

Contents

List of Schemas	vii
Notes on Contributors	viii
Acknowledgements	xii
1 The Two Faces of Debt Stefan Nygård	1
PART I: DEBT AND SOCIAL THEORY
2 The Indebted Subject and Social Transformations: The Possibility of Resistance and Empowerment Nathalie Karagiannis and Peter Wagner	21
3 Debt, Democracy and the Pharmacology of Money Jean François Bissonnette	35
PART II: GREECE AND GERMANY AS EUROPE'S SOUTH AND NORTH
4 Europe's Debt to Refugees Eugenia Siapera and Maria Rieder	59
5 Causes, Critique and Blame: A Political Discourse Analysis of the Crisis and Blame Discourse of German and Greek Intellectuals Aristotelis Agridopoulos	80
6 The Tragedy of Recognition: Debt, Guilt and Political Action Carlotta Cossutta	118

Contents

7	The Soul of Europe: Two Different Ways of Thinking Germany's Debt to Greek Culture Simona Forti	140
PART III: THE LOCAL, THE REGIONAL AND THE GLOBAL 'SOUTH'
8	The 'South' as a Moving Target: Europe's Debt to the Former Colonies Peter Wagner	163
9	Debating the South in Unified Italy Stefan Nygård	186
10	Economic Theory as Morality: Europe's and the World's North and South Bo Stråth	215
PART IV: DEBT AND THE POLITICS OF HISTORY
11	Europe's Debt Denied: Reflections on 1989 and the Loss of Yugoslav Experience of Direct Democracy Svetlana Nedimović	247
12	The Use of the Past under Conditions of Disorientation and Instability: The Spanish-Catalan Political Conflict Gerard Rosich	278
	Index	307