

Contents

Figures	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Abbreviations	xiii
A Note on Editing	xvi
Introduction	1
Norman J.W. Goda
Part I: Literary and Religious Approaches to Holocaust Justice
1. Before the Law: The Poetics of Justice in Hannah Arendt's Eichmann in Jerusalem	23
Eric Kligerman
2. Criminal Trials as Rituals of Purification	48
Katharina von Kellenbach
Part II: Testimony and Narrative
3. What Kind of Narrative is Legal Testimony? Terezín Witnesses before Czechoslovak, Austrian, and German Courts	71
Anna Hájková
4. A Morality of Evil: Nazi Ethics and the Defense Strategies of German Perpetrators	100
Kerstin von Lingen

Part III: Approaches to Justice in the Killing Fields

5. The “Second Wave” of Soviet Justice: The 1960s
War Crimes Trials 129
Alexander V. Prusin
6. “Not Quite Klaus Barbie, but in That Category”:
Mykola Lebed, the CIA, and the Airbrushing of the Past 158
Per Anders Rudling
7. Convicting the Cog: The Munich Trial of John Demjanjuk 188
Lawrence Douglas

Part IV: Rethinking Approaches to Holocaust Restitution

8. Reparations, Victims, and Trauma in the Wake of the Holocaust 211
Regula Ludi
9. Achieving a Measure of Justice and Writing Holocaust
History through US Restitution Litigation 235
Michael J. Bazylar
10. The Fortunate Possessor: The Case of Gustav Klimt’s
Beethoven Frieze 265
Sophie Lillie

Part V: Return to Nuremberg

11. Judging from Without: German Clergy, Public Pressure, and Postwar Justice 291
JonDavid K. Wyneken
12. Rough Justice and the US Approach to War Crimes
Prosecution: Dachau, Guantanamo Bay, and the Nuremberg Exception 311
Tomaz Jardim

- Index 324