

CONTENTS

List of figures	vii
List of contributors	ix
Introduction	1
June Purvis and June Hannam
1 Millicent Fawcett (1847–1929): the making of a politician Elizabeth Crawford	10
2 Emmeline Pankhurst (1858–1928): the making of a militant June Purvis	25
3 ‘A particularly interesting kind of “heroine” to have’: marriage, motherhood and votes for women in the archives of Elizabeth Wolstenholme Elmy (1833–1918), feminist, rebel and radical Maureen Wright	43
4 Isabella Ford (1855–1924) and women’s suffrage June Hannam	60
5 Suffragette palace: Sophia Duleep Singh (1876–1948), Hampton Court Palace and votes for women Elizabeth Baker	77

vi Contents

- 6 'Being militant in her own way': using the individual life of Lady Isabel Margesson (1863–1946) as a prism to explore complex suffrage histories 99
Lesley Spiers
- 7 The wrong kind of working-class woman? Domestic servants in the British suffrage movement 118
Laura Schwartz
- 8 Class and adult suffrage in Britain during the Great War 136
Karen Hunt
- 9 A colonial for the cause: Lady Stout (1858–1931), suffrage and New Zealand as exemplar to the empire, 1909–1914 155
Monica Webb
- 10 Narratives of democracy, the emotions of politics and memories of militant suffragism: Britain, Ireland, the USA and Australia 179
Sharon Crozier-De Rosa
- 11 Covering the suffragettes: Austrian newspapers reporting on militant women's rights activism in the United Kingdom 199
Johanna Gehmacher
- 12 The influence of the British women's suffrage movement upon the emergence and development of the Japanese women's movement 222
Hiroko Tomida
- Index* 240