

Contents

List of Plates	vii
List of Figures	viii
List of Tables	xi
Notes on Contributors	xii
Acknowledgements	xv

1 Introduction: Fashion travels Serena Dyer, Jade Halbert and Sophie Littlewood	1
--	---

Part 1 Modes of Dissemination

2 Dolled up: The material dissemination of dress in early modern Europe Sophie Pitman	21
3 A shared world of words? The circulation and dissemination of clothing descriptions in eighteenth-century England Elizabeth Spencer	49
4 Fashions of the day: Materiality, temporality and the fashion plate, 1750–1879 Serena Dyer	73
5 The talking page: Dress dissemination in the writings of Jane Austen Hilary Davidson	95
6 Global fashion networks: The design and circulation of British printed textiles for export to West Africa c.1850–1914 Josephine Tierney	119
7 Propaganda, patriotism and rivalry: How the interests of the trade press shaped British fashion following the Second World War Bethan Bide	145
8 Location, London: Promoting British ready-to-wear 1959–66 Liz Tregenza	165

Part 2 Dissemination in Practice

9 Making doublets and disseminating fashions in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Rebecca Unsworth	191
---	-----

10	Lady Charlotte Campbell and fashionable neoclassicism Amelia Rauser	211
11	Sent to the other side of the world? The fashion for Shetland fine lace knitting in 1920s Australia Roslyn Chapman	231
12	Reporting royal dress: Queen Alexandra and royal image making Kate Strasdin	251
13	Birmingham's twentieth-century clothing wholesale trade and the dissemination of mass fashion in the Black Country Jenny Gilbert	271
14	Conclusion Serena Dyer, Jade Halbert and Sophie Littlewood	289
	Index	293