

Contents

Preface — V

Acknowledgments — VII

List of Contributors — XI

Note on Chinese Names, Terms and Transliteration — XIII

André Laliberté and Stefania Travagnin

Introduction — 1

Fenggang Yang

The Definition of Religion for the Social Scientific Study of Religion in China and Beyond — 23

Alex Payette

Contemporary Confucian Revival: Reflecting on the Nation, the State and Modernity — 45

Christopher A. Daily

From Missionaries to Scientists: Reflections on the History of the Anglophone Study of Chinese Protestant Christianity — 67

Wai-Yip Ho

From Neglected Problem to Flourishing Field: Recent Developments of Research on Muslims and Islam in China — 93

André Laliberté and Stefania Travagnin

Epistemic Communities of Buddhist Scholarship in Modern China: Narratives and Paradigms — 115

Brian J. Nichols

Advancing the Ethnographic Study of Han Buddhism in China — 139

Amy Holmes-Tagchungdarpa

Encountering the Other in the Study of Chinese Religions: Constructing Borderland Buddhism in Chinese and Euro-American Scholarship of the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries — 163

Susan K. McCarthy

Bringing Religion Back In: Political Science and the Study of Religion in China — 181

André Laliberté

Chinese Political Science and the Study of Religion — 205

Vincent Goossaert

For a History of Religious Ideas in Modern and Contemporary China — 231

Index — 251