

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements..... ix

Chapter One. Gaming the System: Cultural Competition and the Stakes of “Greekness” in the Early Roman Empire1

 I. Introduction: Isocrates’ Gambit and the Performance of Greekness in the Early Roman Empire..... 2

 Isocrates’ Gambit..... 2

 II. The Value of Paideia: Modeling the Production of Culture in the “Second Sophistic” 6

 III. Competition and the Production of Culture.....14

Paideia as Cultural Capital in the Roman Social World16

Paideia in the Roman Social World 20

Paideia as Open-Source Culture..... 24

 IV. Empire and Culture: Sophistic Greekness as a Strategy for Coping with Roman Power..... 29

 Greece and Rome 32

 Greece contra Rome.....36

 V. A Limit Case: Tertullian’s De Pallio and the Boundaries of Greekness 43

 VI. Overview 51

Chapter Two. “In and Out of the Game”: Favorinus, Lucian and The Strategic Possibilities of Competing for Greekness..... 57

 I. Introduction 57

 II. Competition, Ambition, and the Prize of Belonging in Favorinus’s Corinthian Oration..... 60

 Agonistic Imagery: Corinth as Prize and Contestant in Favorinus’s Corinthian Oration.....65

III.	Lucian of Samosata and the Possibilities of a Plastic Paideia	73
	“Do Not be Incredulous; Dreams Work Wonders!": Lucian's Dream and the Competition of Paideia	75
	“Laugh at all the speakers!": Rigors and Realities in the Teacher of Rhetoric	85
	“It would be unkind to turn my own weapon against me!": Agonistic Self-Creation and Lucian's Invention in the Double Accused	94
III.	Agonism and Invention: The Possibilities of Paideia	103
Chapter Three.	Paul's Understudy: Recasting Paul as a 2 nd Century Cultural Competitor	107
I.	A Second Paul.....	107
II.	The Evolution of ἀγῶνες in the Pauline Tradition.....	113
	Competitive Imagery and Paul's Self-Characterization in 1 Corinthians 9:24-27	115
	Beyond the Metaphor: Agonism and Intellectual Life in the Ancient World.....	118
	Venues of Competition in the Pastoral Epistles.....	121
III.	Paul and the Critique of Magic and Popular Cult Practices in the Acts of the Apostles and the Pastoral Epistles.....	129
	Critique of Cult Practices and the Exposure of Charlatans in the 1st – 3rd Centuries.....	130
	Narrating Paul's Critique of Magic and Popular Cult Practices in Acts 19.....	134
	Characterizing Paul's Adversaries in the Pastoral Epistles.....	143
IV.	Fugitive Acts: Paul as a Civic Virtuoso in Acts 21-22	149
	Discourses of Exile and Belonging in the Roman World	151
	Paul as a Civic Virtuoso in the Acts 21-22	158
V.	Conclusion	165
Chapter Four.	Piety and Paideia : Jews Dying like Greeks in front of Romans in 4 Maccabees	169
I.	Introduction	169

II.	Remembering and Re-Membering: The Exordium of 4 Maccabees.....	172
	Demonstrating Martyrs.....	177
	Paideia and Piety.....	180
III.	“Sovereign Over the Emotions”: Eleazar’s Double Ἐπιδειξις and Paideutic Manliness.....	182
	Prosopopoiia and Eleazar’s Rhetorical Ἐπιδειξις.....	184
	Eleazar’s Agonistic Ἐπιδειξις.....	189
IV.	Tyrannical Passions: Roman Values, Greek Virtues, and the Discourse of Kingship in 4 Maccabees.....	194
	The Roman “Audience” of 4 Maccabees.....	198
	Antiochus, the Tyrannized Despot.....	204
V.	Rational Competition.....	212
Chapter Five. The Parting of the Ways had Greek Road Signs: Posture, Deportment and the Philosophical Marketplace in the Frame Narrative of Justin Martyr’s Dialogue with Trypho
I.	Introduction.....	217
II.	Urban Outfits: City, Space, and Style.....	223
	City and Space within the Roman Civic Frame.....	223
	Cloaks, and What’s Beneath Them.....	228
III.	Agonizing over the Details: Posture, Pose and De- meanor.....	234
	The Content and Context of Justin’s Homeric Greeting.....	235
	A Duel of Smiles.....	237
	Deportment as Competition.....	242
IV.	What Came Before: Justin’s Career and The Philo- sophical Marketplace of the Ancient City.....	245
	Justin as an Urban Philosopher in the Roman World.....	246
	Justin and “True” Philosophy.....	254
V.	From Competition to Cooperation.....	259
Chapter Six. The Monster at the End of [T]his Book: Hybridity as Theological Strategy and Cultural Critique in Tatian’s Against the Greeks
I.	Introduction.....	262

II. “Difference Made Flesh”: Hybridity and Monstrosity in Tatian	267
A Contradiction in Terms: Tatian the (Pseudo-) Sophist.....	267
Hybrid Selves, Bodies, and Speakers among the Sophists	273
Hybridity, Monstrosity, and the Competition for Greekness.....	276
III. Mixture and Monstrosity: Tatian’s Account of Greek- ness	280
Babel Revisited: Greeks and Greekness.....	280
The Greeks as a Barbarian Saw Them: Rome’s Cultural Colony	289
IV. The Unity and Concord of God.....	294
Conclusion.....	299
Bibliography	305
Ancient Texts and Translations.....	305
Secondary Texts.....	320
Indices.....	345