

Content

List of Contributors	9
The Suspect as a Source of Information Thomas Weigend	11
Pretrial Self-Incrimination, Miranda , and Truth Anthony O'Rourke	29
Contemporary Problems of the Right to Remain Silent in Germany Lutz Eidam	49
The Legality of Trickery During Interrogation Christopher Slobogin	61
The Mr. Big Method: On or Beyond the Boundaries of Lawfulness and Reliability? D.A.G. van Toor / R. Horselenberg	87
Erosion of the Right to Silence in Dutch Criminal Justice? J.H. Crijns / M.J. Dubelaar	123
Self-Incrimination Privilege and Interrogation. A German and Comparative View Andreas Ransiek	151
Structural Police Deception in American Police Interrogation: A Closer Look at Minimization and Maximization Richard A. Leo	183
Report on the Comparative Conference on Criminal Procedure at Bielefeld University, Interrogation, Confession, and Truth, 21 – 22 May 2019 Alexandra Westermann / Matthias Newerla	209