

Contents

Publisher's Acknowledgements	ix
Series Editor's Introduction	xi
Acknowledgements	xiii
1. Introduction	1
Virinder S. Kalra
PART ONE: LABOUR NARRATIVES	15
2. The Political Economy of Migration: Pakistan, Britain, and the Middle East	19
Roger Ballard
3. Controlling Diaspora: Illegality, 9/11, and Pakistani Labour Migration	43
Junaid Rana
4. The Myth of Arrival: Pakistanis in Italy	63
Ali Nobil
5. 'God don't kill the traveller, grant their desire that their last breath be at home': An Analysis of Pakhtun Migrants' Tales	83
Francis Watkins
PART TWO: GENDERED ACCOUNTS	101
6. Kinship Obligations, Gender and the Life Course: Re-Writing Migration from Pakistan to Britain	105
Kaveri Harris and Alison Shaw
7. Risk and Ritual: The Protection of British Pakistani Women in Transnational Marriage	129
Katharine Charsley
8. 'These girls want to get married as well': Normality, Double Deviance and Reintegration amongst British Pakistani Women	150
Marta Bolognani

9. Religion, Gender and Identity Construction amongst Pakistanis in Australia Nadeem Malik	167
PART THREE: TRANSFORMING RITUALS	185
10. Chains of Migrants: Culture, Value and the Housing Market Pnina Werbner	189
11. Migration—Ritual Attrition or Increased Flexibility? A Case Study of Pakistani Funerals in Norway Cora Alexa Døving	212
12. Contesting Muslim Pilgrimage: British-Pakistani Identities, Sacred Journeys to Makkah and Madinah, and the Global Postmodernism Seán McLoughlin	233
PART FOUR: SHIFTING IDENTITIES	267
13. Multiculturalism, Religion and Identity Munira Mirza	273
14. Multiculturalism, Islamaphobia and the City Tahir Abbas	285
15. A Socio-economic and Cultural Perspective on Pakistanis in the Netherlands Waqas Butt	299
16. Pakistanis in the United States: From Integration to Alienation? Aminah Mohammad-Arif	316
Bibliography	335
Notes on Contributors	357
Index	359