

Contents

vii	Acknowledgments
1	Introduction: Designing Modernism
9	Chapter 1. A “Scientific” Aesthetic: Neo-Impressionism, the Applied Arts, and Ornament in Brussels
43	Chapter 2. The Birth of the Modernist Art Museum: The Folkwang Museum and the Gesamtkunstwerk in Hagen
71	Chapter 3. The Workshop as Laboratory: Van de Velde’s Pedagogy in Weimar
97	Chapter 4. Industrial Art and the New Style: Van de Velde at the 1906 Dresden Applied Arts Exhibition
127	Chapter 5. Architecture, Individualism, and Nation: The Werkbund Theater Building in Cologne
155	Chapter 6. After 1914: Van de Velde’s Work in the Netherlands and Belgium
179	Epilogue: Van de Velde’s Legacy to Modernism
198	Notes
221	Index
228	Copyrights and Illustration Credits