

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface

Table of contents

List of contributors

INTRODUCTION

H. Vanhaverbeke

1-7

THE USE OF SPACE AT THE REGIONAL LEVEL

M. Rautman, Site-specific survey in a Cypriot setting. Settlement definition and verification in the Vasilikos valley

11-19

K. Winther Jacobsen, The role of pottery in the interpretation and classification of rural sites in Cyprus

21-30

S. Menchelli, Surface material, sites and landscapes in South Picenum (Marche, Italy)

31-43

D. Bernal Casasola and A.M. Saez Romero, Fish-salting plants and amphora production in the Bay of Cadiz (Baetica, Hispania). Patterns of settlement from the Punic era to Late Antiquity

45-113

M. Pasquinucci & S. Menchelli, Pisae and its suburbium: looking for the ancient landscape in the urban periphery

115-125

F. Martens, H. Vanhaverbeke & M. Waelkens, Town and suburbium at Sagalassos. An interaction investigated through survey

127-149

THE USE OF SPACE AT THE LOCAL LEVEL

L. Nevett, Artefact Assemblages and Activity Area Analysis, A Comparison from Greek Domestic Contexts

153-160

T. Putzeys, M. Waelkens, J. Poblome, W. Van Neer, B. De Cupere, T. Van Thuyne, N. Kellens & P. Bes, Shops and retail in Late Antiquity. A contextual approach to the material evidence from Sagalassos

161-217

TABLE OF CONTENTS

S. Zabehlicky-Scheffenecker, Does form (or category of finds) follow function (of a room or building)? A comparison between Virunum and Bruckneudorf	219-223
E. Schindler-Kaudelka, Ein Kochtopf macht noch keine Kile he	225-231
F. Vermeulen, Functional zoning and changes in the use of space in the Roman town ofPotentia: an integrated survey approach	233-249
Plates	253-255