

CONTENTS

|                                                                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Introduction: In the Beginning: Lost Tribes, New Worlds,and the Perils of History | 1   |
| 1. Proof Positive: Hebraic Indians and the Emergenceof Probability Theory         | 21  |
| 2. “A Complete Indian System”: James Adair and theEthnographic Imagination        | 55  |
| 3. Elias Boudinot, William Apess, and the Accidents of History                        | 85  |
| 4. The Book of Mormon’s New American Past                                      | 113 |
| 5. Indian Removal and the Decline of American Hebraism                                | 142 |
| 6. The Hollow Earth and the End of Time                                               | 169 |
| Coda: DNA and the Recovery of History                                                 | 197 |
| Acknowledgments                                                                | 211 |
| Notes                                                                          | 215 |
| Index                                                                          | 239 |
| About the Author                                                               | 243 |