

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: The Revolution of the Word and Its Context DMITRY SPOROV	3
DIALOGUE 1: With Viktor Ardiv on 6 August 1974 How Sergei Yesenin recited poems, about one version of his suicide, and why fame cannot be trimmed by administrative means	7
DIALOGUE 2: With Viktor Ardiv on 19 August 1974 On working with Vsevolod Meyerhold and on bohemian life in Moscow in the 1920s–1930s	39
DIALOGUE 3: With Vladimir and Ariadna Sosinsky on 18 June 1969 On the failed duel in defence of Marina Tsvetaeva and on the life of Russian emigrants in Prague and Paris	71
DIALOGUE 4: With Roman Jakobson on 21 August 1967 On Jakobson's friendship with Vladimir Mayakovsky	121
DIALOGUE 5: With Vladimir and Ariadna Sosinsky on 21 June 1969 On meetings with Pasternak and Babel, German captivity, the uprising on Oléron Island, and working at the United Nations	155

Afterword	217
CARYL EMERSON
Notes on the Photography Collection	225
EKATERINA SNEGIREVA
About the Contributors	227
Index	229