SCHUMANN

Enthusiasm goes far in the sale of fine pianos. It is the enthusiasm of an understanding of artistic qualities that has brought the Schumann to its place as a model of beauty and tonal refinement. Enthusiasm, born of the absolute conviction that the Schumann is without a superior in all the list of ambitious instruments, creates in any salesman the highest type of selling ability. The Schumann is its own invincible argument. And the piano buying public of the advanced class recognizes it as the standard of modern instruments.

The trade mark on fall-board and metal plate

The Schumann Player-Piano is, of course, entitled to all the commendation of the Schumann Piano—possibly more.
