploi à l'ONU, the Colloque sur les plantes exotiques envahissantes at the Montreal Botanical Gardens, a luncheon organized by Les Conseils des Relations Internationales de Montréal (CORIM), with guest Her Excellency Monique Gagnon-Tremblay, Quebec Minister of International Relations and Minister Responsible for La Francophonie, the opening of exhibit on Madagascar at the Montréal Biodôme, and the ModEthik fashion show, among others. The Secretariat also made 8 presentations on biodiversity-related issues at various Canadian universities. Students from Concordia University, McGill University and Université de Montréal also visited the Secretariat and met with relevant staff members.

D. Partnership with Parties

46. Following the agreement signed with the CBD in December 2007, the German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development has seconded a staff to the Secretariat to assist in the implementation of the Convention and poverty alleviation. Likewise, the German Federal Ministry for the Environment, Nature Protection and Nuclear Safety has agreed to support a position for a period of two years, to assist on issues related to access and benefit sharing issues, as well as act as CBD Liaison Officer between the CBD and the German COP Presidency. The Government of Italy (Ministry of Foreign Affairs) has sponsored a Junior Programme Officer to the Secretariat to act as a Donor Focal Point. In preparation for the COP-MOP and COP meetings in Nagoya in 2010, the Government of Japan (Ministry of Environment) has seconded a staff to the Secretariat, who will act as a liaison officer between the CBD and Japanese government officials and stakeholders.

47. The City of Nagoya in Japan has agreed to second a staff member to the Secretariat starting in February 2009 to assist in implementation of COP 9 decision on cities and biodiversity. The Government of Spain has also expressed its intention to second a staff member to assist in the work of Article 8(j) and access and benefit-sharing issues.

E. International organizations and multilateral environmental agreements

48. The Secretariat has continued its efforts aimed at enhancing its collaboration with the Rio conventions, the biodiversity-related conventions, and other multilateral environmental agreements.

1. Enhancing the collaboration between the Rio conventions

49. The Bonn Biodiversity Summit in May 2008 witnessed the strong partnership among the three Rio Conventions. The Executive Secretaries of United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) and the United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD) too part and addressed the participants at the meeting. A Rio Conventions Synergies kiosk was setup at the meeting. The meeting also provided for the three Executive Secretaries to hold an informal meeting, to take stock on progress made since the last Joint Liaison Group meeting and ways to further enhance synergies. A High Level Dialogue on the theme “Coping with today’s Global Challenges in the Context of the Strategy of the UNCCD” was held, as well as a side on Biodiversity and Climate Change Adaptation. Thanks to the assistance provided by UNFCCC Secretariat, the daily proceedings of the Conference of the Parties were made available through live webcasting. Building on the success of this initiative, it is envisaged that live webcasting would be made available in future COP meetings.

50. The Secretariat also participated in a workshop on increased synergies between the secretariats of the CBD, UNCCD and UNFCCC on education, communications and web tools, held from 31 January-1 February 2008 in Bonn, Germany. As has been the case in recent years, through a collaborative arrangement, the Secretariat worked with the secretariats of the UNFCCC and the UNCCD on the production and distribution of a Rio Conventions calendar for 2009.

51. The Secretariat took part in the fourteenth session of the Conference of the Parties to the UNFCCC in Poznan, Poland, as well as in the high-level segment of the meeting. A Rio Conventions Synergies was set-up at the meeting. The meeting provided an opportunity to organize side events, as well as to engage with relevant parties and bodies, and take part in various events and workshops in relation to the work of the Convention. The Secretariat also attended the EMG meeting held on 10 December.

52. On 31 October, the CBD Secretariat participated in an inter-agency teleconference hosted by the UNFCCC. The purpose of the teleconference was to develop a strategy to enhance children and youth participation in the UN climate change process, and to discuss planned and potential youth activities up to the UNFCCC's COP in 2009.

53. In September, a joint presentation on the outcome of COP-9 was made by the CBD Executive Secretary and the UNCCD Executive Secretary to the Permanent Missions in Geneva. With the participation of more than 40 participants, it was the first time that such a joint presentation briefing was held. Earlier in the year, the Executive Secretary met with the Managing Director, Global Mechanism of UNCCD in the margins of the SBSTTA-13 meeting in Rome, Italy. In the margins of SBSTTA-13 in Italy, the Executive Secretary met with the Managing Director of the UNCCD Global Mechanism.

2. Enhancing the collaboration with the biodiversity-related conventions

54. A message was issued by the Secretariat on the occasion of World Wetlands Day, in support of its partnership with the Ramsar Convention. The Secretariat was also represented at the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Ramsar Convention on Wetlands in Changwon, Republic of Korea. The Secretariat was invited to address the opening plenary of the meeting, in which the close partnership between the two conventions was stressed, giving emphasis on the endorsement of the CBD-Ramsar Joint Work Plan by the CBD COP-9. The Secretariat also assisted that meeting by providing relevant information on progress at CBD COP9 in particular regarding climate change, biofuels and transboundary water management. The Secretariat also attended the 14th meeting of Ramsar's Scientific and Technical Review Panel (STRP 14) in January 2008, as an observer.

55. During the second meeting of the Working Group on Protected Areas and the SBSTTA-13 meeting in Rome, the CBD Executive Secretary held meetings with the Secretary of the International Treaty for Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture (ITPGRFA). Subsequent meetings with ITPGRFA staff were held in the margins of COP-9 meeting, including the convening of a joint COP and ITPGRFA Bureaux meeting. Following discussions during the joint Bureaux meeting, the Secretariat hosted the first meeting of Experts on the Standard Material Transfer Agreement and the Multilateral System of the International Treaty in July 2008. The Secretariat participated in the meeting as an observer.

56. On 31 May, the members of the Biodiversity-related Conventions held its sixth meeting in Bonn, Germany, a day after the successful conclusion of the Biodiversity Summit. The meeting took place following the renewed mandate of the BLG by COP-9. The Executive Secretary of CMS chaired the meeting. Issues discussed include: review of the implementation of the decisions adopted at the last meeting, cooperation on the implementation of decisions adopted by the Conventions, preparation of the GBO-3, progress in achieving the 2010 biodiversity target, celebration of the 2010 International Year of Biodiversity, among others. It should be noted that the Director of UNEP-WCMC participated in the meeting. The full report of the meeting can be accessed at: <http://www.cbd.int/cooperation/BLG-6-rep-final-en.doc>. The next BLG meeting is tentatively scheduled to take place in Rome, in the margins of the CMS COP.

57. The second meeting of chairs of the scientific advisory bodies of the biodiversity-related conventions was held on 25 May 2008, with the participation of the respective Chairs of the Scientific Advisory Bodies or equivalent organs and representatives of the following organizations: Convention on Biological Diversity, Convention on the Conservation of European Wildlife and Natural Habitats (Bern Convention), Convention on Conservation of Migratory Species of Wild Animals (CMS), Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES), International Treaty for Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture (ITPGRFA), Ramsar Convention on Wetlands, United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD), World Heritage Convention and World heritage Monitoring Centre (IUCN), United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and United Nations Environment Programme-Scientific and Technical Advisory Panel (UNEP-STAP). The meeting provided an opportunity to review processes and approaches of the Conventions' scientific bodies in providing scientific advice, and also to discuss strategic issues for future processes and approaches of the Conventions. The full report of the meeting can be accessed at: <http://www.cbd.int/doc/meetings/csab/csab-02/official/csab-02-03-en.doc>.

3. Heads of Agencies Task Force for 2010

58. The Heads of Agencies Task Force for 2010, established in March 2006 to promote and enhance collective efforts for the achievement of the 2010 biodiversity target, held a breakfast meeting on 30 May 2008, in the margins of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity in Bonn, Germany. The meeting took stock of the progress achieved since its first meeting in September 2006, activities to be undertaken in the next two years leading up to the 2010 International Year of Biodiversity, as well as post-2010 strategies. The date for the next meeting, to be chaired by the Convention on Biological Diversity, has not been decided yet. The CEO and Chairperson of the Global Environment Facility and a senior staff from the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization took part in the meeting.

4. Enhancing partnership with international organizations and relevant multilateral environment agreements (MEAs)

59. In February 2008, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) hosted the second meeting of the Ad Hoc Open-ended Working Group on Protected Areas and the thirteenth meeting of the Subsidiary Body on Scientific, Technical and Technological Advice. The FAO Assistant Director General of the Forestry Department delivered a statement at the opening session of the WGPA-2 meeting, while the FAO Deputy Director General addressed the opening session of the SBSTTA-13. In the margins of the two CBD meetings, meetings were held with: the Assistant Director General, FAO Knowledge and Communication Department and with the Director of Land and Water Division, Natural Resource Management and Environment Department at FAO. A joint meeting of the IPPC and CBD Bureaux, as well as an informal joint meeting of the CGRFA and SBSTTA Bureaux were also held.

60. In May 2008, the FAO initiated the Youth and United Nations Global Alliance (YUNGA), intended to facilitate collaboration between UN agencies and other organizations working with children and youth in order to enhance youth participation in activities of key environmental and social concern at the local and international level. The Secretariat has actively participated in the conception and development of YUNGA. The Secretariat will contribute to the public face of YUNGA by writing the biodiversity and climate change chapter for a youth publication on climate change and food security, due out in 2009. A similar publication on biodiversity may be produced for 2010.

61. Also in May 2008, during the celebrations in Bonn to mark the International Day for Biological Diversity, under the theme "Biodiversity and Agriculture", the Deputy Director General delivered a statement through a video feed, in which he underscored the mutually beneficial relationship between biodiversity and agriculture. The CBD Secretariat worked closely with FAO on the finalization of the CBD booklet for the 2008 International Day for Biological Diversity. The Secretariat also co-hosted, together with FAO, a side event on agricultural biodiversity in the margins of the COP-9 meeting.

62. During his mission to New York in July 2008, the Executive Secretary had an opportunity to meet with a senior staff from UNESCO in which the secondment of a New York staff to the CBD was discussed, as well as UNESCO's contribution to the celebration of the International Year of Biodiversity (IYB).

63. In September 2008, while on mission in Paris, the Executive Secretary met with the Director General of UNESCO. The finalization of the draft revised Memorandum of Understanding between the CBD and UNESCO was discussed, among others. He also met with the Assistant Director General for Earth Science and the Assistant Director General for Natural Science.

64. Pursuant to the Memorandum of Understanding between FAO and CBD, and following previous discussions with senior officials at FAO, the Senior Agricultural Officer, Seed and Plant Genetic Resources Service, Plant Production and Protection Division, Agriculture and Consumer Protection Department at FAO has been seconded by FAO, on a part-time basis, to assist the Secretariat in the implementation of the COP-9 decisions related to agriculture and forests, including biofuels, as well as other areas of mutual interest.

65. The Secretariat has also expanded its work with UNESCO in the domain of mainstreaming biodiversity into education. CBD and UNESCO co-organised an expert workshop in March 2008. The results of the meeting were the basis for further work. In response to Decision IX/32, the Secretariat and UNESCO have also worked to include biodiversity as a topic in the 2009 UNESCO Conference on the United Nations Decade of Education for Sustainable Development.

66. Following UNESCO's confirmation to host the seventh meeting of the Ad hoc Open-ended Working Group on Access and Benefit-Sharing in 2009, relevant staff from both the UNESCO and CBD offices are in discussion on logistical matters to ensure the smooth running and success of the meeting. In hosting the meeting, it not only underscores UNESCO's support to the Convention, but also to the international regime on access and benefit sharing.

67. In a September teleconference, the Secretariat explored opportunities to collaborate with UNESCO on The Green Wave and on an educational kit on biodiversity, as contributions to the CEPA programme of work, the Decade for Education for Sustainable Development and paragraph 12 of Decision IX/13. Collaboration is expected to continue through 2009 and 2010.

68. A Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) was signed between with the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity and the United Nations Development Programme, in the margins of the COP-9 meeting in Bonn. The agreement aims to better integrate the objectives of the Convention into development and significantly to reduce the loss of biodiversity by 2010. Areas of cooperation include: knowledge, policy advice, advocacy, and technical support, relative to all aspects of the internalization of biodiversity considerations in development practice, in particular poverty reduction, democratic governance, crisis prevention and recovery, as well as on issues related to climate change and biodiversity. In accordance with the signed agreement, UNDP will second a staff for one year to the Secretariat to assist in the implementation of the MOU and to further explore and develop additional areas of cooperation. In December 2008, the Senior Policy Advisor of the UNDP Environment and Energy Group visited the Secretariat, and had an opportunity to meet with the Executive Secretary and relevant staff members.

69. In the margins of the COP-9 meeting in Bonn, an enhanced Memorandum of Cooperation was signed between the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity and the Secretariat of the Convention on the Conservation of European Wildlife and Natural Habitats, known as the Bern Convention. With a view to advancing implementation of the threefold objective of the Convention, the agreement will also provide support in the achievement of the 2010 biodiversity target. The Executive also addressed the plenary at the 28th meeting of the Standing Committee of the Bern Convention in Strasbourg, France. The Secretariat was also represented at the Bern Convention expert meeting on biodiversity and climate change.

70. The IUCN World Conservation Congress in Barcelona, Spain provided an opportunity for the Secretariat to enhance collaboration and underline the results of the successful Bonn Biodiversity Summit with IUCN and relevant partners at the meeting. The Executive Secretary took part in a number of events, including: Soirée Francophone organized by the Organisation internationale de la francophonie and IUCN, a workshop on “Mainstreaming Sustainability in the Tourism Industry: The Global Baseline Criteria for Sustainable Tourism”, workshop on “Local and regional governments authorities – key partners for biodiversity!”, the Countdown 2010 press conference on the results of the Countdown 2010 Readiness Assessment, and attended the joint event by His Royal Highness Prince Turki Bin Nasser Bin Abdelaziz of Saudi Arabia and IUCN on “World Sustainability Leaders VIP Tour”, among others.

71. The Executive Secretary contributed an article to the Ecologie & Ontwikkeling (Ecology & Development), an IUCN publication in Netherlands, on the Bonn Biodiversity Summit.

72. In the margins of the IUCN-WCC, the Executive Secretary was also invited to take part in the workshop on “Meeting the 2010 biodiversity target! A contribution to poverty alleviation and to the benefit of life on Earth”, organized by the Countdown 2010 Secretariat. He was also invited to join a press conference on the launch of the final results of the Countdown 2010 Readiness Assessment, and deliver remarks about the Global Biodiversity Outlook, fourth National Biodiversity Reports and the Ecological Footprint. The Executive Secretary also participated in the Countdown 2010 Partners Assembly, presented by Countdown 2010 and IUCN, in the margins of the COP-9 meeting.

73. Following the success of the first Forest Day held in 2007, the Centre for International Forestry Research (CIFOR) invited the CBD and other members of the Collaborative Partnership on Forests, to co-host the second Forest Day, which was held in the margins of the UNFCCC COP-14 in Poznan, Poland.

74. In their efforts to further enhance cooperation, the CBD and UNFF Secretariats engaged in a short-term staff exchange in July 2008. On 7-11 July, the Secretariat welcomed the UNFF Forest Policy Advisor for Biodiversity, which was then followed by the visit of the CBD Programme Officer for Forest Biodiversity to the UNFF Secretariat on 21-25 July. Discussions focused on the preparations for the UNFF-8 report on forests and biodiversity conservation, and possible elements of a draft joint work programme for the UNFF and CBD and cooperation on regional forest-related issues. It is envisaged that, due to the positive results of the staff exchange, both Secretariats will continue to seek opportunities for close collaboration.

75. The Secretariat is also in discussion with UNFF staff on possible joint activities in celebration of the 2010 International Year of Biodiversity and the 2011 International Year of Forests, as well as more options for a joint work programme.

76. A WWF side event was held in the margins of COP-9 for zero net deforestation by 2020. The Executive Secretary, joined by the Environment Ministers and the EU Commissioner for the Environment, signed postcards addressed to the head of WWF International in support of the WWF initiative.

77. Following their discussions in the margins of the sixth meeting of the Working Group on Access and Benefit-sharing, an agreement was signed between the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity and the Global Earth Observations Secretariat in September 2008. The signing ceremony took place at the UNEP Regional Office for Europe. The objective of the agreement is to enhance collaboration in supporting science-based decision-making, promoting the gathering, analysis and dissemination of biodiversity data and information, improving the scientific understanding of the status and trends of, and threats to, biodiversity, including the drivers of change, and encouraging interaction amongst scientists and decision makers.

78. In October 2008, an agreement was signed between the Secretariat and The Nature Conservancy. The agreement identified joint activities for collaboration on specific areas/issues, which includes: protected areas, island biodiversity, forest biodiversity, marine and coastal, invasive species, inland waters, sustainable use, climate change and biodiversity, among others. The agreement was signed in the margins of the IUCN World Conservation Congress in Barcelona, Spain.

79. Following previous discussions held with the Director General and other relevant staff of the Bioversity International, a Memorandum of Understanding was signed during COP-9 between the CBD and Bioversity International. As per the agreement, Bioversity International will contribute staff time to support the work of the CBD in areas of mutual relevance which shall include support for, but not limited to, the programme of work on agricultural biodiversity, the programme of work on forestry, support for the implementation of the Global Strategy for Plant Conservation, work on access and benefit-sharing and indicators of biodiversity. In line with the agreement, Bioversity International has seconded a staff to the Secretariat in October 2008. In September 2008, the Head of the Public Awareness Unit at Bioversity International paid a visit to the Secretariat and met with relevant staff.

80. In reference to the Hokkaido Toyako G8 Summit, and at the invitation of the United Nations University – Institute of Advanced Studies (UNU-IAS), the Executive Secretary contributed an article on “Biodiversity and Climate Change: A Little Known Truth the G8 Should Know”, as part of its “UNU G8 Think Piece” which was printed in a major Japanese newspaper. The Secretariat also contributed a chapter on traditional knowledge in the UNU publication entitled “Bridging Different Worlds: Traditional Knowledge, Sustainable Development and Global Policy Making”. Relevant staff at the UNU-IAS is providing assistance to the Secretariat, in particular with regard to the implementation of COP Decision IX/12 on access and benefit sharing.

81. In the margins of the COP-9 meeting, the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity entered into an agreement with the Alpine Convention and Carpathian Convention, with a view of promoting synergies through exchanges of experiences and best practices on issues of mutual relevance. The partnership aims to promote, in the framework of the Mountain Partnership, participatory sustainable mountain development with all the relevant stakeholders, including: youth, women, NGOs, local authorities, local communities and the private sector.

82. To enhance collaboration, a Memorandum of Understanding was signed between the Union for Ethical BioTrade and the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity in December 2008. The agreement aims to encourage companies involved in biotrade to adopt and promote good practices for the effective implementation of the work of the Convention and its 2010 biodiversity target. Joint activities were identified in carrying out the agreement.

83. Staff from the Global Biodiversity Information Facility (GBIF) visited the Secretariat in June 2008 and had an opportunity to address the staff and provide information on the work GBIF and its relation to the work and objectives of the Convention, and also meetings with relevant CBD staff were held. In September 2008, following his participation at the European Community CHM workshop in Denmark, the CBD Clearing-House Mechanism Officer visited and met with relevant staff at the GBIF Secretariat office.

84. The Secretariat also welcomed the visit of: the Executive Director of the Commission for Environmental Cooperation, the Director of IUCN-Canada, the Executive Coordinator at the World Bank/GEF, UNDP/GEF Principal Technical Advisor on Biodiversity, representatives from the Society for Ecological Restoration International, staff from the UNFCU, among others.

E. Partnership with the Group of 77 and China on South-South cooperation

85. The Chairman and representatives of the Group of 77 paid a visit to the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity in March 2008. Discussions focused on the preparations for the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties (COP 9), including the High-Level Segment of the meeting. Particular attention was devoted to major issues of interest to the Group of 77 and China, including the promotion of regional and sub-regional collaboration for the implementation of the three objectives of the Convention.

86. In April 2008, in the continuous efforts to strengthen the partnership with the Group of 77 and China on South-South cooperation, the Executive Secretary met with the Ambassadors of the Group of 77 countries, together with those from the JUSCANZ and EU, to brief them on the preparations of MOP-4 and COP-9 meetings. A meeting was also held with the Chairman and the Executive Secretary of the Group of 77.

87. The Executive Secretary was also invited as a special guest at the third meeting of the G-77 Panel of Eminent Experts on a development platform for the South, held in April 2008, with the participation of more than 20 eminent experts. The Prime Minister of Antigua and Barbuda, in his capacity as Chairman of the Group of 77, opened and closed the meeting. Other guests include: the former President of Sri Lanka and the former Prime Minister of Jamaica. The meeting recommended the inclusion of biodiversity in the draft Development Platform for the South.

88. The ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties adopted, among others, decision IX/25 on South-South cooperation on biodiversity for development, aimed at promoting a multi-year plan of action on South-South Cooperation for the implementation of the three objectives of the Convention. A unique initiative in the history of the environmental movement, the decision requests the Executive Secretary to report on a multi-year plan of action on biodiversity for development at the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, in Nagoya, Japan, in October 2010. The full text of the decision is available at <http://www.cbd.int/decisions/?m=COP-09&id=11668&lg=0>.

89. At their meeting in September 2008, the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of the Group of 77 and China adopted a Ministerial Declaration, with reference to the Convention on Biological Diversity in paragraph 34, which states:

“The Ministers welcomed the successful outcome of the Ninth Meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity (COP-9) held in Bonn from 19 to 30 May 2008 particularly the adoption of a decision for the elaboration of a multiyear plan of action on South-South cooperation on biodiversity for development. They noted the urgent need to meet the three objectives of the Convention and their target of reducing biodiversity loss by 2010 and welcomed the decision by the COP calling for a high level special event in conjunction with the sixty-fifth session of the General Assembly to mark the International Year of Biodiversity in 2010.”

90. The full text of the Declaration is accessible at: <http://www.g77.org/doc/Declaration2008.htm>.

91. On 6-7 November 2008, an expert meeting on the multi-year plan of action on South-South cooperation for achieving biodiversity for development was held at the Secretariat office. The meeting, organized in conjunction with the chair and Secretariat of the Group of 77 and China, was attended by the current Chair of G-77, the current President of the United Nations General Assembly High-Level Committee for South-South Cooperation, the Secretary General of the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organisation, and the current Chair of the Subsidiary Body on Scientific, Technical and Technological Advice (SBSTTA). The two-day meeting reviewed the potential of South-South cooperation on biodiversity as a complement to the Development Platform for the South which has been devised by the G-77. It furthermore produced a content outline of the Multi-Year Plan of Action (MYPOA) for review and feedback along with a tentative timeline and guidance for the consultations and adoption of the MYPOA. Taking into account the comments made by participants at the meeting, it will be sent jointly to the Chair of the G-77 and China and the President of the UNGA HL Committee on South South Cooperation, in order to allow broader circulation and input. The report of the meeting is available at <https://www.cbd.int/doc/?meeting=EMSSC-01>.

F. Partnership with local authorities: cities and biodiversity

92. In May 2008, three events on Cities and Local Authorities were held at the margins of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties (COP9) to the Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD):

- The Erfurt Conference on Urban Biodiversity and Design, 21-24 May 2008, organized by CONTUREC where 400 scientists, planners and other practitioners from around 50 countries summarized for the first time in a global context the current scientific and practical approaches of implementing the CBD in urban areas and founded an International Network URBIO for further scientific support of the Cities and Biodiversity Initiative. Their views that urban biodiversity is a vital part of achieving the aims of the Convention on Biological Diversity are summarized in the Erfurt Declaration available at: http://www.urbio2008.com/content/ErfurtDeclaration_Eng.php
- The Mayors Conference on Local Action for Biodiversity, organized by InWent, the City of Bonn and ICLEI/LAB, where more than 150 participants (including 50 mayors from 30 countries), representing over 100 million urban dwellers met in Bonn on 26-27 May 2008 to underline the importance of urban biodiversity and exchange their experiences and initiatives on urban biodiversity. Participants adopted the Bonn Call for Action, available at http://www.iclei.org/fileadmin/template/project_templates/LAB-bonn2008/user_upload/Press/BonnCall_FINAL_29May08.pdf.
- A side event on Cities and Biodiversity on May 26, 2008, where the mayors of Montreal, Curitiba, Bonn, Nagoya and Durban, and Dr. Leong Chee Chiew, Chief Operating Officer of the Singapore National Parks Board, informed Parties and delegates on progress in the implementation of the Curitiba Declaration and results obtained through their biodiversity strategies and action plans. The videostream of the event is available at: http://unfccc.metafusion.com/kongresse/CBD2008_2/templ/ply_cbd.php?id_kongresssession=1113&player_mode=isdn_real

93. At COP9, as a result of negotiations under agenda item 4.13, decision IX/28 on Cities and Local Authorities was adopted, inviting Parties to recognize the roles of cities and local authorities (CLAs) in national biodiversity strategies and action plans (NBSAPs), and to support cities to implement the goals of the Convention. In recognition of the critical role played by cities and local authorities in the Convention, the mayors of Curitiba, Nagoya, Bonn and Montreal addressed the high-level segment of the COP on May 29, 2008, followed by an intervention by the Minister of National Development of Singapore, Mr. Mah Bow Tan.

94. In July 2008, while on mission in New York, the Executive Secretary met with the Executive Director of UN-HABITAT, where the collaboration on the CBD initiative on cities and biodiversity was discussed.

95. At the invitation of the Minister of National Development of Singapore, the Executive Secretary participated and delivered an opening statement at the World Cities Summit in June 2008. The Executive Secretary was a member of the panel in the session on Biodiversity and Cities, with the participation of the Deputy Mayor of Busan Metropolitan City of Korea, as well the CEO of National Parks of Singapore. As a follow up on Singapore's initiative to develop a city biodiversity index, the Secretariat of the CBD is closely working with National Parks of Singapore in organizing the first Expert Expert Workshop on the Development of the City Biodiversity Index, due to take place 10-12 February 2009.

96. Also, to consolidate the results achieved in 2007 and 2008, the Global Partnership on Cities and Biodiversity was launched on 7th October 2008 at IUCN World Conservation Congress. It currently brings together UNEP, UN-HABITAT, UNESCO, international organizations, including ICLEI and IUCN, and local governments including the members of the steering committee and the task force created in Curitiba in 2007, to improve the management and conservation of biodiversity through technical cooperation, capacity building projects and communication campaigns.

G. Partnership with scientific institutions and partners

97. The Steering Committee of the Consortium of Scientific Partners on Biodiversity held its third meeting on 21 October in Brussels, hosted by the Royal Belgian Institute of Natural Sciences (RBINS). The meeting took stock on progress achieved since their second meeting. The meeting also considered areas for potential collaboration on the celebration of the 2009 International Day for Biological Diversity (IBD) and the 2010 International Year of Biodiversity. The group agreed to report on their planned activities for IBD in advance. The Secretariat presented the IYB plan of action, which was well received by the group. The meeting welcomed the participation of the Higashiyama Botanical Gardens, its newest member. The Steering Committee met earlier in July via teleconference.

98. The Higashiyama Botanical Gardens signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity in June 2008. It is expected that, in accordance with the signed agreement, the Higashiyama Botanical Gardens will organize a training seminar for the COP-10 participants with a view of promoting the effective implementation of Convention and its Protocol.

99. In strengthening partnership with universities, agreements were finalized during 2008, which complemented cooperation already in place with other universities. In March 2008, an agreement was signed between the Graduate School of Agricultural and Life Sciences of the Tokyo University and the Convention on Biological Diversity with the aim of providing a framework for an internship programme for students of the School a the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity.

100. The meeting of the Liability and Redress held in Cartagena, Colombia provided an opportunity for the signing of the Memorandum of Understanding between the Graduate School of International Cooperation Studies of the Kobe University and the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity. The objective of the agreement is to provide a framework for an internship programme and other academic activities for students of the GSCIS in cooperation with the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity.

101. In June 2008, an agreement was signed between the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity and the Nagoya City University, which aims focuses on the mobilization of the Nagoya academia for COP-10, is planned to further promote the effective implementation of the Convention and its Protocol.

102. In the margins of the COP-9 meeting, the Consortium of Scientific Partners in collaboration with the Botanical Gardens of the University of Bonn, organized training workshops for COP 9 participants, on the following issues: plant conservation in botanical gardens, the Global Strategy for Plant Conservation, the UNEP-IUCN Issue-based Modules and the Barcoding of Life initiative. The training sessions were followed by a visit of the Botanical Gardens of the University of Bonn.

103. An agreement was signed between the ASEAN Centre of Biodiversity and the Convention on Biological Diversity, at the opening of the Capacity-Building Workshop on Implementing NBSAPs and Mainstreaming Biodiversity for South, Southeast and East Asia, held in Singapore City, Singapore in January 2008. The partnership establishes a collaborative partnership for, and share resources in, the areas of research, capacity-building and training, public education and awareness, exchange of information, policy development and coordination, technical and scientific cooperation and other areas of mutual interest for conservation and sustainable development of biodiversity in Southeast Asia.

104. In September 2008, representatives from the Natural History Museum of the Adirondacks visited the Secretariat, and met with the Executive Secretary and other relevant staff members to discuss possible collaboration.

H. Engaging indigenous and local communities in the work of the Convention

105. In 2008, a total contribution of US$413,505 was received for the Voluntary Fund for the participation of indigenous and local communities in meetings held under the Convention. Thanks to the generosity of the Governments of Austria, Canada, Finland, Germany and Spain, a number of representatives from indigenous and local communities were able to participate in the following: the sixth meeting of the Ad hoc Open-ended Working Group on Access and Benefit-Sharing, the second meeting of the Ad hoc Open-ended Working Group on Protected Areas, the thirteenth meeting of the Subsidiary Body on Scientific, Technical and Technological Advice and the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention on Biological Diversity. By the end of 2008, financial support was provided to a total of 55 indigenous and local community representatives for their participation in meetings held under the Convention. It is envisaged that financial assistance will be provided to representatives of the indigenous and local communities in 2009, to facilitate their involvement and engagement in the Convention process.

I. Engaging the parliamentarians in the implementation phase of the Convention

106. In order to increase the visibility of biodiversity at the national level and considering that parliamentarians are key players who can ensure that adequate legislation is adopted in order for national governments to honour their obligations as Parties to the CBD, the Secretariat has pursued the development of the Parliamentarians and Biodiversity initiative throughout 2008. In April 2008, the Executive Secretary attended a special meeting of the parliamentarians of the Christian Democratic Union/Christian Social Union (CDU/CSU) parliamentary group on COP-9 (statement available at: <https://www.cbd.int/information/statements.shtml>), with the participation of the German Chancellor, the President of Madagascar and the Vice President of Colombia, as well as the CEO of the Global Environment Facility, and also met the Chair Lady of the Environmental Committee of the Bundestag and the German Federal Environment Ministry's Secretary of State.

107. At the initiative of the Environment Committee of the German Parliament, and in collaboration with the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity, a high-level dialogue between parliamentarians and CBD Parties on biodiversity was held 27 May 2008, at the margins of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention. The event highlighted the important role of Parliamentarians in biodiversity conservation and sustainable use. The Bonn Declaration on Parliamentarians and Biodiversity (available at: <https://www.cbd.int/doc/groups/parliamentarians/bonn-declaration-2008-en.pdf>), demonstrating the commitment of parliamentarians toward the achievement of the objectives of the Convention, was adopted at the meeting.

108. In July 2008, several members of the German Parliament paid a visit to the Secretariat. A briefing was made on the objectives and work of the Convention, as well as ways to raise parliamentarians' outreach and define an action plan for 2008-2010. The CBD initiative on Parliamentarians and Biodiversity was presented, and Germany's possible role in the initiative was also discussed. As a follow up and in view of preparing the Parliamentarian Summit which will take place during COP-10 in Nagoya, the CBD Secretariat and its partners are currently defining a 2009-2010 strategy on Parliamentarians and Biodiversity.

J. Private-sector engagement

109. In January 2008, the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity participated as a speaker in the session "Re-examining the business case for sustainability" during the Haas School of Business Seminar in Berkeley, California, U.S.A. The session provided an overview, among others, of the implications of the international negotiations on business – through the example of the Convention on Biological Diversity.

110. On 11 June, representatives of Canadian businesses gathered in Montreal for a one-day seminar to review their business links with biodiversity and to consider the establishment of a Canadian business forum for biodiversity. Jointly organized by the CBD Secretariat, IUCN and professional services firm Deloitte, the meeting was convened at the University of Quebec at Montreal (UQAM) and attracted more than sixty-five senior figures from industries ranging from oil and gas, mining, water, power, fisheries, finance and agri-business as well as representatives from government, environmental NGOs and international organizations. Concurrently, at the invitation of International Petroleum Industry Environmental Conservation Association (IPIECA), the CBD Secretariat participated in a stakeholder dialogue designed to help shape the direction and content of the IPIECA Strategic Plan, held in San Francisco on 11-12 June 2008.

K. Partnership with civil society organizations

111. The Secretariat worked with civil society representatives, in particular with the CBD Alliance and the NGO Focal Point of Germany for COP-MOP-4 and COP-9, to ensure the active participation of civil society in the conferences. In collaboration with the CBD Alliance and the German NGO Focal Point, a newsletter for civil society was published and distributed in the margins of COP-9. The Executive Secretary delivered remarks at the NGO meeting organized by the German NGO Forum in Berlin on 8 February 2008, 100 days before COP-9, at the "Planet Diversity" demonstration in Bonn on 12 May 2008 and at the CBD Capacity Building Day and the Civil Society Preparatory Session on 16 and 17 May, respectively. Several other substantive Secretariat staff participated in the latter meetings. The Secretariat also welcomed the visit of representatives of the CBD Alliance in March and April 2008 for preparations for COP-9, and in November 2008.

L. Engaging children and youth on biodiversity issues

112. Biodiversity addresses and workshops were given by the Executive Secretary and/or Secretariat staff at the following four international conferences for children and youth: Go4BioDiv, May 2008 in Bonn, Germany: 50 youth from 16 countries; Biodiversity on the Edge, May 2008 in Bonn, Germany: 75 youth from 26 countries; Tunza International Children's Conference on the Environment, June 2008 in Stavanger, Norway; 700 children, 300 adults from 105 countries; and at the Fourth World Youth Congress, August 2008 in Quebec City, Canada: 600 youth from 120 countries. An additional eleven presentations and workshops were delivered at local, sub-national and national youth events reaching over 800 young people and educators in Canada.

113. There was a strong youth presence throughout COP-MOP-4 and COP-9. Inside the meeting, children and youth presented a dance and declarations at the COP-9 opening ceremony. Outside the official meetings, there were two international youth conferences (Biodiversity on the Edge and Go4BioDiv), one national children's conference (Kids for Earth Ancient Forests Festival), as well as creative interactive activities for schoolchildren such as painting "Traffic Art" murals. The Secretariat liaised with the conference organizers in the preceding months and provided on-the-ground support and speakers.

114. The Secretariat provided ongoing support to the Macoun Marsh Project and HabitatNet, the co-organizers of the 2009 International Youth Symposium for Biodiversity, an event aiming to educate young people on the vital importance of biodiversity. In addition to regular virtual assistance, a Secretariat staff member attended the "mini symposium" planning session in Ottawa, Canada on 10 October 2008 to promote the integration of the CEPA programme of work into the symposium.

III. ACHIEVING UNIVERSALITY OF THE CONVENTION ON BIOLOGICAL DIVERSITY

115. At the opening plenary of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, Brunei Darussalam was welcomed as the 191st Party to the Convention, on a provisional basis, as it was soon to become a Party after having deposited its instrument of accession to the Convention. The Convention entered into force for Brunei Darussalam on 27 July 2008. At the closure of the meeting, the representative of Iraq announced that his country had initiated the necessary internal measures in order to accede to the Convention on Biological Diversity. The Secretariat continues to make numerous efforts to secure the accession to the Convention by the few countries that are not yet parties.

IV. OUTREACH AND COMMUNICATION

116. The Secretariat continued to increase its outreach and public awareness efforts, promoting the work and objectives of the Convention and its Protocol, and the visibility of the Secretariat in the local and international community.

A. Conveying the biodiversity message

117. In its continuous efforts to further raise the profile of the Convention and communicate the biodiversity message in international forums, the Executive Secretary delivered a total number of 76 statements and 18 messages on United Nations special observances. A full list of the statements and messages are available in annex IV and annex V, respectively. The Executive Secretary also participated in 24 press conferences at major local and international events, and also gave a total of 53 interviews with media. Furthermore, the Secretariat contributed articles for publication to local and international journals and periodicals. A total of 24 press releases and 20 communiqués were issued, with courtesy translations made available in French and Spanish. The Secretariat also supported development of a new television series for international broadcast on the economic value of biodiversity and ecosystems. The series, Nature Inc., was launched by the producers, One Planet Pictures, and the Executive Secretary at an event in the margins of COP-9. It was aired on BBC World TV in June and July 2008 and will continue broadcast in 2009 and 2010. It is also being produced in French and Arabic for transmission on other networks and is available for national broadcast, free of copyright fees.

B. Celebration of the International Day for Biological Diversity

118. For the first time, the celebrations of the International Day for Biological Diversity coincided with the holding of a meeting of the Conference of the Parties to the Convention. At that meeting, a special plenary session was held to commemorate the event. A keynote presentation was made by Dr. Robert Watson, United Kingdom Chief Scientific Adviser, who informed the participants about the findings of the report of the International Assessment of Agricultural Knowledge, Science and Technology for Development (IAASTD). Statements were also made by the Lady Mayor of Bonn; the Director of UNEP-DELIC (speaking on behalf of the UNEP Executive Director); a UNCCD staff (speaking on behalf of the UNCCD Executive Secretary); the Director General of Nature Conservation and Sustainable Use of Natural Resources, BMU (speaking on behalf of the COP-9 President); the FAO Deputy Director-General; the Director-General of the Bioversity International and the CBD Executive Secretary. The message issued by the Secretary-General of the United Nations on the occasion of the Day was also read out.

119. A special effort was made to include children and youth in the International Day for Biological Diversity. The Secretariat, with the Government of Germany, encouraged children and youth around the world to join in the launch of The Green Wave initiative on 22 May (see paras. 123-125 below). To raise awareness of the theme of the Day, the Secretariat launched an educational module on “biodiversity and agriculture” comprising an online educational web portal for primary school students and accompanying lesson plans for educators. This was hosted on the IBD web portal that carried information and resources on biodiversity and agriculture specially prepared to support national and international celebration of the IBD.

120. At the request of the Canadian Environmental Network (RCEN), the Secretariat provided support and information resources to the planning, execution and follow-up of events held in seven Canadian cities for the International Day for Biological Diversity. Several SCBD staff volunteered at the Montreal event.

C. World Environment Day

121. The Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity celebrated the World Environment Day (WED), under the theme “CO₂ Kick the Habit: Towards a Low Carbon Economy”, by hosting an event at the Secretariat office, with the participation of representatives from the diplomatic corps in Montreal, as well as the Permanent Representative of Antigua and Barbuda to the United Nations and Chairman of the Group of 77, the Permanent Representative of Brazil to the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO), the Chief of the UNCCD Liaison Office in New York and a representative of the Mayor of Montreal. Outreach materials in celebration of the important event were made available to all participants, as well as to the staff of the Secretariat. The World Environment Day celebration was preceded by the raising, for the first time, of the United Nations flag in front of the entrance of the World Trade Centre building, which houses the Secretariat office in Montreal.

D. CBD Linnaeus Lectures

122. Following the success of its inaugural session launched in May 2007, on the occasion of the 300th anniversary of the birth of Swedish scientist Carolus Linnaeus, with the aim of highlighting major issues of relevance to biodiversity, the second CBD Linnaeus Lectures was held on 23 May 2008, in the margins of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. Opening remarks were made by Mr. Johan Bodegård, Swedish Species Information Centre. The two keynote speakers during the event were: Mr. Klaus Töpfer, former UNEP Executive Director, who made a presentation entitled “Biodiversity challenges and responses in a warming planet”; and Professor Jeffrey Sachs, Director of the Earth Institute at Columbia University, who made a presentation on the global food crisis.

E. The Green Wave initiative

123. The Green Wave is a multi-year global educative biodiversity campaign for young people, contributing to the programme of work on communication, education and public awareness, particularly to the celebrations and objectives of the International Day for Biological Diversity. The campaign also contributes to the UNEP-led Billion Tree Campaign. Initiated by the German Federal Agency for Nature Conservation (BfN) and the Office of the Environmental Response and Coordination of the Republic of Palau, the Green Wave, including the establishment and management of its web platform, has been coordinated by the Secretariat with the support of BfN and the German Federal Ministry for the Environment, Nature Conservation and Nuclear Safety.

124. The Green Wave was officially launched by the hosts of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, in Bonn, Germany on 22 May 2008. Parallel Green Wave celebrations were held at the Nairobi National Museum of Kenya near the UNEP headquarters. Green Wave celebrations were also held in 67 schools in Australia, Canada, Colombia, Ecuador, Germany, India, Kenya, Malaysia, Mauritius, Mexico, Namibia, Nigeria, Paraguay, the Philippines, Russia, Seychelles, Singapore, South Africa, and the United States of America.

125. The project has attracted interest and supportive involvement of several organizations, including the Centre for Biodiversity of the Association of South-East Asian Nations, businesses, and several national ministries of education, UN agencies, broadcasting agencies, NGOs and botanical gardens. In particular, Airbus has launched a joint global communications campaign to raise awareness about the Green Wave and, on 16 July, at the Farnborough Airshow, signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the CBD Secretariat in which Airbus agreed “to contribute to raising public awareness on the importance of biodiversity and engaging children and youth in the global biodiversity agenda.” In this respect, Airbus placed a major advertising campaign for the Green Wave in major newspapers and news journals including National Geographic between July and December 2008. With this support and work undertaken to expand its outreach and participation, including the launch of The Green Wave 2009 at the UNEP Tunza International Children’s Conference on the Environment in Stavanger, Norway in June 2008, involvement of schools worldwide in the project is expected to grow significantly in 2009 and 2010. Further details on the project may be found at The Green Wave website (<http://greenwave.cbd.int>).

F. Notifications to national focal points

126. As of the end of November 2008, a total of 120 notifications were sent to national focal points for the Convention on Biological Diversity. Likewise, a total of 25 notifications were sent to the national focal points for the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety. The Secretariat continued to provide courtesy translations of notifications to French and Spanish through in-house capacity, thanks to the financial support of the Government of Spain and France.

G. Publications

127. During 2008, a number of publications were issued by the Secretariat. The fifth edition of the Gincana magazine was launched in the margins of the High-Level Segment of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. Under the theme “From COP 9 to 2010”, the magazine includes articles from the Heads of State of Germany, Japan, Slovenia, Mexico, Antigua and Barbuda, New Zealand, as well as the United Nations Secretary-General and the Executive Director of the United Nations Environment Programme, among others. The Secretariat is in the process of preparing the sixth edition of the Gincana, which will focus on the results of the recent Biodiversity Summit and its High Level Segment, held in May 2008.

128. The following brochures and newsletters were also published by the Secretariat in 2008: “Tourism for development and nature conservation”, “Mainstreaming Biodiversity – Workshops on national biodiversity strategies and action plans”, as well as “The Value of Nature - Ecological, Economic, Cultural and Social Benefits of Protected Areas”, which was launched in the margins of the second meeting of the Working Group on Protected Areas. In addition, a brochure, “Biodiversity and Agriculture: Safeguarding Biodiversity and Securing Food for the World”, together with topical fact sheets and a poster, were published for the International Day for Biological Diversity.

129. Three issues of the Business.2010 newsletter were released, with issues focusing on: access and benefit sharing, agribusiness and business and biodiversity. The second issue of Pachamama was published, with a focus on “Biodiversity - An Integral Part of Our Response to Climate Change”. In 2008, the first newsletter devoted to Civil Society was published.

130. The Secretariat launched in April 2008 its first Biodiversity for Development newsletter. Three issues of the newsletter have been published, which are accessible on the webpage dedicated to biodiversity for development at: <http://www.cbd.int/development/>. A brochure on “Biodiversity for Development and Poverty Alleviation” was also published by the Secretariat.

131. In October 2008, the Secretariat launched an e-newsletter on reducing emissions from deforestation and forest degradation (REDD), a bi-monthly publication to inform the national focal points of the Convention and interested recipients about the biodiversity aspects in relation to REDD. The first issue is accessible on the Secretariat website at: <http://www.cbd.int/forest/redd/newsletters/>.

132. In addition, the following publications in the CBD Technical Series were issued:

- No. 33: Conservation and Use of Wildlife-Based Resources: The Bushmeat Crisis;
- No. 34: Mainstreaming Biodiversity Issues into Forestry and Agriculture;
- No. 35: Implementation of the CBD Programme of Work on Protected Areas: Progress and Perspectives;
- No. 36: Protected Areas in Today's World: Their Values and Benefits for the Welfare of the Planet;
- No. 37: Synthesis and Review of the Best Available Scientific Studies on Priority Areas for Biodiversity Conservation in Marine Areas beyond the Limits of National Jurisdiction;
- No. 38: Access and Benefit-Sharing in Practice: Trends in Partnerships across Sectors;
- No. 39: Cross-Sectoral Toolkit for the Conservation And Sustainable Management of Forest Biodiversity; and
- No. 40: Transboundary Water Resources Management: the Role of International Watercourse Agreements in Implementation of the CBD.

H. Preparations for the celebration of the International Year of Biodiversity in 2010

133. A strategy for the International Year of Biodiversity (IYB) was prepared and submitted to the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. It was welcomed and Parties agreed to work to find resources for the year. Decision IX/33 also suggested that the General Assembly of the United Nations hold a high-level segment on biodiversity for development in 2010. The Secretariat underwent a brainstorming session in the summer and conducted a number of focus groups with children, the general public and partner organizations. As a result, the Secretariat prepared an action plan in the summer of 2008 and has begun implementation. International organizations were invited to mark the year and integrate it into their annual events in 2010.

134. A number of partnerships have already been established. Bioversity International has already begun a campaign for 2010, and has started its planning for a series of events. UNESCO has agreed to organize a travelling exhibition for 2010 and to help launch the year at its headquarters. The World Association of Zoos and Aquariums (WAZA) has also agreed to mark the year. The Consortium of Scientific Partners has created a programme of events for the year.

135. Partnerships with media were also established. Television Trust for the Environment will produce episodes in the Earth Report Series for the year. The Wildscreen Film Festival and ARKive will provide films for use by Parties during the year as part of their celebrations. Programming with the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) for the year is under development.

136. In December 2008, a delegation from the Ishikawa Prefecture of Japan visited the Secretariat to discuss, among other things, the preparations for the International Year. The delegation had an opportunity to brief the Secretariat staff on their work and its relevance to the objectives of the Convention, in particular with the implementation in Ishikawa of the decisions of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. During the visit, meetings were also held with the Executive Secretary and relevant staff members.

I. Promoting the Secretariat website as a major communication tool

137. Continuous efforts are being made by the Secretariat in making its website a more effective tool in communicating the biodiversity message. Every effort is made to update the information and content of the website, ensuring its accuracy and relevance to the enhance phase of implementation of the Convention. The website recorded a total of 3,123,080² pages viewed as of 30 November 2008, with 602,020 page-views recorded on the first day of the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, as well as a significant increase in the pages viewed during the months leading up to and during the biodiversity meetings in Bonn.

138. Following the re-design of its website in 2007, the Secretariat was pleased to receive a message in February 2008 from the Chief of the Small Island Developing States Unit of the Department of Economic and Social Affairs at United Nations Headquarters, informing that, in consulting a number of websites as part of their plans to revamp and update the SIDSNet website, it was concluded that the CBD website was “the best of the best”.

139. The Secretariat continued to make every effort in having the French and Spanish versions of the website fully operational and also in finding ways to secure additional resources to make the website available in all United Nations official languages.

J. Gender considerations

140. With financial support of the Dutch Humanist Institute for Cooperation with Developing Countries (HIVOS), the CBD Secretariat and IUCN conducted jointly a workshop for the elaboration of a

² The statistics in this paragraph have been adjusted to exclude major web crawlers and internal access from the Secretariat.

CBD Gender Plan of Action held from 16 to 18 January 2008, in Geneva, Switzerland. Participants included staff from the Convention Secretariat, IUCN, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), the Women's Environment and Development Organization (WEDO), and indigenous and local community representatives.

141. Presented for consideration at the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties (UNEP/CBD/COP/9/INF/12/Rev.1), the CBD Gender Plan of Action was welcomed by the Parties in decision IX/24. Reflecting the increasing awareness that gender equality and women's empowerment are important prerequisites for environmental conservation and sustainable development, the action plan defines the role of the Secretariat in stimulating and facilitating efforts, both in-house and with partners at the national, regional and global levels, to overcome constraints and take advantage of opportunities to promote gender equality.

142. In cooperation with IUCN, a series of factsheets were prepared and published in 2008 addressing gender and biodiversity, agricultural biodiversity, access and benefit-sharing and national biodiversity strategies and action plans (NBSAPs). These factsheets have been translated into French and Spanish and will be made available on the CBD website for which a gender portal was also created in 2008. Draft guidelines for mainstreaming gender considerations into national biodiversity strategies and action plans (NBSAPs) are now being developed.

143. To express support for the objectives of the meeting, the Secretariat sent a statement at the Third Global Congress of Women in Politics and Governance, which took place in Manila in October 2008, which was presented and disseminated to the participants. Similarly, the Secretariat took part in the International Forum on Gender and Environment, held in Mexico in July 2008, in which a presentation on gender and biodiversity was made during one of the working group sessions.

K. SCBD Museum of Nature and Culture

144. At the January meeting of the Working Group on Access and Benefit-sharing, a representative from the Kalash-Indigenous Survival Programme of Pakistan presented to the Executive Secretary a hand-woven tapestry for inclusion in the SCBD Museum for Nature and Culture. The Minister of Environment of Gabon also donated a piece of art.

145. In February 2008, in the margins of the second meeting meeting of the Ad Hoc Working Group on Protected Areas, the Minister of Environment of Ecuador presented a donation to the Museum.

146. A beautiful painting of the Mahé Botanical Gardens was presented by the Minister of Environment of Seychelles to the Executive Secretary, in the margins of the high-level meeting in Seychelles in April 2008. During the same month, the Secretariat also received a hand-woven scroll from the Government of Tajikistan.

147. The ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties was an opportunity for a number of Governments to present their contribution to the Museum. This includes: Chad, China, Peru, New Zealand, Saint Lucia and Yemen. An egyptologist attending the meeting donated papyrus scrolls to the Secretariat.

148. While on mission in Reunion, the Executive Secretary met with the Director of the Museum of Civilization, to discuss collaboration with the Museum of Nature and Culture. As a contribution to the 2010 International Year of Biodiversity, it was suggested that the inauguration of the Civilization Museum to take place in 2010.

149. An updated list of donations to the Museum is available in annex VI.

V. NATIONAL REPORTING

150. The deadline for submission of the fourth national reports is 30 March 2009. A notification was sent to all Parties in April 2008 reminding them of the deadline for submission of the fourth national report (see <http://www.cbd.int/doc/notifications/2008/ntf-2008-052-nr-04-en.pdf>). The notification also informed about the tools available to assist Parties (see below) and highlighted the importance of the report for assessing progress towards the 2010 target, notably through the third edition of the Global Biodiversity Outlook

151. To facilitate the timely submission of the fourth national report, the Secretariat has been contacting Parties through various means to learn about the status of preparation of the fourth national report and what assistance they may require. So far, of those contacted, some 60 countries have confirmed that a process has been initiated to prepare the fourth national report and that they would try to meet the deadline for submission (30 March 2009).

152. The Secretariat has been providing support to countries for the preparation of their fourth national reports through various means:

- All the regional and subregional capacity-development workshops on NBSAPs and mainstreaming organized in 2008 (totalling 9 workshops) have dedicated a session to the fourth national report. These sessions were very helpful in pushing countries to start the preparation of the fourth national reports.
- The Secretariat, together with the Japanese Ministry of the Environment and the Japanese Wildlife Research Center, are organizing a regional workshop on the fourth national report for South, Southeast and East Asia (2-4 December 2008, Tsukuba, Japan). This will be the first regional workshop ever held to assist countries in preparing national reports. Discussion is ongoing with Norway and other potential donors to support a regional workshop for Africa on the fourth national report, particularly for those countries that have never submitted a national report to the CBD, or were late in submitting previous national reports.
- A side event was organized on the margins of ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties to introduce tools and guides developed to assist with the assessment of progress towards the 2010 biodiversity target and the preparation of the fourth national report. A few countries that had submitted sample chapters to the Secretariat also elaborated on their experiences in preparing these chapters or appendices.
- A portal for the fourth national report (<https://www.cbd.int/nr4/>) has been developed on the website of the Convention. The portal not only provides tools and resource materials to assist countries with the preparation of the fourth national report, but also serves as a communication tool for Parties, through which information concerning the status of funding requests can be obtained, as well as experiences exchanged on the preparation of national reports and case studies on the progress made towards the achievement of the 2010 target.
- The Secretariat has developed partnerships with some organizations, such as Birdlife and its national partners, the Global Biodiversity Information Facility, UNEP-WCMC and Countdown 2010 Secretariat, to provide support to countries in preparing the fourth national report.

- The Secretariat has updated some supporting tools such as the reference manual for the fourth national report to provide further assistance to countries.
- The Secretariat has been working in close collaboration with GEF and UNDP to facilitate timely provision of financial support from GEF to eligible Parties. The status of funding requests can be followed at the above-mentioned portal. Phase two of the GEF project has recently become operational and a third phase is envisaged.

153. The Secretariat, together with other related conventions and UNEP-WCMC, has been facilitating the harmonization of national reporting to the biodiversity-related conventions. In the past year, the Secretariat was involved in a number of activities in this regard:

- Development of a joint reporting framework between the Convention on Biological Diversity and the Ramsar Convention on Wetlands;
- Development of a proposal for harmonized reporting on drylands;
- Development of a proposal for a project funded by the Global Environment Facility (GEF) and implemented by UNEP for harmonized reporting to biodiversity-related conventions in selected countries;
- Participation in meetings organized by UNEP and UNEP-WCMC on knowledge management and harmonization of reporting, and provided input to a paper prepared by UNEP-WCMC based on the discussions of these meetings;
- Participation in a regional workshop for Asia organized by FAO on harmonized reporting to the 2010 Global Forest Resources Assessment and other international processes;
- Participation in a meeting of the task force on streamlining forest-related reporting.

154. As of end of September 2008, a total of 146 third national reports had been received by the Secretariat.

VI. IMPLEMENTATION OF THE CONVENTION AND THE STRATEGIC PLAN

155. The Conference of the Parties at its ninth meeting adopted decision IX/9 on the process for the revision of the Strategic Plan, with a view to adopting a revised Strategic Plan at the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties (COP-10). Furthermore, the Conference of the Parties requested the Working Group on the Review of Implementation, at its third meeting, to prepare, for consideration by COP-10, a revised and updated Strategic Plan. In this regard, Notifications were sent to the Parties and relevant organizations seeking their views on the updating and revision of the Strategic Plan. An electronic forum was also launched by the Secretariat to facilitate the sharing of views from Parties, other Governments, organizations and individuals in an informal manner. All these views, together with the views solicited through the notifications, will enable the Secretariat to prepare a first draft of the revised Strategic Plan early next year. It is envisaged that there will be a range of capacity-development activities and multi-stakeholder consultations to facilitate a broad engagement of stakeholders in the development of potential elements for the updated Strategic Plan and associated framework. The convening of an “eminent persons workshop” during the late 2008 or early 2009 to brainstorm on the post-2010 biodiversity target will provide a significant contribution to the process of the development of the Strategic Plan.

VII. NATIONAL BIODIVERSITY STRATEGY AND ACTION PLANS

Status of NBSAPs

156. By mid-November 2008, 164 Parties had completed their national biodiversity strategies and action plans (NBSAPs) and, of this total, 20 Parties had completed revisions to their NBSAP while 14 have revisions in process. The Secretariat has received the large majority of available NBSAPs and made them available on the Convention's website at <http://www.cbd.int/nbsap/>. The Secretariat is also aware that 18 Parties are in the process of preparing their NBSAP, however, nine Parties have still not provided any information to the Secretariat concerning the status of this document.

157. Decision IX/8 of the Conference of the Parties urges all Parties to develop NBSAPs and to adopt existing strategies, plans or programmes prior to its tenth meeting, in 2010, where the Conference of the Parties will assess progress towards the achievement of the 2010 biodiversity target and implementation of the Strategic Plan, for which effective national biodiversity strategies and action plans are a key element. Letters have been sent to Parties³ with NBSAPs under development, requesting information on the status of the NBSAP and asking that the relevant documents be sent to the Secretariat. In addition, all new Parties⁴ have been contacted requesting an update on plans to develop and adopt the NBSAP by 2010. Finally, Letters to other Parties⁵ that have not provided the Secretariat any information on the status of their NBSAP requesting this information.

158. By the end of 2008, the Secretariat will have organized nine regional and sub-regional capacity development workshops on NBSAPs and the mainstreaming of biodiversity, in line with decisions VIII/8 and IX/8.

- South, East and South-east Asia (Singapore, 14-18 January 2008)
- Southern and Eastern Africa (South Africa 4-7 February 2008)
- Mesoamerica (Mexico, 26-27 March 2008)
- South America (Brazil, 31 March- 4 April 2008)
- Europe (Germany, 26-30 April 2008)
- Central Africa (Cameroon, 22-25 September 2008)
- West Africa (Burkina Faso, 29 September-3 October 2008)
- Caribbean (Trinidad and Tobago, 3-7 November 2008)
- Arab States of North Africa and the Middle East (Egypt, 14-18 December 2008)

159. Through the exchange of experiences and training on the use of relevant tools and mechanisms, the workshops aim to strengthen national capacity for the development, implementation, review and updating of national biodiversity strategies and action plans, and for biodiversity mainstreaming into relevant sectors, in line with decisions of the Conference of the Parties. The workshops will also contribute to the assessment of progress towards the 2010 biodiversity target.

160. In total, 112 Parties participated in the first eight workshops, and an additional 18 Parties are expected to participate at the workshop for North Africa and the Middle East. These workshops have been funded by the governments of France, Canada, Germany, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Spain,

⁴ Montenegro, Timor-Leste

and the UK, with the additional support of host governments as well as UNEP, ECOWAS and the League of Arab States. A webpage on the workshops has been developed, and provides access to all documents as well as country presentations: <http://www.cbd.int/nbsap/workshops.shtml>.

161. Participants in the workshops comprised officials responsible for the development and/or implementation of NBSAPs, nominated by CBD national focal points, as well as a number of experts in biodiversity mainstreaming into sectors and national development policies, Ecosystem Approach, and communication.

162. The workshop programmes have included the following elements:

- National presentations of the state of implementation followed by question and answer periods and discussions;
- Complementary presentations at different levels of government (global, regional/sub-regional, subnational, local);
- Examples from countries on mainstreaming;
- Training by experts on specific topics needed to implement the Convention (for example, strategic environmental assessment; the millennium ecosystem assessment; communication, education and public awareness);
- Briefings on the preparation of the fourth national reports;
- Small group discussions, panel discussions, and interactive exercises; and
- Field trips illustrating opportunities and challenges in biodiversity mainstreaming.

163. Evaluations were carried out at the end of each workshop and these were generally highly positive. Participants welcomed the opportunity, for the first time in meetings under the Convention, to engage in focused learning and information exchange on implementation issues with their counterparts in neighbouring countries.

164. The note by the Executive Secretary on the implementation of the Convention and its Strategic Plan prepared for the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties (UNEP/CBD/COP/9/14/Rev.1) outlines the main conclusions of the first four workshops, including lessons learned on the role NBSAPs have played in the implementation of the Convention, the second generation NBSAPs, approaches to mainstreaming, integration of biodiversity into spatial planning, the development of subnational BSAPs, stakeholder participation, the role of regional processes and mechanisms, monitoring and evaluation, and the importance of communication strategies for NBSAPs. The brochure available at <https://www.cbd.int/doc/publications/cbd-brochure-nbsap-ws-en.pdf> also gives an overview of the results of first five workshops in this series, held prior to the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties.

165. From 22-25 September 2008, the Secretariat, together with the Central African Forest Commission (COMIFAC) and the Government of Cameroon, organized the Capacity Development Workshop for Central Africa on the National Biodiversity Strategies and Action Plans (NBSAPs) and the mainstreaming of biodiversity, in Limbé, Cameroon. Some 80 participants from nine countries – all members of COMIFAC – reviewed progress in implementing the Convention in the region and on integrating biodiversity into sectoral policies and national strategies for poverty reduction. Participants committed themselves to the strengthening the implementation of the Convention in the region, with COMIFAC's Working Group on Biodiversity playing a leading role in the follow-up.

166. The Capacity Development Workshop for West Africa on the National Biodiversity Strategies and Action Plans (NBSAPs) and the mainstreaming of biodiversity was held in Ouagadougou, Burkina Faso, from 29 September to 3 October 2008, organized by the Secretariat in cooperation with the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), the West African Economic and Monetary Union (UEMOA), IUCN and the Government of Burkina Faso. Some 60 participants from 17 Parties participated in the meeting. National Focal Points or NBSAP coordinators presented reports on the implementation of NBSAPs in each country. Additional presentations and discussion focused on the integration of biodiversity into poverty reduction strategies. The use of strategic environmental assessment was highlighted, as was the central importance of communication, education, and public awareness. Other topics focused on at the workshop included environmental accounting, the valuation of biodiversity and ecosystem services.

167. The Workshop for the Caribbean region was held in Trinidad and Tobago from 3 to 7 November 2008. This Workshop incorporated a section to assist countries in integrating concerns relating to the impacts of climate change, and the impacts of climate change mitigation and adaptation activities on biodiversity, within NBSAPs, in line with decision IX/16. In addition, a parallel CBD workshop was held on communication, education and public awareness. At the Caribbean meeting, the University of the West Indies, with the support of CARICOM, agreed to develop a regional biodiversity centre that would, among other things, support a network of professionals responsible for NBSAPs for the exchange of best practices.

168. As noted above, the workshop for the Arab states of North Africa and the Middle East is planned for 14-18 December 2008. Workshops for the Pacific, Central Asia and North America, as well as a second workshop for Europe, are planned for the first half of 2009, to complete the series.

VIII. THE CARTAGENA PROTOCOL ON BIOSAFETY

169. The Secretariat continued to support the implementation of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety. Meetings and training workshops on various issues under the Protocol were organised. Continuously, the central portal of the Biosafety Clearing-House (BCH) was managed. Information and other support were also provided to Parties and other stakeholders.

170. The year was highlighted by two major milestones - the fourth meeting of the governing body of the Protocol, the Conference of the Parties serving as the meeting of the Parties to the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety or COP-MOP, which was held in Bonn from 12 to 16 May 2008 and the fifth anniversary of the entry into force of the Protocol. In close cooperation with Parties and other stakeholders, the Secretariat also continued to support the implementation of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety through organization of meetings, training workshops, side events, online conferences, discussion groups and other activities. The Protocol web pages have been redesigned to facilitate easier access to information by Parties and other stakeholders.

171. The number of ratifications and accessions to the Protocol grew from 143 countries to 151 (as of 15 November 2008). The countries that became Parties to the Protocol in 2008 are: Guinea, Guyana, Myanmar, Suriname, Turkmenistan, Kazakhstan, Burundi and Georgia. During the year, the number of countries that finalized their first draft national biosafety frameworks funded by UNEP-GEF reached 104.

172. September 11, 2008 marked the 5th anniversary of the entry into force of the Protocol and presented an opportunity to review the progress and reflect on the challenges encountered in implementing the Protocol. The theme of the anniversary was: "The Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety: Five years of global cooperation towards sustainable development". This theme was selected to highlight the spirit of consensus and cooperation that has characterized the Protocol process to date and to underline the contribution of the Protocol to the implementation of Agenda 21, the global programme of action on sustainable development, which was adopted during the 1992 Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro. The fifth anniversary was celebrated by Parties and other stakeholders around the world to promote further awareness of the Protocol, and mobilize support for its implementation.

173. Building on the achievements of the first three meetings, the fourth meeting of the Parties (COP-MOP 4) made additional important decisions aimed at advancing the implementation of the Protocol. The Parties adopted 18 decisions during COP-MOP 4. One major achievement is the decision to advance the process for the elaboration of international rules and procedures in the field of liability and redress for damage resulting from transboundary movements of living modified organisms (LMOs).

174. Other important decisions adopted by COP-MOP 4 included the following:

- A comprehensive decision on risk assessment and risk management including the establishment of an Ad Hoc Technical Expert Group on Risk Assessment and Risk Management (AHTEG) to develop further guidance on specific aspects of risk assessment and risk management, an online forum through the Biosafety Clearing-House to be convened prior to two meetings of the expert group and at least one online conference per region to be convened prior to each of the expert group meetings.
- Decisions to further advance and report on the capacity-building efforts to implement Protocol, including approval of a revised set of indicators for monitoring the updated Action Plan for Building Capacities for the Effective Implementation of the Protocol, measures to promote long-term education and training in biosafety and to strengthen the Coordination Mechanism, and adoption of new criteria and minimum requirements for experts to be nominated to the roster of biosafety experts.
- A request for the Secretariat to organize an online conference to identify existing standards with regard to the handling, packaging, transport and identification of LMOs and to identify any gaps in standards and suggest possible modalities to fill such gaps to further facilitate the implementation of Article 18 of the Protocol.
- A request to the Secretariat to implement a number of activities to facilitate ease of access to and use of the Biosafety Clearing-House (BCH).
- Decisions on issues related to compliance based on the recommendations of the Compliance Committee.
- A decision to initiate a process to develop a draft programme of work on public awareness, education and participation concerning the safe transfer, handling and use of LMOs.

A. Capacity-building

175. Regarding capacity-building under the Protocol, the Secretariat organized two capacity-building meetings and one online conference and participated in a number of other related events.

176. The fourth Coordination Meeting for Governments and Organizations Implementing or Funding Biosafety Capacity-Building Activities was organized in New Delhi, India, on 11 to 13 February 2008. A total of 39 participants, including Government officials and representatives of organizations, attended. The main output was a report containing recommendations for COP-MOP 4 regarding measures for improving capacity-building for addressing socio-economic considerations in decision-making regarding LMOs and for implementation of the identification and documentation requirements under Article 18, paragraph 2, of the Protocol.

177. The fifth meeting of the Liaison Group on Capacity-Building for Biosafety was convened in New Delhi, India, from 14 to 15 February 2008. It was attended by 22 participants who made recommendations to COP-MOP 4 regarding measures to further improve the roster of experts and to develop further the preliminary set of indicators for monitoring implementation of the Capacity-Building Action Plan of the Protocol. COP-MOP 4 adopted most of the recommendations.

178. In March 2008, the Secretariat made a presentation on “biosafety capacity evaluation” at a workshop on capacity evaluation tools related to sanitary and phytosanitary (SPS) measures in Geneva, Switzerland, organized by the Standards and Trade Development Facility (STDF) coordinated by the World Trade Organization (WTO). More than 200 participants attended this workshop. The objective was to increase awareness and knowledge about the purpose and scope of the tools developed by international organizations to evaluate capacity in the areas of food safety, animal and plant health, as well as the experiences and results of their practical application.

179. With regard to the implementation of the coordination mechanism, the Secretariat entered into an agreement with the Government of Costa Rica to co-organize the fifth Coordination Meeting for Governments and Organizations Implementing or Funding Biosafety Capacity-Building Activities, back-to-back with the sixth Liaison Group on Capacity-building for Biosafety in San José, Costa Rica, from 9 to 11 March 2009 and 12 to 13 March 2009, respectively.

180. The Secretariat also organised an online conference on capacity-building in environmental risk assessment and post-release monitoring of living modified organisms, which took place from 3 to 14 November 2008. The outcomes of the online conference will provide input for the background paper to be considered at the fifth coordination meeting in Costa Rica after which the recommendations will be submitted to the fifth meeting of the Parties for consideration and adoption, as appropriate.

181. Furthermore, the Secretariat continued to populate and maintain the capacity-building databases in the Biosafety Clearing-House. New records were added to the databases for capacity-building projects, short-term opportunities and biosafety training courses.

182. Finally, following a decision by COP-MOP 4, the Secretariat developed an online revised nomination form for the Roster of Biosafety Experts in the Biosafety Clearing-House. The Secretariat invited all Parties and other Governments to make new nominations to the roster in accordance with the new criteria, minimum requirements and updated guidelines. The registration of experts is being currently undertaken.

B. Liability and redress

183. In 2008, the Secretariat organized and serviced two meetings relating to liability and redress in the context of Article 27 of the Protocol.

184. The fifth meeting of the Open-ended Ad Hoc Working Group of Legal and Technical Experts on Liability and Redress took place from 12 to 19 March 2008 in Cartagena, Colombia. The fifth meeting revised the working draft on approaches and options for rules and procedures in the context of Article 27 of the Protocol. The Working Group agreed to some core elements and reduced options for operational text. The Working Group submitted its final report to the fourth meeting of the Parties.

185. The fifth meeting of the Working Group also established a Friends of the Co-Chairs group that included representatives from each region. The group met from 7 to 10 May 2008 in Bonn, Germany, and continued the negotiations on the rules and procedures on liability and redress in the context of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety. The outcome of the meeting was submitted to the fourth meeting of the Parties. As a result of the deliberations of the Parties at their fourth meeting, the negotiations on liability and redress will continue in 2009 within the Group of the Friends of the Co-Chairs established by the Parties in decision BS-IV/12.

C. Risk assessment and risk management

186. With regard to risk assessment and risk management under the Protocol, the Secretariat also carried out and facilitated several activities during 2008. Among these, the Secretariat organized a workshop, launched the Open-ended Online Expert Forum on Risk Assessment and Risk Management through the Biosafety Clearing-House, and held the first round of discussion groups within the online forum.

187. An Asia Sub-regional Workshop on Capacity-building and Exchange of Experiences on Risk Assessment and Risk Management of Living Modified Organisms took place in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, from 7 to 9 April 2008. The workshop was attended by 40 delegates from Governments and organizations. The main outcome of the meeting was a set of recommendations for the fourth meeting of the Parties regarding priorities for capacity-building for the effective implementation of risk assessment and risk management at the national/regional levels, with emphasis on the application of risk assessment principles on the emerging biotechnology applications, human and financial resources, guidance material on risk assessment and networking among risk assessment experts in the region. The recommendations were considered by COP-MOP 4, which also took note of the conclusions and recommendations of three past regional and subregional workshops held in three other regions prior to 2008.

188. The Open-ended Online Expert Forum on Risk Assessment and Risk Management will serve as a virtual platform where experts can interact and exchange opinions on specific aspects of risk assessment and risk management of LMOs. The online Forum will be comprised of discussion groups and real-time conferences. The outcomes of these events will serve as one of the inputs for the deliberations by the Ad Hoc Technical Expert Group, which will meet twice in the current intersessional period and will report to the Parties at their fifth meeting. At the time when the Forum was launched, 125 national experts and 30 observers had been registered as participants.

189. The first round of Discussion Groups within the Online Expert Forum took place from 10 to 23 November 2008. The aim of these Discussion Groups was to identify major issues related to risk assessment and risk management of specific types of LMOs (trees, fish, microorganisms and pharmaplants).

190. The risk assessment records in the Biosafety Clearing-House were reviewed and made more user-friendly. One hundred and twenty-one new records were created and linked to the relevant national decisions. Decisions taken on specific LMOs were also linked to the respective BCH LMO records to facilitate cross-referencing and improve retrieval of relevant data. Risk assessment records and records contained in the LMO, gene and organism registries were assessed for completeness. The Secretariat also developed new common formats for the submission of risk assessment reports, LMOs, gene and DNA sequences, and organisms.

191. The Secretariat held a presentation on risk assessment of LMOs at the science symposium "Plant Risk Assessment Challenges for the 21st Century: New Crops and New Uses". The event was organized by the Canadian Food Inspection Agency in Ottawa, Canada, from 12 to 14 March 2008. An opening address highlighting the need for environmental risk assessment capacity-building in developing countries was made at the COP-MOP 4 side event "Tools to support environmental risk assessment of transgenic crops" organized by the GMO Environmental Risk Assessment Methodologies (GMO ERA) project. Also, a presentation on risk assessment under the Protocol was made to students of the International Master in Environmental Assessment course, McGill University, during their visit to the Secretariat on 1 October 2008.

192. The Biosafety Division became part of the IPPC Pest Risk Analysis Steering Committee and assisted on the development of a joint work plan, which is aimed at establishing synergies within the CBD and IPPC mandates. The work plan includes mechanisms of collaboration between the IPPC and the CBD on issues related to living modified organisms, development of guidance materials on risk assessment and management of LMOs, standardization of terminology, capacity building and information sharing.

D. Biosafety Clearing-House (BCH)

193. During the year, the Secretariat initiated several activities on the Biosafety Clearing-House, the mechanism to facilitate the exchange of information on LMOs and assist Parties to implement the Protocol. Among these activities, the Secretariat organized the fourth meeting of the Informal Advisory Committee on the Biosafety Clearing-House (BCH-IAC), organized and participated in six workshops relating to the BCH and improved several operational features.

194. At the BCH-IAC meeting, convened in November at the Secretariat in Montreal, the members of the Committee assessed the revamping of the BCH, reviewed the registration section and discussed the Multi-year programme of work for the operation of the BCH.

195. In collaboration with the United Nations Environment Programme–Global Environment Facility (UNEP-GEF) Project on the BCH, the Secretariat organized four regional workshops for National Focal Points for the Biosafety Clearing-House (BCH-NFPs). These were held in Cairo, Egypt, for the African and Asian sub-regions in March 2008 and a training workshop for BCH-NFPs was held before COP-MOP in Bonn, Germany in May 2008. Finally, in July 2008, the Secretariat participated in a training workshop in Fiji for Pacific countries.

196. Throughout the year, the BCH databases continued to expand including: the capacity-building databases containing public awareness projects, the Biosafety Information Resource Center (BIRC), guidance material on risk assessment, national laws, scientific bibliographies and biosafety-related organizations.

197. Biosafety Clearing-House activities also focused on programme elements 1 and 3 of its multi-year programme of work, as approved by the Parties to the Protocol at their fourth meeting. To improve the ease of reporting information, the Secretariat redesigned the registration section of the BCH and developed new common formats for the submission of information. The Secretariat also initiated the implementation of the online registration pages which are expected to be completed before the end of 2008. Two online forums, the Open-ended Online Expert Forum on Risk Assessment and Risk Management and the Online Forum on Capacity-Building, were prepared and launched in November.

198. In September 2008, in accordance with a decision on the roster of biosafety experts, adopted by the Parties at their fourth meeting, all records in the roster were removed and a new roster was established. An online common format for the nomination of experts was made available on the BCH.

199. Following a decision on monitoring and reporting under the Protocol, adopted by the Parties at their fourth meeting, an updated analysis of the first national reports, that includes submissions received by the Secretariat after the deadline, was completed within three months after the fourth meeting of the Parties and made available through the BCH.

200. In accordance with a decision by the Parties at their third meeting, and thanks to a generous contribution from the Swiss Government, a security audit of the Central Portal was undertaken in April 2008. This was done in order to ensure full security of the information in the BCH and to minimize any chance of its loss.

201. Under programme element 5 ('Review of activities') of the Multi-year programme of work for the operation of the BCH, a survey of BCH users was launched on 1 December 2007 was made available on the home page of the Biosafety Clearing-House (BCH) in four languages and in both electronic and printable format. A detailed breakdown of the results, as well as a comparison of the improvements against the previous existing baseline data (where available), are contained in document UNEP/CBD/BS/COP-MOP/4/INF/20.

202. In accordance with a decision by COP-MOP 3, the BCH has now been translated into all 6 official UN languages.

203. In collaboration with the UNEP-GEF BCH Project, the BCH help system has been extensively updated including comprehensive, context-sensitive 'Help' information made available from individual BCH pages.

E. Compliance

204. The Compliance Committee established under the Protocol held its fifth meeting in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia from November 19 to 21, 2008. The Committee reviewed the outcomes of COP-MOP 4 regarding compliance and also reviewed general issues of non-compliance based on the revised analysis of the first national reports.

F. Public awareness and outreach

205. Concerning public awareness and outreach, the Secretariat undertook a number of public activities within the framework of the previous and new outreach strategies (2008-2012) for the Cartagena Protocol.

206. In January, the Secretariat participated in a gender workshop in Geneva to develop a plan of action and to mainstream gender issues in the CBD Secretariat. The workshop also included representatives of UN agencies and other stakeholders including International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN).

207. The Secretariat organized several side events during the fourth meeting of the Parties and a Communication, Education and Public Awareness fair on experiences of implementing the Protocol. The side events covered issues related to the BCH, capacity-building, cooperation, risk assessment and public awareness. During the fair, Parties and other stakeholders had the opportunity to display outreach materials and make presentations. Some of the presentations were also webcasted during COP-MOP 4: http://unfccc.meta-fusion.com/kongresse/CBD2008/templ/ovw_cbd.php?id_kongressmain=46

208. Together with the Aarhus Convention Secretariat, the CBD Secretariat facilitated the international workshop on access to information, public participation and access to justice regarding GMOs, which was held from 19 to 20 May 2008 in Cologne, Germany, immediately after the fourth meeting of Parties to the Protocol. More than 80 participants, including National Focal Points for the Biosafety Protocol, attended. The participants shared experiences, good practices and lessons learned regarding access to information, public participation and access to justice with respect to GMOs and identified the most pressing needs and challenges in respect to these issues and possible measures to address them.

209. The Secretariat continued to hold presentations for university students during the year. In April, a presentation was held regarding handling, transport, packaging and identification requirements under the Protocol during a sustainable development conference at Concordia University for students with a degree in business administration. In the summer, a presentation on the Protocol was given to a group of visitors to the SCBD from the summer school on 'International and European Environmental Law' at the Centre d'études et de recherches internationales from the University of Montreal. In October, one presentation was given to a visiting group of students from Concordia University to the Secretariat explaining, among other things, the Protocol in general and the issue of liability and redress under the Protocol. In the same month, a presentation was given to an international development studies class at McGill University. The presentation discussed the Protocol in general and its role in sustainable development.

210. The Secretariat also participated in the First All Africa Congress on Biotechnology, organized by the African Biotechnology Stakeholders Forum in collaboration with several other entities, including the African Union, which was held in Nairobi from 22 to 26 September 2008. More than 200 participants, including agricultural research organizations, academic institutions, and representatives of international donors and the private sector attended the meeting. The participants shared information and experiences in the development and application of biotechnology for Africa's development. The representative of the Secretariat made a presentation on the nature and role of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety in supporting the safe development and use of modern biotechnology.

211. Five publications were issued and a CD-ROM with the entire collection of the Protocol publications was set up during 2008. The CD-ROM was disseminated during major events such as COP-MOP 4. The Secretariat also published the fourth issue of the Biosafety Protocol News newsletter, which featured articles relating to the first five years of the entry into force of the Protocol. The fifth issue of the Biosafety Protocol News was also issued, which featured articles on capacity-building activities: best practices and lessons learned. The Secretariat also issued a publication on "Rules, Procedures and Mechanisms Applicable to Processes under the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety" and a pamphlet to highlight the developments of the Protocol. The Secretariat also contributed relevant information on the Protocol to the Green Customs Guide to Multilateral Environmental Agreements published by the Green Customs Initiative.

212. A number of outreach materials to mark the fifth anniversary of the entry into force of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety were developed for a dedicated website and a CD-ROM. The CD-ROM was disseminated to all Parties and other stakeholders. The web page for the fifth anniversary of the entry into force of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety was viewed and linked through other websites by a number of Parties and other stakeholder (<http://www.cbd.int/biosafety/anniversary>). The outreach materials in the CD-ROM and web page contained messages from the Secretary-General of the United Nations, the President of the fourth meeting of the Parties and the Executive Secretary of the Convention, the fifth edition of the Biosafety Protocol News focusing on the first five years of the Protocol, a press-release, several banners for an online exhibit, a poster and a document which contained milestones since the entry into force of the Protocol and news coverage of the anniversary.

213. Other outreach activities involved a comprehensive re-design and continuous update of the website of the Protocol, a kiosk for visibility of the Protocol, several interviews, webcasting during the fourth meeting of the Parties, participation during an event for the International Biodiversity Day and expansion of records on public awareness in the Biosafety Clearing-House under the capacity-building database and in the Biosafety Information Resource Center (BIRC).

G. Collaboration and partnerships with other organizations

214. In 2008, the Secretariat continued to strengthen its collaboration with different partner organizations. The Secretariat participated in the fourth meeting of the partners of the Green Customs Initiative held in Paris from 23 to 25 January 2008. The meeting was also attended by representatives of other partners in the Initiative and resulted in, amongst other things, a work plan for the Green Customs Initiative for 2008. In February 2008, the Secretariat provided materials for a presentation on the Protocol that was given during the first Green Customs workshop in the Latin American region, which was held in Venezuela.

215. The Secretariat also organized a side-event during the fourth meeting of the Parties to provide an introduction to the Initiative and its activities as well as an overview of the Secretariat's involvement. In September, the Green Customs Guide to Multilateral Environmental Agreements was published. The SCBD contributed information on the role of customs officers in the implementation of the identification and documentation requirements under the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety to the Guide.

216. With the Aarhus Convention, the Secretariat actively facilitated an international workshop on access to information, public participation and access to justice regarding genetically modified organisms held on 19 to 20 May 2008 in Cologne, Germany. More than 80 participants, including national focal points for the Protocol, attended. The participants shared experiences, good practices and lessons learned on the issue and identified the most pressing needs and challenges and possible measures to address them. The Secretariat also organized and held a presentation with the Aarhus Convention to discuss similar issues during the fourth meeting of the Parties.

217. A meeting between the secretariats of the Convention on Biological Diversity and the International Plant Protection Convention (IPPC) was held on 18 February 2008 at the margins of the thirteenth meeting of the Subsidiary Body on Scientific, Technical and Technological Advice (SBSTTA), in Rome, Italy. Among the issues discussed, the following were directly relevant to the Biosafety Protocol: development of standards of mutual interest under the IPPC and under the CBD and the Biosafety Protocol; capacity-building and technical assistance; mechanisms for sharing information through the International Phytosanitary Portal, the clearing house mechanism of the CBD and the Biosafety Clearing-House of the Biosafety Protocol. It was also re-affirmed at this meeting that the two secretariats will work together to avoid duplication, encourage cooperation at both the international, regional and national levels and use one another's expertise as appropriate.

Socio-economic considerations

218. The Secretariat assisted the UNEP-GEF Project on Biosafety in the organization of a workshop on socio-economic considerations, which was held from 21 to 23 July 2008 in Mexico City, Mexico. Sixteen experts in the field of socio-economic considerations and biosafety attended the workshop to discuss research being undertaken in a project funded by the United Kingdom Department for International Development.

Financial mechanism and resources

219. In July 2008, the Secretariat had a meeting with staff from the GEF Evaluation Office. Consequently, an invitation was sent to all Parties and other stakeholders to actively participate in the survey for the independent mid-term review of the GEF Resource Allocation Framework (RAF) and provide feedback on their experiences with the RAF with respect to the GEF support for the implementation of the Protocol and make suggestions for improvement. The findings of the review will be presented to the GEF Council at its November 2008 meeting.

Status of ratification or accession to the Protocol

220. As of 15 November 2008, with the recent ratifications of Georgia and Burundi, the number of Parties to the Protocol has increased to 151. The list of Parties is available on the website: <http://www.cbd.int/biosafety/signinglist.shtml>.

VIII. IMPLEMENTATION OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE ARRANGEMENTS

A. Recruitment and personnel issues

221. Since January 2008, a total of 37 memoranda were sent to UNON/UNEP regarding personnel issues. This compares with 40 in 2007 and 90 in all of 2006. This shows a very significant improvement and collaboration between the Secretariat and UNON/UNEP in effectively carrying out its functions on matters relating to personnel resulting in an expeditious processing of recruitment in the Secretariat, with 37 Professional staff members being regularized on posts funded from the core budget. Additionally, six Professional staff members are regularized on posts funded from other sources. The Executive Secretary has established procedures which ensure that vacant positions are regularised as soon as they are vacant.

222. In paragraph 8 of its decision VIII/16, the Conference of the Parties requested the Executive Secretary to secure more resources from the programme support to fund Convention activities, and in keeping with this decision the Secretariat sent requests and follow-ups letters to UNEP on 11 February 2007, 16 February 2007, 22 February 2007, 8 March 2007, 21 May 2007 and 28 May 2007 respectively requesting additional funding from the programme support funds. This resulted in 2008 in the approval by UNEP from the programme support funds of the following positions; Finance Assistant (G6) and Administrative Assistant (G6). The recruitment for the Administrative Assistant has been completed and the successful candidate has reported to work while the recruitment of the Finance Assistant is ongoing.

223. With regard to general service posts, 27 General Service staff members have been regularized on posts funded by the core budget. Additionally, seven staff members are regularized on posts funded from other sources. The recruitment of one post is ongoing. The number of interns and short-term staff members working at the Secretariat in 2008 was 34.

B. Enhancing collaboration for meeting conference services capacities

224. An agreement was reached with the Division of Conference Services of UNON for the provision of interpretation services for all meetings under the Convention from 2008 to 2010, which resulted in the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on 16 January 2008. As a result of this, UNON/DCS provided interpretation services for the COP 9/MOP 4 meeting held in Bonn, Germany, May 2008.

225. A number of initiatives designed to further streamline the services provided by the Conference and Editorial Services (CES) team have been launched in 2008. These include:

- An update of the Conference and Editorial Services folder located on the Secretariat's shared drive. The CES folder has been redesigned in alignment with the calendar of events 2008-2010 to contribute to the overall enhancement of the Secretariat's knowledge base. The CES folder will house standard meeting documents of relevance to all members of the Secretariat staff;
- The design of a meeting side events registration and on-site management and visual display system;
- The development of a Secretariat documents preparation calendar, in cooperation with the substantive divisions of the Secretariat, in order to enhance editorial and translation services planning; and
- Further to the development in 2007 of a Document Translation Management System (DTMS) to streamline the internal document translation process, which allows for easy generation of status reports and statistics (by meeting, translator and/or budget line), the CES team is working on the design and development of a standard CBD terminology lexicon in the 6 UN languages. Development and dissemination of the lexicon is expected to further streamline the Secretariat's document management workflow and reduce translation costs.

C. Implementing 2006 audit recommendation

226. In keeping with the decision of the Conference of the Parties at its eighth meeting, the Secretariat made the necessary arrangements for the United Nations External Board of Auditors to audit the accounts of the Secretariat during March 2008, prior to the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. The audit report was issued in May 2008 and presented to the ninth meeting. The following recommendations were raised and are being addressed:

- Recommendation 1 - Preparation of separate Financial Reporting for SCBD.
- Recommendation 2 - Reporting of BVL Trust Funds in SCBD financial statements
- Recommendation 3 - Re-classification of BVL as a liability
- Recommendation 5 - Reconciliation of contribution statements with UNON reports
- Recommendation 11 – Disclosure of end-of-service liabilities
- Recommendation 12 – Implementation of Result-based-budget

227. At its ninth meeting, the Conference of the Parties made no provision for a separate audit of the Secretariat in the biennium 2009-2010. However, the United Nations Board of Auditors, in its annual audit of UNEP, plans to carry out a review of the Secretariat activities in the course of 2009.

D. Administrative arrangements between the Conference of the Parties and UNEP

228. The Executive Secretary wrote to the UNEP Executive Director on 15 June 2006, drawing his attention to decisions VII/33 and VIII/10 of the Conference of the Parties and to the draft revised administrative arrangements. By letter dated 31 July 2006, the Executive Director noted that the review of administrative arrangements between UNEP and the Secretariat would be conducted as part of a broader analytical review of other administrative arrangements with the UNEP-administered conventions.

229. The Executive Secretary reminded the Executive Director in January 2008 that the Conference of the Parties will address the issue of administrative arrangements between UNEP and the Secretariat at its ninth meeting and noted that in response to decision VII/33 a draft revised administrative arrangement had been submitted to UNEP for consideration. In a response dated 20 March 2008, the Executive Director indicated that he appreciated the relevant decisions of the Conference of the Parties. However, he felt that the matter of administrative arrangements between UNEP and the UNEP administered Conventions should be addressed in a coherent and holistic manner and avoid the existing mechanism of dealing with issues in a piecemeal and ad hoc manner. Therefore, he was not yet in a position to provide specific or detailed comments on the draft submitted on revised administrative arrangements. The Executive Director further added that he would inform the Parties or the Bureau, as and when appropriate, on the coherent and integrated measures and actions that he has initiated with UNEP-administered multilateral environmental agreements with an objective of having an overarching framework arrangement with all of them.

E. Greening the operations of the Secretariat

230. The Greening task force established within the Secretariat continues to review all activities and to recommend measures to minimize the environmental impact of Secretariat activities.

231. At the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, the Secretariat submitted an information note entitled “A First Step Towards Environmental Reporting (2006-2007)” (UNEP/CBD/COP/9/INF/42).⁶

232. Also at the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, a memorandum of cooperation to offset all carbon emissions arising out of the Secretariat’s operations between the ninth and tenth meetings of the Conference of the Parties, including the travel of funded Party representatives to attend official meetings under the Convention, was signed between the State of Paraná, Brazil and the Secretariat. This initiative is part of a larger award-winning project called the Riparian Reforestation Programme.

233. In October 2008, the Secretariat has submitted documentation to the Environmental Management Group (EMG) to support the progress made with respect to its commitment towards reaching climate neutrality.

234. For 2008, in support of the Secretary-General’s initiative for a C-Neutral UN, and to minimize the environmental impacts of the Secretariat’s processes, the Secretariat has decided to send electronic Christmas greeting cards instead of the customary paper cards.

F. Enhancing staff performance

235. Continuous efforts have been made to facilitate communication between the staff of the Secretariat. 15 all-staff meetings have been convened in 2008 and a total of 5 meetings of the Heads of Unit were held. To enhance the flow of information within the Secretariat, a total of 1,562 correspondences were sent to all staff from the Office of the Executive Secretary. In addition, in December 2008, the staff of the Resources Management Services, Conference Services, the Office of Executive Secretary, Social Economic and Legal Affairs as well as the Biosafety Unit were involved in individual team building sessions. This will continue in January 2009 with the remaining units.

G. Financial issues

236. With regard to budgetary matters, as at 31 October 2008, of the total pledged contributions of $8,523,616 for 2008 to the General Trust Fund for the Convention on Biological Diversity (BY Trust Fund), the total contributions received amounted to $8,617,453 of which $1,539,721 were 2008 pledges paid in 2007, and $7,077,732 were pledges paid in 2008 for 2008 and future years. Several Parties have contributed additional voluntary funds in support of approved activities under the Convention (BE Trust Fund). The total pledged for 2008 amounts to $5,340,610 of which $4,734,981 has been received. Total unpaid pledges for 2008 and prior years to the BE Trust Fund is $944,438. Pledges totalling $1,092,858 have been made in 2008 as additional voluntary contributions to facilitate the participation of Parties to the Convention Process (BZ Trust Fund). To date $1,092,858 has been received. Total unpaid pledges, for 2008 and prior years, to the BZ Trust Fund, amount to $208,134.

237. As at 31 October 2008, of the total pledged contributions of US$ 1,718,790 for 2008 to the General Trust Fund for the Core Programme Budget for the Biosafety Protocol (BG Trust Fund), total contributions received is $2,118,114 of which $433,107 was received in advance of 2008 and $1,685,007 has been received in 2008 for 2008 and future years. Six Parties have pledged and/or contributed to the Special Voluntary Trust Fund for Additional Voluntary Contributions in support of Approved Activities of the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety, (BH Trust Fund). To date, $495,534 has been received in 2008 for 2008 and future years. Five Parties have pledged and/or contributed to the Special Voluntary Trust Fund for Facilitating Participation of Developing Country Parties in the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety, (BI Trust Fund). Pledges totalling $319,735 have been received in 2008, of which $208,788 has been collected. Total unpaid pledges, for 2008 and prior years, to the BI Trust Fund, amount to $163,290.

⁶ See <http://www.cbd.int/doc/?meeting=COP-09>

238. In keeping with decision VIII/5 D of the eighth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, the General Trust Fund for Voluntary Contributions to Facilitate the Participation of Indigenous and Local Communities in the Work of the Convention on Biological Diversity (VB Trust Fund) has been established. Pledges were received from: Canada (30,000 Canadian dollars); Finland (8,000 euros); Germany (32,404 euros); Spain (218,090 euros) and Austria (15,000 euros). Contributions of $413,505 have been received in 2008. Total unpaid pledges, for 2008 and prior years, to the VB Trust Fund, amount to $14,038. Details of the various trust funds are reproduced in annex VII below.

Status of expenditures:

239. At its eighth meeting, the Conference of the Parties to the Convention approved a budget of $11,390,600 for the BY Trust Fund for 2008. As at 31 October 2008, a total of $11,203,204 had been spent or committed. This represents 98.4% of the approved amount.

240. At their third meeting, the Parties to the Cartagena Protocol approved a budget of $2,108,100 for the BG Trust Fund for 2008. As at 31 October 2008 a total of $1,494,452 has been spent or committed. This represents 70.9% of the approved amount.

IX. THE WAY FORWARD

241. In June 2008, a month after the ninth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, at the kind invitation of the Government of Japan, the Executive Secretary participated as a keynote speaker at the kick-off seminar for the success of the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties, which took place in Nagoya, Japan. The meeting, organized by the Japanese Ministry of Environment, in collaboration with the COP 10 Promotion Committee of Aichi Prefecture and the City of Nagoya, attracted more than 1,100 participants. The Executive Secretary had an opportunity to meet the Minister of Environment of Japan. During the event, a song for the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties was performed by 191 children, representing the number of Parties to the Convention. The Executive Secretary also delivered a presentation on the Nagoya challenges at the G8 Dialogue Series, organized by the United Nations University. Meetings were held with: senior officials from the Ministry of the Environment, representatives of Japanese non-governmental organizations, senior officials from the Aichi Prefecture, officials from the City of Nagoya, among others. While on mission in Nairobi in April 2008, the Executive Secretary had an opportunity to meet with the Permanent Representative of Japan to the United Nations Environment Programme on the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties.

242. In September, the Executive Secretary paid a visit to Japan, at the invitation of the Science Council of Japan, the Executive Secretary delivered a presentation on "Biodiversity, well-being and Sustainable Society", which took place in Tokyo, Japan. The Executive Secretary participated and addressed the participants of the sixteenth Environment Congress for Asia and Pacific 2008. A presentation was made on "Biodiversity challenges and responses: Towards the Nagoya Biodiversity Summit". The ES was also invited to attend the opening of the First National meeting on Satoyama-Satoumi Sub-Global Assessment. During his mission in Japan, the Executive Secretary had the privilege to meet the new Japanese Environment Minister, as well as other senior staff at the Environment Ministry. He also met senior officials from the Foreign Affairs Ministry.

243. To ensure the success of the Nagoya meetings in 2010, the Ministry of Environment of Japan has seconded a staff member to the Secretariat, who will act as the focal point/liaison officer between the Secretariat and the Government of Japan, providing assistance on major scientific issues on the agenda of the tenth meeting of the Conference of the Parties. Likewise, the City of Nagoya will provide a staff member to the Secretariat to assist in the matters related to the engagement of cities and local authorities in the implementation of the Convention.

244. The Secretariat and the Government of Japan are in discussion with regard to the Host Government Agreement (HGA). A preliminary draft HGA has been submitted to the Government of Japan for comments.

Annex I

LIST OF CBD MEETINGS IN 2008

	Dates	Meeting	Venue
1	7 - 10 January 2008	Workshop to strengthen national and regional capacities in the sub-region of Francophone Africa with a view to promoting and facilitating the implementation of the Programme of work on Protected Areas	Libreville, Gabon

PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENTS SIGNED BY THE SECRETARIAT IN 2008

As of 30 November 2008

	Title	Subject	Signature
1	AIRBUS	The agreement aims to contribute to raising public awareness on the importance of biodiversity and engaging children and youth in the global biodiversity agenda.	July 2008
2	Alpine Convention and Carpathian Convention	To promote synergies through exchanges of experiences and best practices on issues of mutual relevance. The agreement also aims to promote, in the framework of the Mountain Partnership, participatory sustainable mountain development with all the relevant stakeholders, including: youth, women, NGOs, local authorities, local communities and the private sector.	May 2008
3	ASEAN - Centre for Biodiversity	The agreement establishes a collaborative partnership for and share resources in the areas of research, capacity-building and training, public education and awareness, exchange of information, policy development and coordination, technical and scientific cooperation and other areas of mutual interest for conservation and sustainable development of biodiversity in Southeast Asia.	January 2008
4	Bern Convention - Convention on the Conservation of European Wildlife and Natural Habitats	With a view to advancing implementation of the threefold objective of the Convention, the enhanced agreement will also provide support in the achievement of the 2010 biodiversity target.	May 2008
5	Bioversity International	With the aim to strengthen collaboration, Bioversity International will contribute staff time to support the work of the CBD in areas of mutual relevance which shall include support for, but not limited to, the programme of work on agricultural biodiversity, the programme of work on forestry, support for the implementation of the Global Strategy for Plant Conservation, work on access and benefit-sharing and indicators of biodiversity.	May 2008
6	Brazil - State of Parana	To offset CBD greenhouse gas emissions from 2008 to 2010, and its support to CBD's commitment in reducing the environmental footprint of its operations, the State of Parana, through its Riparian Forest Program, will plant about 100,000 native trees covering approximately 100 hectares in the next two years.	May 2008
7	COMIFAC – Central African Forest Commission	To strengthen sustainable forest management in Central Africa, through capacity building for national biodiversity strategies and action plans, mainstreaming biodiversity into sectoral development planning and poverty reduction strategies, and production of informational materials on lessons learned and good practices from the Congo basin countries' experiences.	May 2008

8	Higashiyama Botanical Gardens	The agreement aims to promote the effective implementation of Convention and its Protocol through the organization of a training seminar for the COP-10 participants, and also makes the Higashiyama Botanical Gardens the newest member of the Consortium of Scientific Partnership on Biodiversity.	June 2008
9	GEO - Group on Earth Observations	To collaborate in supporting science-based decision-making, promoting the gathering, analysis and dissemination of biodiversity data and information, improving the scientific understanding of the status and trends of, and threats to, biodiversity, including the drivers of change, and encouraging interaction amongst scientists and decision makers.	September 2008
10	Kobe University - Graduate School of International Cooperation Studies	The objective of the agreement is to provide a framework for an internship programme and other academic activities for students of the GSCIS in cooperation with the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity.	February 2008
11	Nagoya City University - Public University Corporation	The agreement aims to further promote the effective implementation of the Convention and its Protocol. The partnership focuses on the mobilization of the Nagoya academia for COP-10.	June 2008
12	The Nature Conservancy	To enhance cooperation on issues of common interest relating to the three objectives of the Convention on Biological Diversity. Detailed activities to be developed in an annual work plan, setting out priorities, deadlines, responsibilities, potential partners.	October 2008
13	Tokyo University - Graduate School of Agricultural and Life Sciences	The agreement aims to provide a framework for an internship programme for students of the School and the Secretariat of the Convention on Biological Diversity.	March 2008
14	United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) - Environment and Energy Group	The agreement aims to better integrate the objectives of the Convention into development and significantly reduce the loss of biodiversity by 2010. Areas of cooperation include: knowledge, policy advice, advocacy, and technical support, relative to all aspects of the internalization of biodiversity considerations in development practice, in particular poverty reduction, democratic governance, crisis prevention and recovery, as well as on issues related to climate change and biodiversity.	May 2008
15	Union for Ethical BioTrade	To enhance cooperation with a view to encouraging companies involved in biotrade to adopt and promote good practice as a contribution towards the 2010 target and the objectives of the Convention.	November 2008
