

LEISURE & TRADING

ABOUT LEISURE & TRADING

Savills is one of the world's largest real estate firms. Established in 1855, we now have over 600 offices throughout the Americas, Europe, Asia Pacific, Africa and the Middle East.

Who we are

Our Leisure & Trading team can tap into this vast network of contacts and opportunities, combine it with our 45 years of unrivalled expertise in the leisure sector and provide our clients with exceptional advice.

We know that your relationship with us is built on trust and track record, Savills is therefore committed to delivering the best results for you.

Through our advice, our property management capabilities and the transactional services we provide, we help our clients to fulfil their real estate needs, whatever and wherever they are.

What we do

The Leisure & Trading team are specialists in a broad range of leisure sectors, making us perfectly placed to advise on all aspects of the leisure industry.

We work with private individuals, corporate entities and professional organisations. We understand that every client is different and therefore provide an entirely bespoke service to ensure that your property needs are central to our advice.

You will have a primary point of contact within Savills who will connect you directly to the broad range of services we offer.

Why choose us?

We understand your business and the market. We combine our specialist knowledge of national trends in the sector with local intelligence from our network of offices and apply Savills global reach, which means that the advice you receive is of the highest standard.

We understand what motivates buyers and have a detailed database of prospective purchasers. This, combined with our premium marketing service, enables us to deliver successful sales and maximise the value of your asset.

We know who is active in the market and for certain properties can achieve a confidential sale at a premium price.

Savills can offer you a complete service across a range of sectors – from leisure through to residential, commercial, rural and international property.
