The STEINWAY

Choice of Great Artists

VLADIMIR HOROWITZ is one of the great pianists who choose the Steinway for its appealing qualities—exquisite singing tone and quick, accurate response to the player's moods and feelings. It is the artistic tone of the Steinway piano that makes it highly appreciated by the world's greatest pianists and their public recitals continually demonstrate the purity, sweetness and resonance of its tone.

VLADIMIR HOROWITZ

Every Steinway piano embodies the principles of design and construction which have been brought to perfection by four generations of the Steinway family. Every instrument possesses the rare qualities that endear the Steinway to such masters as Paderewski, Rachmaninoff, Hofmann, Cortot, Grainger and Levitski. Vladimir Horowitz on his present tour of America adds the strength of his appreciation to the testimony of this notable list.
