PRESTO BUYERS' GUIDE NOTICE

The 1925 Edition of Presto Buyers' Guide, the "Book That Sells Pianos," is already entirely exhausted. It is the second time in the twenty-nine years since the book first appeared that the demand has been such as to render this announcement necessary. Copies of the preceding editions may still be had, and the issue of 1924 is so nearly up-to-date as to be almost equally useful in the hands of salesmen. The "Premium Edition" also is good for selling purposes, and it may be had for 25 cents a copy—one-half the regular price.

The entirely new Presto Buyers' Guide for 1926 is in preparation and will be ready in October. Advance orders, especially for quantities, should be placed early. Subscribers to Presto, the American Music Trade Weekly, between now and October 1st, will receive a copy of the new Presto Buyers' Guide for 1926 without charge as soon as it appears.
