

To begin reaching out and connecting with state and local child support offices, grantees may find it helpful to start with the OCSE Regional Office in their area. This link is a map of the ten regional offices, and the contact information for each is available by clicking on a specific location.

<http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/oro>

For additional information about child support services, this link contains a lot of information, some of the most helpful will be found by clicking on the Families tab near the top of the page.

<http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/css>

Joint message with Commissioner Turetsky

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ICHo4GPkYKU>

Lastly, please share my contact information as needed, and let me know what more I can do to support and facilitate partnership development.

Contact Barbara Lacina for more information:

Acting Director, Division of Program Innovation
Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE)
Administration for Children and Families
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
202-401-5068 office
202-738-6179 BlackBerry
barbara.lacina@acf.hhs.gov

For more information on how the child support program promotes child well-being and family self-sufficiency, read our fact sheet series!