

Geographic Area Definitions

This document lists the countries, territories, and international organizations that are included in each geographical area presented in the International Economic Accounts. In cases where data sources provide less granular geographic detail than what is defined in this document, BEA adheres to these geographical definitions as closely as possible.

<sup>3</sup> The United States consists of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands and other territories and possessions, U.S. foreign trade zones, and offshore oil and gas sites. The United States is not included as a country in most of BEA's International Economic Accounts statistics because the statistics generally reflect either the location of a foreign counterparty or the location of a foreign parent or a foreign affiliate of a U.S. entity. The exceptions are BEA's statistics on Foreign Direct Investment in the United States, in which the United States may be the country in which the ultimate beneficial owner (UBO) of a U.S. affiliate is incorporated or organized.
