

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
List of Figures and Tables	xiii
Introduction	1
Part I: The Hospital
1 Using Bacteriology in Teaching Hospitals: London and Cambridge, 1880–1920	13
2 Integrating the Laboratory into Gentlemanly Practice	41
Part II: The Workplace
3 Anthrax in Bradford: Understanding Deadly Disease in the Workplace, 1880–1905	65
4 Anthrax in London: Leather, Zoo Keeping and Shaving Brushes, 1882–1932	95
Part III: The Community
5 Charity, Compensation and Carriers: The Development of Blame and Responsibility in Response to Epidemics	125
6 The ‘Typhoid Trials’: Compensation Culture in 1930s Croydon	149
Conclusion	177
Notes	185
Works Cited	231
Index	247