

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xvii
Note on Transliteration	xix
Supplementary Materials	xxi

PART I FINDING MUSICAL GIFTS

Introduction: For a Musicology of Karma and Reincarnation	3
1. Sonic Generosity: Beyond Secularism and Conflict in Music Studies	15

PART II MUSICAL GIVING AS PROTECTION AND DESTRUCTION

Checkpoint: Musical Gifts and the Movement of Ghosts	63
2. Beravā Secrecy and the Hoarding of Musical Gifts	69
3. Sri Lankan Tamil Musical Giving: An Introduction	97
4. The Cartography of Culture Zones: Social Relations and the Conversion of Sonic Money	119

PART III THE DISCURSIVE ERASURE OF MUSICAL GIVING

5. Beyond the Musicology of Disaster: War, Tsunami, Post-War 165

Checkpoint: The Malays Who Sing in Six Languages 195

Checkpoint: *Sound as Commodity (Identity) versus Sound as Gift
(Identity + Relations)* 208

6. The Island Space: Music, Buddhism, and the Sinhala 210

PART IV REDISCOVERING MUSICAL GIVING

Checkpoint: Re-Connecting Sinhala and Tamil Musical Cultures 229

Conclusion: The Regulation of Happiness in Post-War Sri Lanka 236

References 241

Index 255