

The Editors

Henk van den Belt is Professor of Systematic Theology at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam.

Klaas-Willem de Jong is Assistent Professor of Church Polity at the Protestantse Theologische Universiteit in Amsterdam.

Willem van Vlastuin is Professor of Theology and Spirituality of Reformed Protestantism at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam.

At the Synod of Dordrecht, deep questions of grace, justification, and faith were at stake. In this volume lines are drawn to the historical, theological and political context during that period. Patristics, Middle Ages, metaphysical questions and the church polity of Dordt are discussed as well with some hermeneutical reflections.

Contributors are A. Albisser, C. Blaauw, D. Britz, E. A. de Boer, K.-W. de Jong, H. Goris, O. P. Grell, P. Ha, P. Hildebrand, A. Huijgen, B. Koopman, J. Kreijkes, V. Leppin, W. Moehn, P. Rouwendal, A. Ryrrie, D. Sinnema, J. Smit, J. Spaans, D. te Velde, H. van den Belt, L. van den Broeke, F. van Lieburg, J. van Sluis, W. van Vlastuin, S. Verwijs, and P. Wegener.