Introduction to Statistical Network Analysis

Keith Levin[1]

[1] (Wisconsin)

Abstract: This week-long course will introduce students to the basic concepts and analytical tools in statistical network analysis. Topics will include the basics of graphs and networks; statistical models of network formation; network embeddings and a brief survey of open problems.