

Contents

General Series Editor's Preface VII

Acknowledgements x

List of Figures and Tables XI

Notes on Contributors XIII

- 1 Merchant Cultures: An Introduction 1
Francisco Bethencourt and Cátia Antunes

PART I

Questions, Approaches and Representations

- 2 Merchant Strategies for Long Distance Trade in Aristocratic
Political Economies 21
Laurence Fontaine
- 3 Commercial Practices by New Christian/Jewish Groups and Their Sense of 'Cultural Identity', 'Loyalties' and 'Belonging' 41
David Graizbord
- 4 Subordinate to Strangers: Thomas Kerridge at Ahmadabad in 1615 and the Limits of Mercantilist Dogma in International Commercial Settings 52
William A. Pettigrew
- 5 Commercial Culture in Contested Spaces 70
Edmond J. Smith

PART 2

The Asian World

- 6 'Indigenous' Merchant Networks and the English East India Company
on the Coromandel Coast in the Seventeenth Century 91
Radhika Seshan
- 7 Agents of Empire in Golconda and Bengal: 1630–1757 107
Rila Mukherjee

- 8 Doing Business by the Grace of the Shogun: Strategies, Trade Negotiations, and Cross-cultural (Mis)Understandings in Early Modern Nagasaki 135
Jurre J. A. Knoest
- 9 Hindu Mercantile Culture and Practices in Goa, 1750–1818 171
Noelle Richardson
- 10 The 'Way of the Merchant' in Late Imperial China 194
Joseph P. McDermott

PART 3

The Euro-Atlantic World

- 11 Apprentices, Sojourners, Expatriates: Southern German Merchants in European Cities, c.1450–1650 231
Mark Häberlein
- 12 Merchant Culture: Holbein's Triumphs 251
Francisco Bethencourt
- 13 Doing Business with One's Sovereign: Merchant-Banking and Portfolio Management in Habsburg Portugal and the Empire (1580–1640) 271
Edgar Pereira
- 14 Religious Freedom and Institutions in Pre-modern Markets: Is Italy's Case a Guide? 301
Germano Maifreda

Index 345