These reminder cards are placed in the units of social-psychological service, libraries, cells, and waiting rooms for citizens, rooms for receiving packages and rooms for short-term and long-term visits. In the units of social-psychological service of penitentiary institutions and cells of pre-trial detention centres information stands are placed with extracts from legal and regulatory acts concerning rights, obligations, responsibilities of sentenced and remand prisoners, procedures of submission of complaints with addresses and contact information of state authorities and non-governmental organizations.

64. One of priority directions of the NP activity is observance of human rights and freedoms of detainees in police THF. The NP continues the process of reformation of THF. With the entry into force of the Law of Ukraine “On the National police” closing has started of those THF that lacked minimal detention conditions have been closed, in particular those located in a basement, lacking individual sleeping places, access to daylight or running water supply. Currently there are 150 THF remaining (in 2015 there were 380 THF in Ukraine).

65. Article 87 of the CPC expressly declares inadmissible in court any evidence obtained through unlawful means such as torture, cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or the threat thereof or other substantial violations of human rights and freedoms. In accordance with articles 212 and 213 of the CPC, the law enforcement authorities are obliged to ensure proper treatment with the detainee, respect of his/her rights, provide an adequate medical treatment as well as record any bodily injuries or deterioration of detainee’s health by medical officer; immediately register detainee, explain the grounds for detention, his/her rights and obligations; record all procedural activities carried out with detainee (including the time of beginning of such activities and its end) and persons who carried out such activities or were presented at the time of their conducting; give detainee the opportunity to report immediately his/her close relatives, family members or other persons about his/her detention and place of residence; communicate such information to a body which is authorized to provide free legal aid. During 2016–2017 an experiment was conducted at the territory of Kyiv and Kharkiv regions in order to inform victims, witnesses and detainees about their rights. The aim of the experiment was to hand over the reminder cards to abovementioned persons by the police officers. The analysis of the results and materials of the experiment showed positive dynamics in increasing trust towards police officers and legal awareness of Ukrainian citizens. Currently issue regarding statutory determination of such practice is under consideration.

66. In order to regulate the activity of the police duty service, as well as to fix all actions with persons who were held or invited to the police department, the Instruction concerning organization of the police duty service activity within the NP was approved on May 23, 2017. In accordance with the requirements of the mentioned Instruction, police officers are obliged to record in the relevant journals the date and time of person's transportation or his/her arrival to the police department (unit) indicating the surname, the position of the employee to whom the person was transferred or invited, as well as to hand over to the detained persons the reminder card concerning his/her rights. While being placed in THF detainees shall be communicated with their rights during the time of detention. In order to raise awareness of each person temporarily staying in THF about his/her rights and obligations, each THF is provided with information posters concerning rights of persons in the twelve common languages of the world. In addition, each THF is provided with a sticker on which the rights and responsibilities of the detained person is printed. In 2016 Memorandum on Cooperation between the NP and MoJ was concluded to consolidate efforts on prevention and revealing torture and ill-treatment, to prevent violations of rights to legal protection and free legal aid.

Subcommittee recommendation

Subcommittee recommendations

50. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party ensure that all detainees have access to legal counsel from the outset of their deprivation of liberty and throughout the detention period.

51. The Subcommittee also recommends that the State party ensure that legal advice provided through its legal aid system is prompt, professional and given in the interests of the detainee, not of the detaining authorities. Appropriate training should be provided by independent professional bodies to lawyers providing legal aid. The Subcommittee further recommends that such training be extended to include counsel representing detainees accused of crimes in connection with the armed conflict in eastern Ukraine. The Subcommittee reiterates the recommendation made in paragraph 42 above.

52. The State party is urged to guarantee the absolute confidentiality of communications between lawyers and their clients.

76. The regional centre during one hour after registration of such notification appoints a lawyer for providing free secondary legal aid to apprehended person by submitting to a lawyer an appropriate order. Appointed lawyer during one hour (or six hours in exceptional cases) from the moment of receiving an order arrives to apprehended person to perform a confidential meeting with such person.

Subcommittee recommendations

57. Reiterating the recommendations made in 2011 (see CAT/OP/UKR/1, paras. 76 and 80), the Subcommittee encourages the State party to guarantee that, as a routine matter, all persons undergo a thorough medical examination as soon as they are deprived of liberty. It is recommended that such an examination record:

- (a) A detainee's medical history, including any allegations of recent violence, torture or ill-treatment;
- (b) The existence of any discomfort or symptoms;
- (c) The result of the clinical examination, including a description of any injuries observed and an account of how such injuries were sustained;
- (d) An indication of whether the whole body was examined;
- (e) The health professional's conclusion as to whether all recorded elements are consistent.

58. The Subcommittee recommends that all medical examinations maintain the principle of medical confidentiality: only medical personnel should be present during the examination. It also recommends that the State party discontinue the practice of performing medical examinations through bars, since such examinations are demeaning by nature and lack the thoroughness envisioned in the Istanbul Protocol.

59. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party ensure that all persons deprived of liberty are given a thorough medical examination, regardless of whether they are held in a location officially registered as a place of detention in the State party or not.

60. The Subcommittee also recommends that the State party improve its training of medical personnel working in places of detention, particularly on the Istanbul Protocol and other international standards, as well as on the duty to detect and report torture and ill-treatment. If a health professional has grounds for suspecting the existence of torture or ill-treatment, the Subcommittee recommends that this be registered in a national register of allegations of torture and ill-treatment, either with the consent of the examined person (so that the case may be referred to expressly) or, if such consent is refused, as an anonymous case. In addition, the Subcommittee recommends that health professionals immediately report suspicions of torture and ill-treatment to the appropriate authorities, with the consent of the detainee, so that an independent examination may be conducted in accordance with the Istanbul Protocol. The confidential medical report should be made available to the detainee and to his or her counsel.

61. Finally, the Subcommittee recommends that medical care and assistance be guaranteed and accessible to all detained persons upon their request.

Response of Ukrainian Government

90. On 13 January 2017 the MoJ delivered to the Interregional Departments on execution of punishments and probation an instruction regarding harmonizing the procedure of conducting medical examinations of sentenced and remand prisoners in line with requirements of international monitoring mechanisms.

92. Paragraph 2.1 of Chapter 2 of Procedure of coordination of healthcare institutions of the SCES with general healthcare institutions on the provision of medical aid for persons taken into custody regulates mechanism of fixation and registration of body injuries on remand prisoners upon their arrival to the pre-trial detention centres.

93. Mentioned legal acts prescribe conducting of medical examination of sentenced and remand prisoners out of sight and earshot of non-medical staff (if medical employee doesn't wish otherwise in every specific case).

94. Before being placed in THF detained persons undergo a medical examination at the medical institutions of the MoH for detection of diseases, bodily injures and possibility to be held in THF. In case of deterioration of health and need of provision of emergency medical care to persons detained in the THF, ambulance crew is called immediately. Each THF has a separate room for medical care to detainees.

95. The examination of detainees and remand prisoners during placement to THF is carried out. In case of revealing of bodily injures the public prosecutor's office shall be informed. Investigative group shall be called in case of application of illegal actions against detainees by police officers.

Subcommittee recommendations

64. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party review and reform its system of record-keeping in order to ensure that records are, at all times, comprehensive, accurate, precise and up to date. It is recommended that registers be uniform and accessible to detainees' authorized representatives and next of kin, as well as to the national preventive mechanism. Furthermore, the Subcommittee recommends that the system to be introduced is such that a third party may easily follow the movement, location and well-being of a person in detention without the need to locate and examine numerous files, papers or slips.

65. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party keep such records for all persons deprived of their liberty, regardless of whether they are kept in a location officially registered as a place of detention by the State party.

Response of Ukrainian Government

96. The recording of sentenced prisoners in penitentiary institutions is organized in accordance with the requirements of Article 91 of the CEC and in accordance with the "Instruction on the work of control units (groups, sectors, senior inspectors) of penitentiary institutions and pre-trial detention centres on monitoring the execution of judicial decisions", approved by the Order of the MoJ of 8 June 2012 No. 847/5. Personal profiles are issuing for every prisoner, as well as an information card to which information about individual, committed crime and the name of the court that imposed the sentence is included, as well as data on the day and time of arrival and release from the penitentiary institution.

97. MoJ initiated the establishment of the Unified Register of sentenced and remand prisoners, which provides three independent modules interconnected through channels of process exchange, in particular, the module for the registration and accounting of sentenced and remand prisoners held in penitentiary institutions and pre-trial detention centres, the module for recording information on the health status of sentenced and remand prisoners and module of the system of electronic services for the management of cases of probation subjects. A draft resolution of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine on the establishment of such Unified Register is currently at the stage of consultations with relevant agencies.

98. The NP has introduced an IT-system of custody records, where all of the detainees entering the THF are registered. The system registers the time and circumstances of detention, all procedural actions, medical assistance and provision of free legal aid. Currently, this IT-system is tested in 135 out of 150 THF in Ukraine. Moreover, all of the premises of THF are equipped with video surveillance.

99. The NP is currently developing Unified Electronic System for Detention and informational IT-system “Convoy” aiming to ensure a full complex of fixation of measures (transfers) with detainees.

Subcommittee recommendation

68. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party enable family members and others to visit and communicate with persons in pretrial detention centres as a matter of both law and practice. It also recommends that any restrictions imposed on contacts are made only in exceptional circumstances and that the State party ensure that its policy on outside contacts applies equally in all similar institutions, such as in all SIZOs.

Subcommittee recommendations

72. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party guarantee the right to submit complaints, both in law and in practice (see CAT/OP/UKR/1, paras. 18-20). It also recommends that detainees be empowered to submit complaints directly and confidentially to administrators in places of detention, to higher-level authorities, as necessary, and to authorities with remedial powers. The Subcommittee encourages the State party to bolster its monitoring and complaints mechanisms by giving such mechanisms the power to grant effective remedies.

Response of Ukrainian Government

107. On 14 October 2014 the new Law on the Public Prosecutor’s Office was adopted. This brought Ukraine up to the international standards in terms of the structure and functions of the Prosecutor General’s Office. Prosecutors will have three main functions: public prosecution in criminal cases; representing State interests in civil and commercial cases; and supervising investigations by law enforcement bodies. Prosecutors will continue investigating crimes committed by officials of law enforcement agencies until the full functioning of the SBI.

108. Ukraine has recently formally established an independent SBI to investigate crimes committed by high-ranking officials, judges, prosecutors and law-enforcement officers. In particular, the SBI will be investigating allegations of torture and ill-treatment by police officers and other law-enforcement agencies. The open selection process for the Head of the SBI is currently ongoing.

86. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party reform the regime applied to persons serving a life sentence so that they are not uniformly punished in excess of what their sentence requires. It also recommends that such prisoners, like other detainees, serve their sentence according to a treatment plan designed on the basis of an individual security assessment.

Response of Ukrainian Government

113. During 2015–2016 were conducted reconstructions and repairs of maximum security sectors for prisoners sentenced to life imprisonment in which adequate living conditions were created, including water and sanitary. In certain penitentiary institutions such repairs will be carried out in 2018 after receiving budget funding.

114. In order to attract life-sentenced prisoners to a wide range of activities, the following work is carried out:

118. Amendments to Internal Regulations of Pre-Trial Detention Centres of the SCES provide the possibility to attend gym, and if possible, change the frequency of walks by dividing it into two parts.

119. The draft new Internal Regulations of Penitentiary Institutions provide the possibility of creating amateur organizations among life-sentenced prisoners.

120. MoJ is developing a legal act on conducting an individual risks assessment of remand and sentenced prisoners.

121. All inspected penitentiary institutions are public institutions funded from the general fund of the State Budget. Expenditures for repairs in these facilities are not provided in current year. Additional funds are needed to bring the conditions of detention in line with the standards.

122. During the preparation of the draft Law of Ukraine “On the State Budget of Ukraine for 2018” proposals will be made for allocating the necessary funds for the construction, reconstruction and capital repairs of the SCES institutions.

Subcommittee recommendations:

89. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party evaluate its system of transfers to ensure that transfers are made only after appropriate justifications and that they do not result in detainees being held in short-term detention centres, such as ITTs, for lengthy periods. The Subcommittee also recommends that the State party guarantee that fundamental safeguards, including access to the outside world, legal counsel and medical care, are not unnecessarily interrupted by frequent transfers.

90. The Subcommittee recommends that the State party replace vehicles lacking sufficient space and ventilation. It also recommends that it discontinue the use of full metal cages, which endangers detainees in transport. The Subcommittee further recommends that the State party provide detainees with the food and water to which they are entitled while deprived of their liberty.
