Messi leads pounding of Red Bulls

Associated Press

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Lionel Messi scored a goal and had five assists as Inter Miami trounced the Red Bulls, 6-2, on Saturday night. Messi, who earned the MLS Player of the Month Award for April, has scored and assisted in six consecutive league matches.

Luis Suárez had three goals and Matias Rojas scored twice as Inter Miami got six unanswered goals to come back from a 1-0 deficit at halftime. Messi and Suárez have a league-leading 10 goals each, helping keep Inter Miami (7-2-3, 24 points) atop the Eastern Conference.

The win extended Miami's unbeaten string to six. The streak began after a 4-0 loss on April 20, in which Messi did not play because of an injury.

Miami began the rout with Rojas' equalizer in the 48th minute. Messi centered a pass to Rojas whose left-footed shot landed under the crossbar.

Suárez then fed a charging Messi with a touch pass to beat Red Bulls goalkeeper Carlos Coronel with a shot from 15 yards.

Rojas made it 3-1 with his second goal in the 62nd minute on an assist from Messi.

Messi then contributed on former Barcelona teammate Suárez's first goal in the 69th minute.

Williams paces Gotham FC

By BRIDGET REILLY

After an offseason flooded with superteam chatter as a result of their additions, Gotham FC relied on their returning star Saturday night.

Gotham secured their second win of the season despite another quiet offensive showing, holding on for a 1-0 victory against the visiting North Carolina Courage at Red Bull Stadium.

Star forward Lynn Williams, healthy after a thigh injury forced her out of the first three games of the season, delivered quickly, putting in a rebound of an Ella Stevens shot in the 11th minute for the game's lone goal.

"I'm just so proud of us for getting that goal," said Williams, who played for the Courage from 2017-21 and won two NWSL championships with them. "I'm proud of myself on a personal note. I feel like I've been wanting this goal so bad. So, I'm happy it went in. ... It's been really nice to finally get 90 minutes under my belt. Nobody wants to be injured."

Ann-Katrin Berger, acquired from Chelsea in April, started a second straight game and made five saves to preserve the win. Her best stop came in the 27th minute when the Courage's Narumi Miura fired a shot wide left that Berger knocked away with a diving save.

After Jenna Nighswonger stole a breakaway from the Courage's Ashley Sanchez up the middle, Gotham maneuvered the ball back up field where Stevens found an opening for a shot that was blocked but bounced in favor of Williams, who finished for her first goal of the season.
