

Contents

Table of Abbreviations	xiii
1. Introduction	1
I. Doing Justice to History	1
II. The Struggle for Historical Justice	5
III. The Prosecutorial Targets Question	9
IV. The Crime Question	13
V. The Culpability Question	18
VI. Beyond the Purview of International Criminal Judgments	22
VII. Narrative Pluralism Within and Beyond International Criminal Courts	23
VIII. Conclusion	24
2. The Struggle for Historical Justice	26
I. The Contested Historical Function of International Criminal Courts	29
A. An Adjudicative Conception of the Historical Function	31
B. Sociopolitical Conceptions of the Historical Function	32
C. Shifting Analytical Perspective	35
II. Unveiling the Struggle for Historical Justice	36
A. The Constructed Nature of Judicial Narratives	37
B. The Legitimizing Qualities of Judicial Narratives	40
III. A Framework for Examining Struggles for Historical Justice	42
A. The Actors	43
B. The Questions	47
C. The Practices	48
IV. Conclusion: The Road Ahead	59
3. The Prosecutorial Targets Question	61
I. Situational Selectivity	64
A. The Nuremberg IMT and Tokyo IMTFE	64
B. The UN Ad Hoc Tribunals	65
C. The ICC	68
II. Case Selectivity	74
A. Factional Selectivity	77
B. Functional Selectivity	89
C. Procedural Selectivity	99
III. Defence Strategies of Rupture and Rebuttal	101
A. Strategies of Rupture	101
B. Strategies of Rebuttal	102
IV. Conclusion	105

4. The Crime Question	107
I. The Nuremberg IMT and Tokyo IMTFE	109
A. Drafting Practices	109
B. Charging Practices	114
C. Interpretative Practices	118
D. Conclusion	122
II. The UN Ad Hoc Tribunals	123
A. Drafting Practices	123
B. Charging Practices	128
C. Interpretative Practices	139
D. Conclusion	153
III. The ICC	154
A. Drafting Practices	155
B. Charging Practices	161
C. Interpretative Practices	173
D. Conclusion	179
IV. Marginalised Forms of Criminality	180
A. Sexual Violence Against Men and Boys	180
B. Environmental Harms	181
C. War Crimes Concerning the Conduct of Hostilities	183
V. Conclusion	185
5. The Culpability Question	188
I. Modes of Participation Doctrines	191
A. The Narrative Salience of Different Models of Participation	192
B. Conceptual Challenges of Attributing Responsibility for Masterminded Violence	195
C. Conspiracy at the Nuremberg IMT and Tokyo IMTFE	198
D. Joint Criminal Enterprise at the UN Ad Hoc Tribunals	202
E. Perpetration at the ICC	213
F. Conclusion	227
II. Grounds Excluding Responsibility and Mitigating Punishment	228
A. The Narrative Salience of Different Types of Defences	229
B. Situational Pressures Within Mass Atrocity Contexts	230
C. Defences in Practice	234
D. Conclusion	247
III. Conclusion	248
6. Beyond the Purview of International Criminal Judgments	250
I. Structural and Slow Violence	250
II. International Interventions	256
A. Colonial Powers	257
B. International Financial Institutions	259
C. International Peacekeeping Forces	264
III. Bystanders and Resisters	268
IV. Conclusion	273

7. Historical Narrative Pluralism Within and Beyond International Criminal Courts	276
I. Narrative Pluralism Within the Courtroom	277
A. Inter-Court Narrative Pluralism	278
B. Intra-Court Narrative Pluralism	280
II. Narrative Pluralism Beyond the Courtroom	297
A. Social Psychological Factors	298
B. Practical Factors	300
III. Conclusion	302
8. Conclusion	304
I. The Legitimation Function of International Criminal Courts	305
A. Apologetic Histories	306
B. Spectacular Histories	309
C. Narrow Histories	311
D. The Limits of the Legitimizing Power of International Criminal Judgments	313
II. Ways of Seeing International Criminal Justice	317
A. A Strategic Expressivist Perspective of International Criminal Justice	318
B. A Critical Perspective of International Criminal Justice	323
Select Bibliography	325
Index	355