

CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgements		page vii
Notes on Contributors		xii
Introduction: The Emergence of Desh Pardesh		1
	Roger Ballard
The Pakistani Community in Oxford	Alison Shaw	35
Being Muslim and Being British: The Dynamics of Islamic Reconstruction in Bradford	Philip Lewis	58
Differentiation and Disjunction among the Sikhs		88
	Roger Ballard
Valmiki in Coventry: The Revival and Reconstruction of a Community	Eleanor Nesbitt	117
"I'm Bengali, I'm Asian, and I'm Living Here": The Changing Identity of British Bengalis		142
	Katy Gardner and Abdus Shukur
Caste, Religion and Sect in Gujarat: Followers of Vallabhacharya and Swaminarayan	Rachel Dwyer	165
Gujarati Prajapatis in London: Family Roles and Sociability Networks	Shrikala Warriar	191
The Gujarati Mochis in Leeds: From Leather Stockings to Surgical Boots and Beyond	Kim Knott	213
Jain Ways of Being	Marcus Banks	231
Parsi Zoroastrians in London	John R. Hinnells	251
Caught in an Ethnic Quandary: Indo-Caribbean Hindus in London	Steven Vertovec	272
Bibliographical Key		291
Index		293