

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
List of Illustrations	x
Notes on Contributors	xi
Foreword: Medieval Science and Fiction James Hannam	xv
Introduction
1. Medieval Science Fiction: An Impossible Fantasy? Carl Kears &amp; James Paz	3
Science &amp; Fiction in the 'Dark Ages'
2. Is Beowulf Science Fiction? Daniel Anlezark	39
Time &amp; Space Travel
3. The Future is a Foreign Country: The Legend of the Seven Sleepers and the Anglo-Saxon Sense of the Past R.M. Liuzza	61
4. Untimely Travel: Living and Dying in Connie Willis's Doomsday Book Patricia Clare Ingham	79
5. 'On Second Thought, Let's Not Go To Camelot... 'Tis a Silly Space': Star Trek and the Inconsequence of SF Medievalism Jeff Massey	95
The Alien
6. 'Those two green children which Nubrigensis speaks of in his time, that fell from heaven', or the Origins of Science Fiction Mary Baine Campbell	117
7. Aliens and Anglo-Saxons in Edwin Morgan's 'The First Men on Mercury' Denis Ferhatović	133

Technologies & Manmade Marvels

8. The Riddle of Medieval Technology
Andy Sawyer 153
9. Dreams of War, Dreams of Dragons' Fire: Conrad Kyeser's Bellifortis
Alison Harthill 177

Distant Planets, Distant Futures

10. Courtly Love on Mars: E.R. Burroughs and the Medieval Lineage
of Planetary Romance
Andrew Scheil 201
11. The Medieval Dying Earth
James Paz 217

Making Medieval Science Fiction

12. Catapunk: Toward a Medieval Aesthetic of Science Fiction
Minsoo Kang 245
13. Medieval Cosmology and World Building
Guy Consolmagno 265
14. Discovering Eifelheim
Michael F. Flynn 287

- Index 301