Prince Edward Island is special

The Epekwitnewaq Mi'kmaq, the Indigenous People of Prince Edward Island, call this beautiful island Epekwitk, which means “resting on the waves.” The University of Prince Edward Island recognizes and acknowledges our location on the unceded, ancestral lands of the Mi'kmaq People, in their traditional and current territory of Mi'kma'ki.

Education is a key component of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada's Calls to Action. UPEI is committed to advancing reconciliation through higher education. As a community, we have started a journey of growth to realize the role we must play in promoting an understanding of Indigenous history and culture and supporting respectful relationships.

PEI may be Canada's smallest province, but it packs a punch. We're known around the world for scenic landscapes, sun-swept beaches, and small-town charm. It's also one of the safest places to live!

And just like our Island home, the University of Prince Edward Island offers an amazing student experience at our historic campus in Charlottetown. Safety, inclusiveness, plus all the amenities of a large city.

UPEI EMBODIES EVERYTHING GREAT ABOUT PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

Everybody knows everybody

Henrietta

Bachelor of Science in Nursing
Stratford, Prince Edward Island

“The smallness of the UPEI campus community ensures that you have access to staff and resources; you are ‘seen’ and do not get lost in the crowd. From my first year, all my instructors and everyone else in the Faculty of Nursing knew me by name, even if I had not been personally involved with them.”

“A unique fact is that on PEI, everybody knows everybody, and after a short time, I became a part of the everybody. I got to know most people in the community, and they got to know me as different activities brought us together: neighbourhood, church, children’s schools, sports and recreation, community gardens, and camps. I don’t think you get that in most places.”

“I chose UPEI’s Bachelor of Education program because the application process considered my previous experience in instructional settings, experience with children and youth, academic achievements, and other extended training. Identifying as Indigenous, I chose to specialize in the Indigenous education focus and complete my final practicum within an Indigenous community. Every staff and faculty member goes above and beyond to offer flexibility and adaptability, and having such a welcoming cohort of fellow students made moving to a new province and starting at a new university with a full course load feel achievable and fun!”

A perfect place to learn

Nathalie

Master of Business Administration in Global Leadership
Central Village, St. Catherine, Jamaica

“For such a small island on the east coast of Canada, I feel like I have seen so much of the world without ever leaving PEI. My closest friends are from China, The Bahamas, Vietnam, Mauritius, Nigeria, and Canada. My team at work consists of persons from Mali, India, and Brazil. My current MBA cohort has students from at least 10 different countries.”

“I can have Thai, Indian, or Jamaican food, depending on what I feel like on a given day, and when I walk across campus, so many different languages can be heard as friends stand and chat. How beautiful is that? Talk about a perfect place to learn about diversity and form networks for business in different countries!”

A graduate of UPEI's Bachelor of Business Administration program (Class of 2018), Nathalie is now enjoying her experience in the Master of Business Administration in Global Leadership program. Read more at upei.ca/nathalie
