

Contents

Introduction	7
1. Inside the walls	17
1. Geographic space and human settlement	17
2. The Lateran and the Vatican: two eccentric poles	31
3. Nobles and their towers, barons and their fortresses	38
2. Outside the walls	49
1. Castles or casali ?	49
2. The triumph of the casale	59
3. The people of Rome	79
1. The Roman people: a problem of identity	80
2. The world of crafts	82
3. The two souls of the people	105
4. The city nobility: metamorphosis of a social class	127
1. A super élite	128
2. The bases of a hegemony	135
3. In search of a new identity	149
5. A thoroughly Roman anomaly: the barons	167
1. The heist of the century	167
2. How to become a baron	169
3. Living a baron's life	187
6. The Roman Commune: three centuries of stability and adaptability	213
1. The Commune of citizen-knights	213
2. The realm of wolves	228
3. The people in power: the government of the Felice Società	247

7. The colours of the city	261
1. The baroque hurricane	261
2. The twelfth- and thirteenth-century rebirth: the churches and their decoration	268
3. Houses and palazzi : re-appropriation and colours	283
4. Rome and the invention of modern painting	297
8. The lure of the ancient world	309
1. The beauty of Rome	309
2. The myth of Rome	334
Conclusion	349
Maps	355
Bibliography	363
Index	383