

Contents

Preface	vi
Notes on Contributors	vii
1 Theological Issues at Stake in Early-Twentieth-Century Research on the Synoptic Problem Christopher Tuckett	1
2 The Decline of the Gospel Harmony: Loss or Gain? Marijke H. de Lang	19
3 The Archaeology of the Q Hypothesis: The Case of H. J. Holtzmann Francis Watson	37
4 Memory, Tradition, and Synoptic Sources: The Quest of Holtzmann and Wernle for a Pre-Dogma Jesus Alan Kirk	53
5 Die Suche nach dem „Urevangelium“ als Frage nach der Authentizität der Jesusüberlieferung Markus Tiwald	71
6 The Rise of the Markan Priority Hypothesis and Early Responses and Challenges to It Paul Foster	89
7 “No Weapon but That of Analysis”: Issues at Stake in the Rise and Reception of the Two-Document Hypothesis Daniel A. Smith	113
8 The Synoptic Problem, the “Apocryphal Gospels,” and the Quest of the Historical Jesus: Toward a Reformulation of the Synoptic Problem Jens Schröter	135
9 French Catholic Scholarship on the Synoptic Problem in the Late Nineteenth and Early Twentieth Centuries Benedict Thomas Viviano O.P.	151
10 Camouflaging Q: The Catholic 2DH from Lagrange to Sickenberger and Beyond John S. Kloppenborg	165
Bibliography	189
Index of Names	211
Index of References	217