

Contents

(The list here provides a rough clue to themes in as much as they can be distinguished in the flow of the discussion, where some themes, as is only to be expected, maintain continuity, emerging and sometimes relatively submerging)

Introduction by Professor Daya Krishna 1

Session I

The opening speech by Prof. Daya Krishna:

The adventure of exploring the intellectual dimension of the bhakti tradition; feeling and philosophy 1

Darśana as reason and sādhanā, and bhakti as śakti 12

Bhakti: feeling and cognition 13

What is the pūrvapakṣa of bhakti? 16

What is the lakṣaṇa of bhakti? 19

Session II

The lakṣaṇa and the pūrvapakṣa of bhakti 24

Tattva-jñāna, bhakti and reason 29

Bhakti and its history 33

The śāstra texts 34

Vaidika dharma as the pūrvapakṣa of bhakti 39

Jñāna and bhakti	44
Bhakti and a personal god	46

Session III

Cultural style and the question of innovation	50
Bhakti as feeling and a personal god; and a candid look at the tradition and texts	52

Session IV

Bhakti and feeling; the question of pūrvapakṣa	55
Bhakti as protest	57
Feeling and the stages of bhakti	58
Vīra Śaivism	60
Why did Kāṁsa achieve mokṣa?: the question of universal feeling	62
Is one determined to be a bhakta	77
A mapping of feelings	78
Bhakti as rasa	80
A priori forms of feeling, or its universals	84

Session V

How to understand the tradition and characterize it?	98
--	----

Back to universal feelings and the guṇa/rasa theories	100
The parakīyā-bhāva	112
Feeling for Nature and sharing of feeling	114
Is bhakti possible for everyone?	115
Bhakti as a seeking for freedom in the realm of Feeling; second order feeling	117

Session VI

A visit to the remarkable Temple of Govindadeva: a fascinating chapter in the history of the Caitanya bhakti movement	127
--	-----

Session VII

Back to bhakti as feeling	144
Kavikarnapūra's theory of improvising with feelings	145
The laukika and alaukika distinction between feelings	149

Session VIII

K.C Bhattacharya on feeling and the Absolute in alternative forms: knowing, willing and feeling	174
---	-----

Session IX

The social, political and intellectual ideal projected by bhakti	192
The Śāṅḍilya Bhakti-sūtra in this context	193

Session X

Feeling and knowledge or truth	220
Conceiving a community of 'feelers', the social aspect of bhakti ; Bāsaveśvara and the Liṅgāyatas	222
Bhakti and social equality	227
Renewing the Indian intellectual tradition	236
God and bhakti ; what it teaches	241
Appendix I: The issues posed for the discussion	254
Appendix II: List of participants	256