Alfred Cortot at his Steinway

STEINWAY

THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

Beneath his hands 'the most renowned pianos of the world' have voiced their greatest glory. His genius has tested every great piano-maker's work. Yet, for Alfred Cortot, there is but 'one perfect instrument, the Steinway.' You who are about to select a piano, do you not find conviction in the experience of this master? What need that you experiment? What guide more sure than this: that since Henry Steinway made his first piano the greatest artists have preferred above all others the instrument that bears his name? Franz Liszt! Wagner! Rubinstein! The Steinway was their piano. It is played and loved by Paderewski, by Hofmann, by Rachmaninoff. Friedman and Levitzki will have no other. Successively each generation of the Steinway family has preserved the purpose that its product shall be as truly the piano of the home as it is the chosen instrument of the concert stage. The qualities that have endeared it to the masters are embodied in every Steinway that is made. For your home there is a Steinway, either grand or upright, which in tone and touch and action matches that which Cortot plays. Once you have set fingers to such an instrument, once you have known the beauty of its response, for you, thereafter, there can be 'but one perfect piano, the Steinway.'

There is a Steinway dealer in your community or near you through whom you may purchase a new Steinway piano with a cash deposit of 10%, and the balance will be extended over a period of two years. Used pianos accepted in partial exchange.

Prices: Uprights, $875 and up; Grands, $1425 and up; plus freight
