50TH YEAR

ADMIRING A GREAT CREATION

Josef Hofmann, world renowned pianist, shown here at the keyboard of a piano made almost a century ago, demonstrates the instrument for the grandson and the great-grandson of the maker, Henry Engelhard Steinway. The piano, the first grand made by the draftsman, was finished in 1836. It was recently brought to this country from Europe, where it was discovered. With Mr. Hofmann are shown Theodore Steinway and his son, Frederick.
