

Contents

Introduction

1. Inside World War One? Ego Documents and the First World War 3
RICHARD BESSEL AND DOROTHEE WIERLING

Part I. Invasion and Occupation

2. Registers of Everyday Life in Warsaw during the First World War: The Uses and Limitations of Ego Documents 29
ROBERT BLOBAUM
3. Measuring Lost Time: Civilians' Diaries in Occupied Belgium 57
SOPHIE DE SCHAEFDRIJVER
4. Ego Documents from the Invasion of East Prussia, 1914–1915 83
ALEXANDER WATSON

Part II. Soldiers, Doctors, and Nurses

5. 'It was more than madness . . .': Perceptions of War among Slovenian Soldiers, 1914–1918 105
PAVLINA BOBIČ
6. The Thin White Line: Experience and Memory of the Alpine Front in the First World War 119
ROBERTA PERGHER

7. Counter-Narratives of the Great War? War Accounts of Nurses in Austro-Hungarian Service 143
CHRISTA HÄMMERLE
8. Front Experience and Psychological Problems: The Voices of Doctors and Patients in Case Studies and Patient Files 167
ANDREA GRÄFIN VON HOHENTHAL

Part III. War beyond Europe

9. Inside the Ottoman Army: Two Armenian Officers
Tell their Story 195
MUSTAFA AKSAKAL
10. Uncovering the Colonial Cultures and Encounters of the British Empire during the First World War 207
ANNA MAGUIRE

Part IV. Uses of Ego Documents

11. Publishing Ego Documents as War Propaganda 231
GERD KRUMEICH
12. A Vita Nova: The Construction of a War.
Life Experience in Italian First World War
Autobiographical Writing 249
MARCO MONDINI
13. Alloying Dissent with Patriotism: Dragiša Vasić in Yugoslav Siberia 273
JOHN PAUL NEWMAN
14. The Apotheosis of the Unknown Soldier: Officers,
Soldiers, and the Writing of the Great War in Russia 291
JOSHUA SANBORN

CONTENTS

ix

15. 'Emplotting the Witness': Henri Barbusse and Marc Bloch 305

LEONARD V. SMITH

Notes on Contributors 317

Index 321