

Contents

1. Introduction I
ANDREAS GESTRICH AND HARTMUT POGGE VON STRANDMANN

Part I. German Auskreisung or Einkreisung (Self-Exclusion or Encirclement)?

2. Auskreisung? Anglo-German Antagonism and the Tirpitz Plan 37
FRANK NÄGLER
3. '... the greatest danger to this country that exists':
German Plans for Commerce Warfare in British
Naval Thinking 63
MATTHEW S. SELIGMANN
4. '... two rival syndicates': The British Service
Departments and the German Naval Threat.
Towards a Fritz Fischer-Like Approach to British
Foreign Policy 77
ANDREAS ROSE

Part II. New Evidence on the Decisions for War: Germany and Austria-Hungary

5. War Premeditated? The 'War Council' of 8
December 1912 Revisited 105
JOHN C. G. RÖHL
6. Russian Horses: The German Army Leadership and the July Crisis of 1914 127
STIG FÖRSTER

7. Austria-Hungary's Decision for War in 1914 149
GÜNTHER KRONENBITTER

Part III. New Evidence on the Decisions for War: France, Italy, and Britain

8. France's Armaments and Military Situation in July 1914 163
GERD KRUMEICH
9. Italy's Wars of Illusion, 1911-1915 181
R. J. B. BOSWORTH
10. Peace and Retrenchment? The Edwardian Liberal Party, the Limits of Pacifism, and the Politics of National Defence 201
MATTHEW JOHNSON

Part IV. New Evidence on the Decisions for War:
Russia and the Balkans

11. The Mobilization Crises of 1912 and 1914 in Russian
Perspective: Overlooked and Neglected Linkages 223
BRUCE W. MENNING
12. The Balkan Inception Scenario: Serbia and the Coming of War in 1914 263
CHRISTOPHER CLARK
13. Fritz Fischer and the Ottoman Empire: Illusions on the Bosphorus? 289
ALEXANDRE TOUMARKINE

Part V. The War Aims of the Central and Entente Powers

14. The Foundations of British War Aims in the First World War 313
KEITH NEILSON
15. Russia's War Aims 335
DAVID SCHIMMELPENNINCK VAN DER OYE

Part VI. Revolutionizing Policies in the First World War

16. Jihad or Nationalist Uprising? Germany's 'Programme for Revolution' in the Middle East 357
JENNIFER L. JENKINS
17. The Peace at Brest-Litovsk: Forgotten or Precedent-Setting Peace? 377
JOHN W. STEINBERG

Part VII. Continuities in German History

18. From One War to the Other: The Impact of the First World War on the Second World War 405
GERHARD HIRSCHFELD

Notes on Contributors 419

Index 425