

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
List of contributors	viii
Foreword	xii
Acknowledgements	xv
Introduction. Unwilling nomads: A four-dimensional model of diaspora Bastiaan Willems and Michał Adam Palacz 1
Part I Internees and evacuees during the First World War
1 Population movement, evacuation and internment in Habsburg Galicia during the First World War: Considering the four-dimensional model of diaspora Serhiy Choliy	13
2 Humiliated and insulted: The multiple categories of Austro-Hungarian civilian internees, 1914–17 Egor Lykov	29
3 Between suffering and displacement: The case of the Istrian Evakuirci Diego Han	43
Part II Political emigrants in the interwar era
4 Salvaging the ‘unredeemed’ in Italy: The Kingdom of Yugoslavia and the Julian March émigrés Miha Zobec	59
5 Ukrainian emigration in the Weimar Republic and its role in German foreign policy Veronika Weisheimer	75
6 Protecting the national identity of Russian emigrants and their children in interwar Eastern Europe Aleksandra Mikulenok	89
Part III People on the move in fascist Europe
7 Stefi Kiesler: A librarian as ‘Intellectual Refugee Service’ Jill Meißner-Wolfbeisser	105
8 The catalysts of 1938: European child evacuations as humanitarian innovation Chelsea Sambells	119
9 ‘And Without a Hat!’: Refugee women in the transit country Portugal after 1933 Katrin Sippel	136

10	Many journeys of exile: Spanish Republican refugees in France, 1939–46 David A. Messenger	152
11	Reclaimed for the Volk : Forced migration and assimilation in the wartime Third Reich Bradley J. Nichols	165
Part IV Refugees and displaced persons and the Second World War
12	The surviving remnant: Subjectification and self-organization in the Jewish DP camp Bergen-Belsen, 1945–8 Lennart Onken	183
13	Resettling, repatriating and 'rehabilitating' Polish displaced persons in British-occupied Germany, 1945–51 Samantha K. Knapton	199
14	Ethnopolitical humanitarianism: The post-war resettlement of 2,446 Danube Swabians to Brazil Cristian Cercel	215
15	Anti-communists, communists and migrants in France, 1917–53 Aaron Clift	231
Conclusion. Polish refugees and East Prussian expellees: Applying the four-dimensional model Bastiaan Willems and Michał Adam Palacz
	Concluding remarks Pertti Ahonen	261
	Further reading	269
	Index	270