

Contents

List of tables	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Foreword	xii
1 Introduction: who goes to the contemporary arts?	1
2 Understanding audiences: research methods and approaches	13
3 'But is it art?': defining the contemporary arts	35
4 Cities for the arts: the importance of place in audience engagement	53
5 Art forms, venues and audience decision-making: navigating the cultural ecology	79
6 Routes to engagement in the contemporary arts	103
7 'It's okay not to like it': the appeal and frustrations of the contemporary arts	131
8 Making sense of the contemporary arts: programme notes, gallery panels and arts talk	153
9 Uncomfortable questions in contemporary arts practice and research: the formaldehyde shark in the room	179
10 Audience development and the future of the contemporary arts: learning from audiences	199

viii Contents

Appendix A: life-history interview schedule from pilot study	215
Appendix B: interview schedule from the national study	216
Appendix C: national survey	219
Index	228