

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
About the Editor	xiii
Contributors	xv
1. Introducing Research Methods and Practices for Popularizing Research	1
Patricia Leavy
2. Survey Research	12
Mitchell Brown
3. Interviews: Using Conversations in Public Scholarship	27
Svend Brinkmann
4. Oral History, the Public Record, and the Story	61
Valerie J. Janesick
5. Public Ethnography	79
Tony E. Adams and Robin M. Boylorn
6. An Autoethnography of Working, Failing, and Reworking Public Scholarship	104
Andrew F. Herrmann and Art Herbig
7. Letters from the Field	132
Sharon Brisolara, Denise Seigart, Kathryn Sielbeck-Mathes, Tristi Nichols, Rebecca Ewert, and Dawna Holiday-Shchedrov
8. Literature and Creative Writing as Public Scholarship	167
Sandra L. Faulkner and Sheila Squillante
9. Health Theatre: Embodying Research	202
Susan Cox and George Belliveau
10. Narrative Film as Public Scholarship	230
Yen Yen Woo
11. Visual Art Campaigns	257
Raisa Foster

viii CONTENTS

12. Cellfilms in Public Scholarship Katie MacEntee, Casey Burkholder, and Joshua Schwab-Cartas	298
13. Online, Asynchronous Data Collection in Qualitative Research Tracy Spencer, Linnea Rademaker, Peter Williams, and Cynthia Loubier	327
14. #spacesforknowledgeproduction Daniel T. Barney, Lorrie Blair, and Juan Carlos Castro	358
15. Public Scholarship Goes Online: Email as Method Adrienne Trier-Bieniek	380
Appendix: Suggested Resources	409
Index	415