

Contents

Foreword	ix
Contributors	xi
Introduction
Wolfgang Hellich, Walter D. Kamphoefner	xv
Part I: Religious Diversity
1. Immigrants and the Church: German-Americans in Comparative Perspective Reinhard R. Doerries	3
2. Community Versus Separation: A Northwest German Emigrant Settlement Region in Nineteenth-Century Ohio Anne [Aengenvoort] Höndgen	18
3. The Dialectics of Ethnic Identity: German Jews in Chicago, 1850-1870 Tobias Brinkmann	44
4. Immigrant Religion and the Public Sphere: The German Catholic Milieu in America Kathleen Neils Conzen	69
Part II: Agricultural Patterns, Rural Society, and Ethnic Identity
5. Prescriptions and Perceptions of Labor and Family among Ethnic Groups in the Nineteenth-Century American Middle West Jon Gjerde	117

6. German-Origin Settlement and Agricultural Land Use in the Twentieth-Century Great Plains
*Myron Gutmann, Sara Pullum-Pinon, Susan Gonzalez
Baker, IngridBurke* 138

Part III: Politics and Ethnic Identity

7. German and Irish Political Engagement: The Politics of Cultural Diversity in an Industrial Age
Donald DeBats 111
8. German and Irish Big City Mayors: Comparative Perspective on Ethnic Politics
Walter D. Kamphoefner 221
9. Ethnic Politicians in Congress: German-American Congressmen between Ethnic Group and National Government circa 1880
Willi Paul Adams} 243
10. The Political and Pedagogical in Bilingual Education:
Yesterday and Today
Paul Fessler 273

Part IV: War and National Identity

11. German-Born Union Soldiers: Motivation, Ethnicity, and "Americanization"
Wolfgang Helbich 295
12. Reviving Ethnic Identity: the Foreign Office, the Reichswehr, and German Americans during the Weimar
Republic
Michael Wala 326
- Index 344