

Contents

Preface ... vi

Introduction ... 1

Ole Bruun and Michael Jacobsen, Nordic Institute of Asian Studies

- 1 Since There Is No East and There Is No West,
How Could Either Be the Best? ... 21
Edward Friedman (University of Wisconsin)
 - 2 Universal Rights and Particular Cultures... 43
Michael Freeman (University of Essex)
 - 3 Thick and Thin Accounts of Human Rights ... 59
Joseph Chan (University of Hong Kong)
 - 4 Once Again, The Asian Values Debate ... 75
Maria Serena I. Diokno (University of the Philippines)
 - 5 Human Rights and Asian Values in Vietnam ... 92
Vo Van Ai (President, Viet Nam Committee on Human Rights; Vice-President, International Federation of Human Rights Leagues, France)
 - 6 Particularism, Identities and a Clash of Universalisms ... 111
Jon O. Halldorsson (University of Iceland)
 - 7 Modernization without Westernization? ... 134
Hugo Stokke (Chr. Michelsen Institute, Bergen)
 - 8 Human Rights in Vietnam ... 159
Tine Gammeltoft and Rolf Hernø (Copenhagen University)
 - 9 Freedom as an Asian Value ... 178
David Kelly (Australian Defence Force Academy)
 - 10 The Chinese Debate on Asian Values and Human Rights ... 199
Marina Svensson (Lund University)
 - 11 Universal Human Rights and Chinese Liberalism ... 227
Mab Huang (Soochow University, Taipei)
 - 12 Practice to Theory ... 249
Colm Campbell (University of Ulster, Jordantown) and Avril McDonald (TMC Asser Institute for International Law, The Hague)
 - 13 Human Rights Education in Asia ... 280
Richard Pierre Claude (University of Maryland)
 - 14 The Rights of Foreign Migrant Workers in Asia ... 301
Deborah J. Milly (Virginia Tech.)
- Select Bibliography* ... 322
- Index* ... 328