

Contents

List of Illustrations ix

Preface by John Van Engen xi

Acknowledgments xix

- 1 Introduction: Religion and Religious Worlds in Between 3
JENNIFER KOLPACOFF DEANE AND ANNE E. LESTER
- 2 Herbert Grundmann, Confession and the "Religious Movements" 23
LETHA BÖHRINGER
- 3 Francis of Assisi, the Vita Apostolica, and the Roman Church: Rethinking the Paradigms 45
AMANDA POWER
- 4 Hypocrites! Critiques of Religious Movements and Criticism of the Church, 1050–1300 79
SITA STECKEL
- 5 Crusading as a Religious Movement: Families, Community, and Lordship in a Vernacular Frame 127
ANNE E. LESTER
- 6 Coming Together as an Apostolic Act: Confraternalism as an Umbrella for Medieval Religious Movements 170
NESLIHAN ŞENOCAK

- 7 Reassessing the Links between "The Women's Religious Movement" and "The Origins of a Religious Literature in the Vernacular" in France 189
SEAN L. FIELD
- 8 "More Useful in the Salvation of Others": Beguines, Religio, and the Cura Mulierum at the Early Sorbonne 214
TANYA STABLER MILLER
- 9 Between Charity and Controversy: The Grey Sisters, Liminality, and the Religious Life 242
ALISON MORE
- 10 Women, Power, and Religious Dissent: Why Women Never Became Heresiarchs 263
JANINE LARMON PETERSON
- 11 Navigating Saintly Circles: Margherita Colonna and the Women's Religious Movement in Rome 288
LEZLIE KNOX
- 12 The "Clever Girls" of Prague: Beguines, Preachers, and Late Medieval Bohemian Religion 307
JANA GROLLOVÁ
- Contributors* 337
- Bibliography* 341
- Index* 393