

Contents

List of contributors	page ix
Editors' preface	xi
List of abbreviations of patristic and other texts	xiv
List of other abbreviations	xix
Chronological table of early Christian literature	xxii
Map: The Roman Empire in the late fourth century AD	xxvi

PART ONE THE BEGINNINGS: THE NEW TESTAMENT TO IRENAEUS A -LITERARY GUIDE

- |   |           |
|---|-----------|
| i • Introduction: the literary culture of the earliest Christianity | j  |
| FRANCES YOUNG   |           |
| 2 • The apostolic and sub-apostolic writings: the New Testament     |           |
| and the Apostolic Fathers 11                                 |           |
| RICHARD A. NORRIS, JR.  |           |
| 3 • Gnostic literature  | 20 |
| RICHARD A. NORRIS, JR.  |           |
| 4 • Apocryphal writings and Acts of the martyrs                     | 28 |
| RICHARD A. NORRIS, JR.  |           |
| 5 • The Apologists  | 36 |
| RICHARD A. NORRIS, JR.  |           |
| 6 • Irenaeus of Lyon  | 45 |
| RICHARD A. NORRIS, JR.  |           |

Contents

B • CONTEXT AND INTERPRETATION

- 7 • Social and historical setting 33
JOHN BEHR

- 8 • Articulating identity 71
RICHARD A. NORRIS, JR.

- 9 • Christian teaching 91
FRANCES YOUNG

- 10 • Conclusion: towards a hermeneutic of second-century texts 103
FRANCES YOUNG

PART TWO
THE THIRD CENTURY
A • LITERARY GUIDE
n • The Alexandrians 117
RONALD E. HEINE

- 12 • The beginnings of Latin Christian literature 131
RONALD E. HEINE

- 13 • Hippolytus, Ps.-Hippolytus and the early canons 142
RONALD E. HEINE

- 14 • Cyprian and Novatian 152
RONALD E. HEINE

- 15 • The earliest Syriac literature 161
SEBASTIAN P. BROCK

- 16 • Concluding review: the literary culture of the third century 172
FRANCES YOUNG

B • CONTEXT AND INTERPRETATION

- 17 • Social and historical setting: Christianity as culture critique 181
KAREN JO TORJESEN

Contents

18 • Articulating identity 200

RONALD E. HEINE

19 • Christian teaching 222

JOHN DAVID DAWSON

20 • The significance of third-century Christian literature 239

FRANCES YOUNG

PART THREE

FOUNDATION OF A NEW CULTURE: FROM DIOCLETIAN TO CYRIL
A LITERARY GUIDE

21 • Classical genres in Christian guise; Christian genres in classical guise 251

FRANCES YOUNG

22 • Arnobius and Lactantius 259

OLIVER NICHOLSON

23 • Eusebius and the birth of church history 266

ANDREW LOUTH

24 • The fourth-century Alexandrians: Athanasius and Didymus 275

ANDREW LOUTH

25 • Palestine: Cyril of Jerusalem and Epiphanius 283

ANDREW LOUTH

26 • The Cappadocians 289

ANDREW LOUTH

27 • Fourth-century Latin writers: Hilary, Victorinus, Ambrosiaster, Ambrose 302

DAVID G. HUNTER

28 • Jerome and Rufinus 318

MARK VESSEY

Contents

- 29 • Augustine 328
HENRY CHADWICK
- 30 • John Chrysostom and the Antiochene School to Theodoret of Cyrrhus 342
ANDREW LOUTH
- 31 • Cyril of Alexandria 353
ANDREW LOUTH
- 32 • Hagiography 358
ANDREW LOUTH
- 33 • Ephrem and the Syriac Tradition 3 62
SEBASTIAN P. BROCK
- 34 • The literature of the monastic movement 3 73
ANDREW LOUTH
- 35 • Women and words: texts by and about women 3 82
SUSAN ASHBROOK HARVEY
- 36 • Conciliar records and canons 3 91
ANDREW LOUTH
- B -CONTEXT AND INTERPRETATION
- 37 • Social and historical setting 3 99
R. A. MARKUS
- 38 • Articulating identity 414
LEWIS AYRES
- 39 • Christian teaching 464
FRANCES YOUNG
- 40 • Retrospect: interpretation and appropriation 485
FRANCES YOUNG
- Bibliographies* 495
Index 531