

Contents

---

Acknowledgments vii

- 1 1914 or 1919? The Aetiology of a Disordered World 3
NORMAN INGRAM AND CARL BOUCHARD

Internationalism and Political Disorder

- 2 The Great War and the Political Conditions of Internationalism 21
PETER JACKSON AND WILLIAM MULLIGAN
- 3 Setting Out on a Long Irenic Campaign: The Carnegie
Endowment for International Peace Prepares the Construction of a Peaceful World Order, 1910–1920 48
ANDREW BARROS
- 4 Three Visions of Internationalism: European Socialists
after the First World War 67
TALBOT IMLAY

Between Order and Disorder: The Case of France

- 5 Historical Dissent and the Contested Peace of 1919 in France 91
NORMAN INGRAM
- 6 Not So Republican after All? The Ambiguous End of the Great War in Alsace-Lorraine, 1918–1919 108
SEBASTIAN DÖDERLEIN

VI Contents

- 7 The "Right to Reparations," a Legal Concept in Post-war France 131

BRUNO CABANES

- 8 The Wilsonians: When the Traditional Order Creates Disorder (1918–1919) 148

CARL BOUCHARD

Science, Gender, and Race in a Disordered Post-war World

- 9 "Building for Peace": American Chemist William Noyes behind Reconciliation Efforts (1919–1924) 167

MARIE-EVE CHAGNON

- 10 So That Our Sons Have Not Died in Vain: Calls for Peace from Pacifist and Non-pacifist Mothers after the Great War 183

MARIE-MICHÈLE DOUCET

- 11 "No Women of the World Hate War and Seek Peace More Than the Colored Women": Mary Church Terrell's Bid for Racial Justice and Women's Rights in 1919 200

MONA L. SIEGEL

Contributors 225

Index 229