STATISTICAL ANALYSIS OF REGISTERED VOTERS IN STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA — JULY 1982

Prepared by: James B. Ellisor
Executive Director
S. C. State Election Commission

This report has been prepared in order to provide information to every county board of voter registration and to interested citizens in South Carolina concerning the number of persons of voting age (18 and above) that are registered in their respective counties. From the data provided, each registration board can readily see if registration is low in that county and additional effort needed in order to register those persons who are not registered.

There are a number of apparent conclusions that can be drawn from this report. Some of these are:

1. The statewide average of white voting age population (VAP) registered is 70 percent and the statewide average of black VAP is 71 percent. Within most counties, if the white VAP registered is low, the same is true of the black VAP registered. On the other hand, if the white VAP registered is average or above, so is the black VAP registered average or above. The difference between white and black percentages within most counties is slight; there are some exceptions noted hereinafter. In other words, if the county is doing a good job registering whites, it is also doing a good job in registering blacks; and, if a county is doing a poor job registering whites, it is also doing a poor job in registering blacks.
2. There appear to be certain geographical areas of the state where registration is either high or low. In the northwestern portion of the state, commonly known as the Piedmont, registration is substantially below the state average. These counties include Abbeville, Anderson, Greenville, Greenwood, Laurens, Oconee, Pickens, Spartanburg, and York. There are no readily apparent reasons for this because the same rules and regulations for registration are applicable in all counties and sections of the state. All of these counties do have a number of out-of-state residents attending college there who are included in their respective populations by the census. Most of these out-of-state students are not eligible to vote in South Carolina and should be subtracted from the VAP of the counties. This factor would not, however, appreciably affect the registration percentages in these counties.
3. In the Midlands area of the state there are a number of counties where registration is below the state average; however, there is a reasonable explanation for this fact in several of these counties. The Midlands counties that are low are Chester, Lancaster, Newberry, Richland, and Sumter. Richland has a large number of military personnel at Fort Jackson, prison inmates at Central Correctional Institution, and college students at the University of South Carolina, Allen University, Benedict College, and Columbia College who were included in the VAP for Richland County in the 1980 census, but are either not eligible to vote due to incarceration or are not residents of Richland County and South Carolina and must be subtracted from the number of persons eligible to register. The same is true of military personnel at Shaw Field Air Force Base in Sumter County. This factor would increase the percentage of VAP registered in Richland County above the state average and would most probably raise Sumter County to the state average.

4. Percentage-wise, rural counties have more VAP residents registered than do the higher populated and more urban counties. Some of these rural counties with very high percentages are Allendale, Barnwell, Cherokee, Chesterfield, Clarendon, Edgefield, Fairfield, Hampton, Lee, McCormick, and Williamsburg.
5. In the North Trident area of Charleston, Berkeley, and Dorchester Counties, there is a large concentration of non-resident population stationed at the Charleston Air Force and Naval Bases. These persons are not eligible to vote in South Carolina and must be subtracted from the VAP of these counties. This enhances the actual percentage of registration in these counties over that shown in this report. The same is true in Beaufort County where the Beaufort Naval Air Station and Parris Island Marine Base are located.
6. As stated previously, the percentage of white compared to black registered VAP in most counties does not vary too much. There are some exceptions, however, that should be noted. In Berkeley, Beaufort, and Horry Counties the white VAP registered is somewhat lower than the black VAP registered. In Abbeville, Aiken, Anderson, Bamberg, Greenville, Greenwood, Kershaw, Lancaster, Lexington, McCormick, Marlboro, Newberry, Oconee, and Pickens black VAP registered is somewhat lower than white VAP registered.
7. In thirty counties the percentage of white VAP registered is greater than the percentage of black VAP registered. In thirteen counties the percentage of black VAP registered is greater than the percentage of white VAP registered. In three counties the percentage is identical.
8. In ten counties there are more black registered voters than white registered voters. These counties are Allendale, Calhoun, Clarendon, Fairfield, Hampton, Jasper, Lee, McCormick, Orangeburg, and Williamsburg.

In 1977 there were 143,411 military personnel and dependents stationed at military installations in South Carolina. There were 7,261 inmates incarcerated in the state penal system. This does not include local city and county jails. Although, admittedly not a great number, there are aliens and persons confined in mental institutions in the state. Most of these persons are not residents of South Carolina and are not eligible to vote in the state. They are included in the VAP by the census. Conservatively, we can, therefore, reduce the actual VAP population in South Carolina by 100,000 persons. This would reflect a more accurate VAP in South Carolina of 2,061,493. Based upon this more realistic statistic, South Carolina has 74 percent of the VAP registered.

According to recent estimated statistics available at the Federal Election Commission, only 50 percent of VAP in the United States is registered. South Carolina is doing much better than the nation as a whole.

Of course, the goal of all of us involved in the registration process is to see that every citizen of voting age is registered who wishes to do so, and we should increase our efforts in those areas of the state where they are needed. There are persons, however, who purposely do not register because they do not want to be called for jury service. This fact alone accounts for the major portion of unregistered voters in South Carolina. Until the State Constitutional provision that requires selection of jurors solely from voter registration lists is amended, we will continue to have less than total registration.
