

Instructions for Petition by Investor to Remove Conditions on Permanent Resident Status

Department of Homeland Security
U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services

USCIS
Form I-829
OMB No. 1615-0045
Expires 03/31/2027

What Is the Purpose of Form I-829?

Form I-829 is for immigrant investors to petition to remove the conditions on their, and certain dependents', permanent resident status which they obtained based on investment in a new commercial enterprise. The petitioner must submit this petition within the 90-day period immediately preceding the second anniversary of obtaining conditional permanent resident status.

What Happens When I File or Fail to File Form I-829?

Effect of Filing

If U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) accepts your petition before your conditional permanent resident status is terminated, your conditional permanent resident status will automatically be extended for the period indicated on your filing receipt. You will receive a filing receipt that you should carry with your Permanent Resident Card. If you travel outside the United States while this petition is pending, you will have to show, when you board a plane, ship, or other carrier to come back to the United States, that you are eligible to return. You should present both your Permanent Resident Card and the filing receipt for this petition when you return, as well as in all other situations in which you are required to provide evidence of your conditional permanent resident status.

Effect of Not Filing

If you fail to file this petition within the 90-day period immediately preceding the second anniversary of obtaining your conditional permanent resident status, USCIS will terminate your conditional permanent resident status and you will become removable from the United States. However, if your failure to file within that 90-day period was for good cause and due to extenuating circumstances, you may file your petition late with a written explanation and request that USCIS, in its discretion, excuse your late filing.

Who May File Form I-829?

You may use this form to request the removal of conditions on your permanent resident status if you were granted conditional permanent resident status as an investor. You may include your conditional permanent resident spouse or former spouse and children in your petition. If your spouse and children are not included on this Form I-829 petition, each dependent must file their own petition separately. Your spouse and children cannot be included together on a Form I-829 petition if they are not filing with you, the principal investor. However, the surviving spouse and children may be included together on a Form I-829 petition if the principal investor has died.

If you are the conditional permanent resident child of an investor and you have reached 21 years of age or married during the period of conditional permanent residency, or if you are the former conditional permanent resident spouse of an investor, who was divorced from the investor during the period of conditional permanent residence, you may still be included in the investor's petition or you may choose to file a separate petition.

NOTE: If you are filing a separate petition from the investor, you should attach a copy of the investor's Form I-797, Notice of Action, relating to their I-829 petition.

If you obtained conditional permanent resident status through your investor spouse or parent, and that spouse or parent has died, you may use this form to petition for removal of the conditions on your permanent resident status.
